NCAA INFRACTIONS REPORT

The NCAA Division I Committee on Infractions issued a decision dated March 6, 2015 in which the committee found Syracuse University responsible for certain violations of NCAA legislation.

The specific infractions, largely arising out of conduct from the past decade that the University voluntarily self-reported to the NCAA, regard: (a) impermissible extra benefits in the form of money, food, or transportation provided to certain student-athletes on the men's basketball, women's basketball, and football teams by a non-employee representative of the University's athletics interests; (b) unethical conduct committed by three football student-athletes and a part-time tutor regarding the student-athletes' involvement in an internship for academic credit at the part-time tutor's place of full-time employment; (c) the former director of basketball operations and a former receptionist's unethical conduct when they engaged in academic fraud with a former men's basketball student-athlete; (d) a former tutor and a former receptionist's provision of impermissible academic extra benefits to three former men's basketball student-athletes; (e) although testing and enforcement occurred, the University's failure to follow its written drug testing procedures for student-athletes; (f) the men's basketball staff's provision of more than two complimentary admissions on several occasions; (g) the failure of three athletics department staff members to report outside income or benefits to the University's chancellor; (h) the participation of former student-athletes in approximately 12 promotional activities without completing the promotion activity forms, and one former student-athlete fundraising for a charitable organization when the funds actually went to a commercial entity; (i) the participation of a former women's basketball student-athlete in an organized basketball game outside of intercollegiate competition; (j) the provision of impermissible transportation by two institutional employees to one former men's basketball student-athlete and one former football student-athlete; (k) the head basketball coach's failure to promote an atmosphere of compliance within his program or to monitor the activities of those who reported directly and indirectly to him; and (l) the University's failure to exercise control and monitor the conduct and administration of its athletics programs.

In the decision, the Committee on Infractions imposed a period of five years probation on the University from March 6, 2015 through March 5, 2020. Additional information regarding the decision and the penalties imposed are available upon request.

1959 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Unbeaten and untied, the 1959 Orange capped an 11-0 season with a 23-14 victory against Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse dominated its foes both offensively and defensively under the direction of consensus national coach of the year Ben Schwartzwalder. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 regular-season games. Running back Ernie Davis led an Orange offense that averaged 451 yards per game. Guard Roger Davis, who was selected seventh overall by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft, end Fred Mautino, halfback Gerhard Schwedes and tackle Robert Yates earned All-America honors.

THE LEGEND OF 44

The running back position at Syracuse has a rich tradition of greatness. Much of that excellence has revolved around one jersey number — 44. It is one of the most storied numbers associated with any college football program. Three players who have donned No. 44 are in the College Football Hall of Fame. Those three — Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little — rank among the finest running backs to ever play the game. Overall, 25 players have worn the historic jersey.

1961 HEISMAN TROPHY WINNER: ERNIE DAVIS

In 1961, the Civil Rights Act was three years from becoming a reality. It would be four years until the voting rights of all Americans were protected by federal law. But, an unassuming sports hero was about to play an important, yet unintentional, role in the burgeoning civil rights movement. On Dec. 6, 1961, Syracuse University running back Ernest R. Davis was awarded the Heisman Trophy. It was the first time an African American was honored as college football's best player, even though they had participated in the game since the late 1800s.

As a sophomore, Davis rushed for a team-high 686 yards and scored 10 touchdowns to power Ben Schwartzwalder's 1959 Orange to a 10-0 regular-season record, the nation's No. 1 ranking and a Cotton Bowl showdown with Texas. With the collective eyes of the college football world focused on Dallas, Davis captured MVP honors, scoring two touchdowns – one on an 87-yard halfback option pass from captain Gerhard Schwedes – and setting up a third to spark a 23-14 Orange triumph.

In 1960, Davis led the squad in rushing again with 877 yards and scored 10 more touchdowns to earn All-America accolades. Davis paced SU on the ground for a third time in 1961, rushing for 823 yards and scoring 15 touchdowns. In the Liberty Bowl, he ran for 140 yards on 30 carries and scored SU's first touchdown as the Orange rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit to nip Miami (Fla.), 15-14.

A unanimous selection for his second first-team All-America honor, Davis was then rewarded with the 1961 Heisman Trophy. President John F. Kennedy sent the following telegram to Davis in 1963 after a celebration of Davis' achievements in Elmira, New York:

> "Seldom has an athlete been more deserving of such a tribute. Your high standards of performance on the field and off the field reflect the finest qualities of competition, sportsmanship and citizenship. The nation has bestowed upon you its highest awards for your athletic achievements. It's a privilege for me to address you tonight as an outstanding American, and as a worthy example of our youth. I salute you."

Hoping to team the talented Davis with his SU backfield predecessor and NFL rushing king Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell traded for Davis after Washington selected him with the first overall pick in the annual draft. But before the former Orange stars could suit up together, Davis contracted leukemia and died on May 18, 1963. He was 23.

In the fall of 1979, Davis, who had taken the greatness of SU's No. 44 from Jim Brown and passed it on to Floyd Little, was posthumously inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame. In 2008, "The Express," a motion picture about Davis' life, premiered in downtown Syracuse. Syracuse University has honored Davis in many ways, including the retirement of his No. 44, erecting a statue of him on the University Quad, building Ernie Davis Hall and celebrating the 50th anniversary of his historic Heisman victory with an event at the New York Historical Society Museum in New York City in 2011.

ALL-AMERICANS

During Syracuse's 127-year football history, Orange players have earned more than 100 All-America awards. Bill Horr became the program's first All-American in 1907 when the legendary Walter Camp named Horr to his second team. Receivers Brisly Estime and Amba Etta-Tawo are the most recent to receive honors. In 2016, Estime was voted the punt returner for the Scout.com All-America Team and Etta-Tawo was recognized by four selectors.

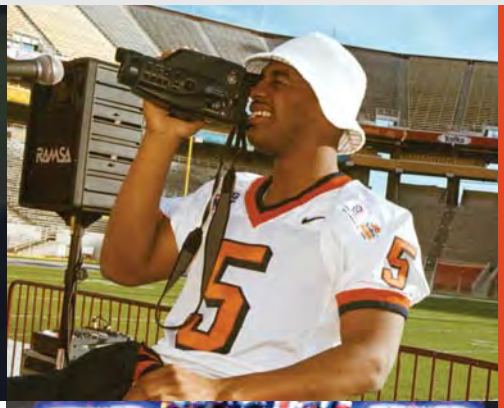
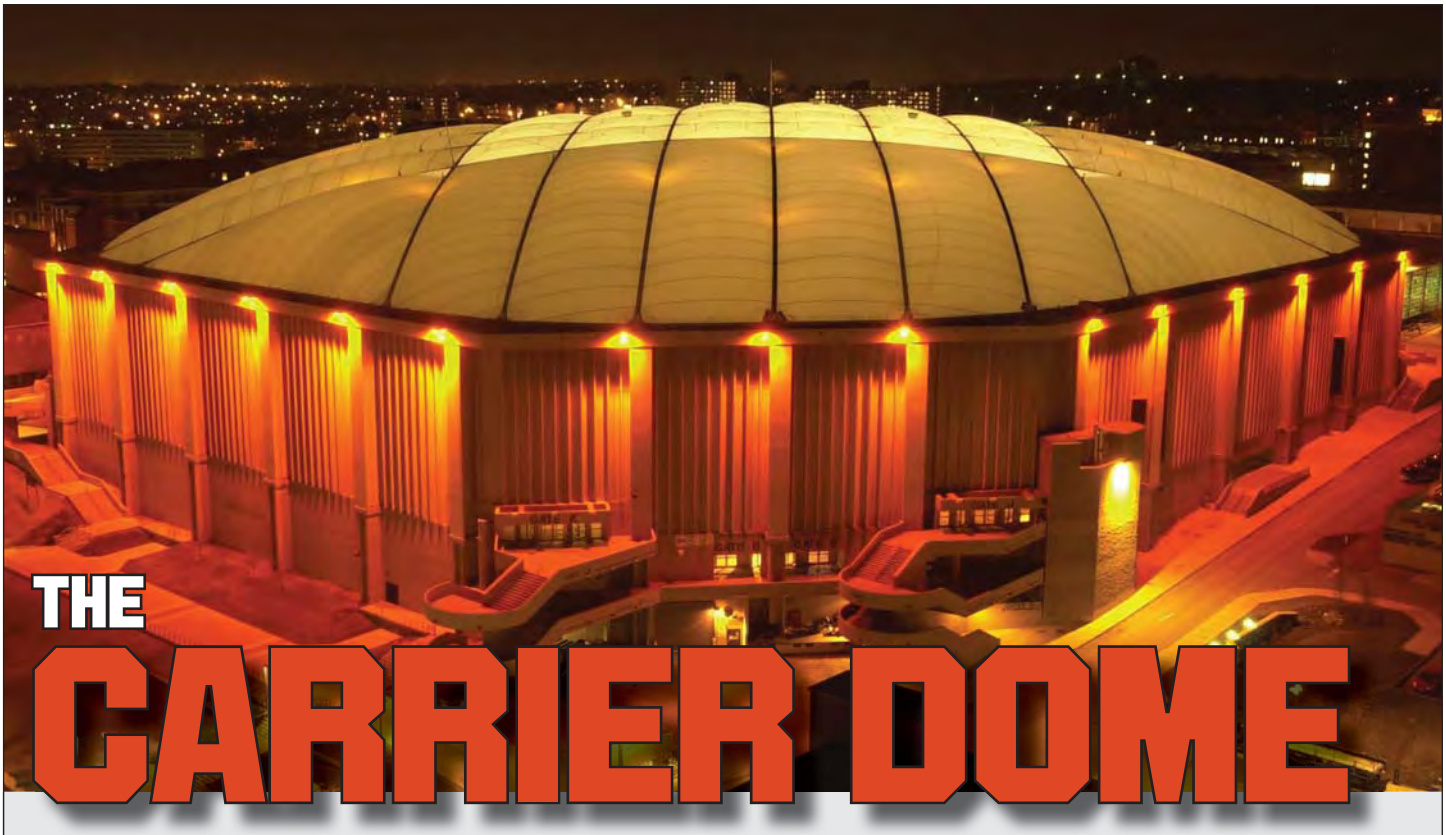
BOWL TRADITION

Syracuse is 15-9-1 in its 25 bowl appearances and has won five of its last six postseason games. From 1989-96 the Orange won seven consecutive bowl games, the seventh-longest streak in the history of college football. Syracuse has played in 16 different bowl games and the program's .620 bowl winning percentage ranks eighth all-time among schools with at least 15 appearances.



NEW YEAR'S SIX

During its illustrious history, Syracuse has earned invitations to all six bowls that make up the College Football Playoff – the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Fiesta, Peach and Cotton Bowls.



THE CARRIER DOME

One of the "Seven Wonders" of the college athletics world, the Carrier Dome was the first domed stadium built in the Northeast. Since it opened in 1980, more than 9 million fans have passed through the building's gates to watch Syracuse football. In 2016, the University announced more than $250 million worth of enhancements to the Dome, including a state-of-the-art roof, that will transform the stadium into one of the finest facilities in all of sports.

THE LOUD HOUSE

"There's no place like the Carrier Dome. It's the loudest place. Nobody liked coming to play us there. You can talk to any of the guys in the NFL right now who played there and they'll tell you. The Dome was the worst place to come to play."

– Dwight Freeney –
All-American & Super Bowl Champion

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

The Ensley Athletic Center and Iocolano-Petty Football Complex stand as symbols of Syracuse University's commitment to providing an exceptional student-athlete experience. Named in honor of three-sport letterwinner Cliff Ensley, the 87,000-square foot Ensley Athletic Center offers a full-sized, indoor, FieldTurf practice field identical to the Carrier Dome. The Iocolano-Petty Football Complex embodies the long and storied tradition of Syracuse football. The facility features a Carrier Dome theater, state-of-the-art player lounge, locker room and cafeteria, as well as displays honoring the program's all-time greats.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Student-Athlete Academic Development

The Stevenson Educational Center, located in Manley Field House, is home to the Syracuse Student-Athlete Academic Development staff. The center features a computer lab, tutor rooms, career development suite and meeting rooms for day, as well as evening, study-table sessions.

The educational center team is involved in additional activities designed to enhance academic performance. Orientation programs for incoming student-athletes are held at the beginning of the first semester to aid in the transition from high school to college. Career-planning programs assist those who are undecided on their major course of study. As student-athletes approach the end of their college careers, programs coordinated by the academic development staff help them enter the work force or explore opportunities for graduate school.

One of those programs is the "S Project," which is designed to provide student-athletes with proactive and continuing education to develop the skills necessary to excel in the classroom, maximize athletic ability and prepare them for post-collegiate success. The curriculum is centered on four areas – career readiness, financial education, healthy relationships and wellness, and personal development.

Staff members focus on the enhancement of academic performance through the development of study and communication skills, goal-setting, stress and time management, and individual tutoring and mentoring. Academic performance is monitored to ensure NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference and Syracuse University eligibility rules are met and that academic progress is being made toward graduation.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY

Giving back to the community is integral to the development of the overall student-athlete. Through the 'Cuse Cares program, Syracuse student-athletes log thousands of community service hours each year. In 2016-17, the Orange football team received the 'Cuse Cares Award for their superior commitment to this ideal. Through the "Lift for Life" and other initiatives supporting Uplifting Athletes, the Orange raised more than $25,000 last year to help fight rare diseases. Additional outreach programs and events football student-athletes participated in included: the CNY Football Academy, Building Men, Beads of Courage and Syracuse St. Baldrick's Day.

ACC TOP SIX FOR SERVICE

Presented annually to six student-athletes at each member institution, the ACC Top Six for Service Award recognizes those who demonstrate outstanding dedication to community service and outreach programs.

Linebacker Eric Anthony and quarterback Zack Mahoney were among Syracuse's six award winners for 2016-17.

SYRACUSE, NEW YORK THE SALT CITY

Located in the heart of New York state, the city of Syracuse and its nearby environs offer a blend of city life and scenic countryside escapes. Among its many attractions, the city hosts an opera company, museums, art houses and a professional theater. Historic Armory Square in downtown Syracuse is filled with restaurants, pubs, and boutique hotel and shopping opportunities, along with the hands-on Milton J. Rubenstein Museum of Science & Technology. To experience some of the unique sites the city has to offer, visitors can travel the Connective Corridor, a three-mile urban design project linking Syracuse University with the city's cultural attractions.

Beyond the city, the area features abundant county and regional parks. The Rosamond Gifford Zoo, Beaver Lake Nature Center, Onondaga Lake Park and Baltimore Woods Nature Preserve offer plenty of recreation and entertainment opportunities.

Syracuse is also home to Destiny USA – a 2.4 million square-foot destination shopping complex. Destiny USA recently underwent an 850,000 square-foot expansion that combines full-priced and value retail with fine dining and entertainment venues. It's the sixth-largest shopping center in the United States and features more than 250 tenants.

Residents and visitors enjoy the region's four seasons, which allow for various outdoor sports, including cross-country and downhill skiing, snowmobiling, biking, fishing, hiking and canoeing. In addition, more than 40 golf courses are located throughout the greater Syracuse area. For the sports enthusiasts, the city is home to the Syracuse Chiefs, the Triple-A affiliate for the Washington Nationals, and the Syracuse Crunch AHL hockey team.

A yearly end-of-summer celebration with exhibitions, food and entertainment, the Great New York State Fair draws hundreds of thousands of visitors each year. The area also hosts many other festivals, including the Jamesville Balloon Fest, Syracuse Jazz Fest and Great American Antique Fest.

In recognition of the area's many assets, Forbes magazine in June 2010 listed Syracuse in its top 10 ranking of "America's Best Places to Raise a Family."

CREDENTIALS AND SCOUTING PASSES

Season and individual game requests for working press credentials for media or professional scouts should be made online via the PressPass media credential system. Please visit www.SportsSystems.com/Syracuse to apply for credentials. Requests should be made at least two weeks prior to the game. Communication regarding your request will be made via email. Please contact the Syracuse University Athletic Communications Department with additional questions.

Visiting team media should contact the opposing team's athletic communications office to be placed on their official credential list.

Passes not picked up in advance will be available at the Will Call window located at Gate B of the Carrier Dome three hours before kickoff. Gameday requests will not be honored.

PARKING

Parking for media in the WEST Lot across the street from the Carrier Dome is limited and passes are issued on a priority basis within the same guidelines as working credentials. Additional parking for media is available at Manley Field House in the SOUTH MANLEY Lot. A media shuttle runs from there to the Carrier Dome beginning approximately three hours prior to kickoff. Return service is available for approximately two hours after the conclusion of the game.

PRESS BOX

All media work from the press box located on the third level of the Carrier Dome. Media should enter the building through Stadium Control and take the elevator or stairs to the Upper Concourse then proceed to the right. The press box is on the left directly under Section 301. The press box opens three hours prior to kickoff.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Syracuse reserves the right to admit only those photographers deemed to be on the premises for legitimate media purposes and who are shooting for editorial purposes only. Photographers must have an individual game photo credential or Carrier Dome photo button.

There is a field-level work area for photographers located in the Driver's Village VIP Lounge next to the ambulance tunnel. There is also limited photographer work space in the press box.

RADIO

Syracuse hosts both home and visiting network radio in booths in the press box. Radio and ISDN lines are available for non-conference visiting radio broadcasts for a fee. Radio lines for Atlantic Coast Conference games are made available in accordance with conference guidelines. Requests for lines must be made in advance to Syracuse IMG Sports Marketing by calling (315) 445-2500.

TELEVISION

News stations covering Orange football games are permitted to shoot from the photo deck opposite the press box or from field level outside the team bench areas. Individuals must have a game photo credential or Carrier Dome photo button to obtain access.

INTERNET ACCESS

The press box in the Carrier Dome is equipped with wireless internet for use by members of the media. Network information is available in the press box on gameday.

SERVICES

Final statistics are available approximately 20 minutes after the conclusion of the game. Quotes from both head coaches and select student-athletes will be distributed in the press box and are available on SU's official website (Cuse.com) approximately one hour after the game ends.

A full meal is served prior to kickoff. There is continuous beverage service throughout the game.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

The Syracuse locker room is closed to the media following games, both at home and on the road. Coach Dino Babers will hold his news conference in the Driver's Village VIP Lounge located on the Service Level of the Carrier Dome near Stadium Control.

Following the conclusion of Coach Babers' news conference, select student-athletes will be brought to the Driver's Village VIP Lounge to meet with media representatives. Requests for specific student-athletes will be collected during the fourth quarter of each game.

2017 SEASON OUTLOOK

Syracuse played underclassmen all over the field in 2016 and the Orange were 4-4 two-thirds of the way through the season before injuries at key positions contributed to a four-game slide at the end of the year. The silver lining? The Orange enter Year 2 of the Dino Babers era with 20 players on the roster who started at least six games a year ago, tops in the country.

The Orange bring back almost 95 percent of their total offense yardage, including nearly 90 percent of their ground production, and 86.4 percent of their total tackles.

That experience will be put to the test. By all accounts, the Orange will face one of the most difficult schedules in the nation in 2017. All 11 of their FBS opponents reached a bowl game last year, tied with Notre Dame for the most in the country.

Fortunately, Syracuse has an opportunity to get off on the right foot with three straight non-conference games in the Carrier Dome: Central Connecticut State (Sept. 1), Middle Tennessee (Sept. 9) and Central Michigan (Sept. 16). The Orange conclude non-league play with their first trip to "Death Valley" in Baton Rouge, La. to take on LSU (Sept. 23).

In ACC action, Syracuse hosts Pittsburgh (Oct. 7), 2016 national champion Clemson (Oct. 13), Wake Forest (Nov. 11) and Boston College (Nov. 25). The road league slate includes NC State (Sept. 30), Miami (Oct. 21), Florida State (Nov. 4) and Louisville (Nov. 18).

Here is a position-by-position look at the 2017 Orange:

QUARTERBACKS

Signal callers traditionally excel in Babers' ultra-fast, spread offense. That trend continued in 2016, as the Orange finished 11th nationally and second in the ACC in passing at 321.3 yards per contest. Pundits have taken note, with ESPN ranking SU's 2017 collection of quarterbacks third behind Louisville and Florida State in the ACC.

Junior starter Eric Dungey leads the group. Dungey has started 16 game the last two years, but injuries have kept him from finishing a season. When he is healthy there are few who are more dynamic. Dungey is third on the ACC active career lists for passing yardage (3,977), touchdown passes (26) and yards of total offense (4,621). In 2016, he set SU sophomore records for passing yards (2,679) and total offense yards (2,972) in just nine games. Dungey already owns or shares 10 school records and he has accounted for 37 career touchdowns.

Senior Zack Mahoney has proven himself as Dungey's capable understudy. An original walk-on, Mahoney has started seven games over the last two seasons and completed 136-of-252 passes for 1,478 yards with 15 touchdowns and six interceptions. In last year's 76-61 shootout at Pittsburgh, Mahoney accounted for a school-record seven TDs and tied the program single-game standard with five touchdown passes.

Redshirt freshmen Rex Culpepper and Mo Hasan spent 2016 developing in the system and running the scout team.

Highly-touted freshman Tommy DeVito joined the squad in the summer. An Under Armour All-American and ESPN 300 prospect, DeVito guided New Jersey powerhouse Don Bosco Prep to a state championship as a high school junior.

RUNNING BACKS

Junior Dontae Strickland ascended to the top of the depth chart at running back in 2016 and enters his second season as SU's primary ball carrier. He led the Orange in rushing with 566 yards on 162 carries (3.5 avg.) and logged five games with 50+ rushing yards last season, including a career-best 127 yards on 30 carries versus USF. Strickland also demonstrated his versatility, throwing an 84-yard touchdown pass in SU's victory against Virginia Tech.

After dabbling at inside receiver during the spring, sophomore Moe Neal is charted as Strickland's backfield backup. Neal was SU's second-leading rusher as a freshman. He scored a 49-yard touchdown on his first career carry and is a threat to go the distance whenever he touches the ball.

With Neal trying his hand at receiver, junior Tyrone Perkins and sophomore walk-on Otto Zaccardo logged carries in the spring. Perkins joined the running back contingent after spending 2016 at wide receiver. As a freshman, Perkins played the role of hybrid back in former coordinator Tim Lester's offense.

Rounding out the running back rotation are freshmen Markenzy Pierre and Allen Stritzinger. Pierre attended Liberty High School in Florida. He was the No. 52 running back in the country, according to ESPN, and rushed for more than 2,500 yards as a senior. Stritzinger prepped at De La Salle High School in Michigan. He earned all-state honors from USA Today and amassed more than 3,000 all-purpose yards in his scholastic career.

More two-back sets could be in the future with the addition of freshman fullback/tight end Chris Elmore. A devastating blocker at 280 pounds, Elmore helped Phillips Academy (Ill.) to an undefeated season and state championship in 2016.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Throwing the football is the first step in a two-part process. The second is catching it and the Orange have a host of players who can do that with All-ACC candidates Steve Ishmael and Ervin Philips leading the way.

Ishmael is Syracuse's most experienced receiver with 26 career starts to his credit. He is ninth in Orange history and fifth among active ACC receivers with 114 career receptions. The Miami, Fla. native is second on the ACC active list for career receiving yards (1,544) behind Cam Phillips of Virginia Tech.

Philips moved to the slot last year and had a huge 2016 season, catching 90 balls for 822 yards and six TDs to earn All-ACC Honorable Mention laurels. He caught at least five passes in 10 games and ranked eighth nationally in receptions per game (7.5).

Redshirt junior Jamal Custis and sophomore Devin C. Butler are competing to replace All-American Amba Etta-Tawo's production opposite Ishmael. Both players were slowed by injury last season with Custis eventually redshirting. Butler played in five games, mostly on special teams, before missing the last six.

Redshirt junior Adly Enoicy is slotted as Ishmael's backup. Enoicy made his college debut in the fall, playing in three games and catching a 35-yard pass.

Sophomore Sean Riley and redshirt senior Sean Avant are in line behind Philips at slot receiver. Riley recorded 1,240 all-purpose yards a freshman last season, primarily as a kick returner. He also carded 11 receptions for 109 yards. Avant has seven receptions in 22 career games.

Cody Conway started eight games at left tackle in 2016. The Orange surpassed 500 yards of offense in four of those games.

Redshirt junior Chris Slayton has 16 tackles for loss in two seasons. He tied for the team lead in that category a year ago with 10.

TIGHT ENDS

The tight end position is one the coaching staff would like to play a larger role in the offense, so the Orange went out and signed one of the top junior-college players at the position – Ravian Pierce.

Pierce enrolled at Syracuse in January and spent the spring getting used to the tempo the Orange prefers to operate at. The 6-3, 237-pound native of Plantation, Fla. played his first two seasons at Southwest Mississippi Community College and caught 77 passes for 733 yards and five touchdowns. He was rated the third-best tight end in junior college this cycle by both 247Sports.com and Scout.com.

Converted linebacker Kyle Kleinberg is the only tight end on the roster with Syracuse game experience. He's a core special teams player and he is expected to back up Pierce.

Like Pierce, redshirt freshman Jesse Conners and junior walk-on Joe Pasquale joined the team in January. Conners spent his true freshman season at Holy Cross and will have to sit out 2017 due to NCAA transfer regulations.

Freshman Aaron Hackett attended Venice High School (Fla.) and was coached by former Orange tight end Beckett Wales. Hackett finished third in the district in receiving yardage as a senior and led Venice to a 12-1 record, including a victory in the Florida Class 7A District 11 title game.

Hackett's classmate Chris Elmore could also line up at tight end in addition to being an option at fullback.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Of all the position groups affected by injuries in 2016, none were hit harder than co-offensive coordinator Mike Lynch's unit. The upshot is that all five starters from last year return and several players who redshirted in 2016 figure to play prominent roles.

Junior left tackle Cody Conway and redshirt senior right tackle Jamar McGloster are the bookends. Conway has appeared in 15 games over his first two seasons, including eight starts a year ago. He logged 699 snaps in 2016 with 20 knockdown blocks. McGloster was a consistent presence as one of two linemen to start all 12 games. He finished second on the Orange with 824 snaps played.

Junior Aaron Roberts and redshirt sophomore Evan Adams are expected to man the left and right guard positions, respectively. Like McGloster, Roberts started every game in 2016. He topped the SU chart with 39 knockdown blocks. Adams was elevated to the first unit following an injury to Omari Palmer and started the last nine games.

Early enrollee Patrick Davis is the reserve left guard behind Roberts. Davis played all three line positions in high school and was the No. 3 overall prospect in Canada, according to ESPN.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Defensive ends coach Steve Stanard joined the Orange staff in March. He will work with defensive tackles coach Vinson Reynolds to prepare a unit that must go up against some of the nation's most explosive offenses.

At defensive end, the Orange return two sophomores who cut their teeth in 2016. Kendall Coleman became the first true freshman to start a season opener at defensive end since SU went to a primarily 4-3 alignment in 1996. Overall, he started 11 games and paced all Orange rookies with 29 tackles. Classmate Josh Black moved into the starting lineup after three games and logged 21 tackles, including four for a loss, and three sacks.

Redshirt junior Chris Slayton anchors the unit. He's started 17 games in his career, including 14 at defensive tackle. He tied for the team lead in tackles for loss in 2016 and is the chief mentor for sophomore McKinley Williams, who is slotted to start at nose tackle after Steven Clark was medically disqualified in June. Williams is an athletic player who has added 40 pounds to his frame to help him withstand the rigors of life in the ACC.

Redshirt sophomore Jake Pickard and newcomer Brandon Berry are charted as the primary backups for Coleman and Black. Pickard tallied 10 tackles in 2016 and battled injuries throughout the spring. Berry signed with Syracuse in February out of Highland Community College in Kansas. He ranked third nationally in 2016 with 12.5 sacks.

Another player with considerable starting experience is redshirt junior Kayton Samuels. He'll serve as Slayton's primary backup, while sophomore Kenneth Ruff is next in line at nose tackle. Ruff spent his rookie season at defensive end before moving inside to help shore up the middle.

Jonathan Thomas is one of three returning senior starters at linebacker. He has 90 career tackles, including 52 in 2016.

After starting the last six games of 2016, redshirt sophomore Christopher Fredrick enters 2017 atop the depth chart at cornerback.

Sophomore return man Sean Riley led the FBS with 1,095 kickoff return yards as a rookie. He also caught 11 passes.

LINEBACKERS

The saying goes that "linebackers run the defense and the defense runs the team." There's no doubt the first part is true for the Orange, as the squad returns three senior starters. Weak-side linebacker Parris Bennett and middle linebacker Zaire Franklin are entering their third seasons with the first unit, while strong-side 'backer Jonathan Thomas heads into his second.

Franklin and Bennett are candidates for All-ACC and national honors after they each finished with more than 100 tackles in 2016. Bennett led the way with 110 stops and Franklin carded 101. They are one of 10 returning linebacking duos in the FBS to have achieved that feat.

A gifted athlete, Thomas had his most productive season a year ago. He finished with 52 tackles, including four a loss, and forced two fumbles.

Junior Ryan Guthrie joined the Orange in January and spent the spring learning the nuances of the system. He'll be the primary reserve on the weak side following a stellar two-year stint at Ellsworth Community College (Iowa) in which he earned NJCAA First Team All-America honors.

Should Franklin need a breather, sophomore Andrew Armstrong will likely step in. Armstrong tallied 16 tackles as a freshman. He was a core special teams contributer and saw additional reps on defense as 2016 went along.

New to the unit is converted safety Kielan Whitner, who is charted behind Thomas on the strong side. Whitner's skills, honed from years in the defensive backfield, make him ideally suited for the position, which is relied upon heavily in pass coverage.

SECONDARY

The only position bit by the injury bug as much as the offensive line in 2016 was the secondary, so the unit is likely to immediately benefit from the return of multiple contributors.

Redshirt junior Antwan Cordy went down with a season-ending forearm injury against Louisville in Week 2 last season. He came back stronger than ever and reclaimed the starting free safety spot this spring. Cordy was SU's second-leading tackler in 2015, including a team-high 12 for a loss.

Classmate Juwan Dowels was also lost for the year against the Cardinals. He missed all of spring practice as well, but enters fall camp second on the depth chart at corner behind sophomore starter Scoop Bradshaw. Bradshaw played in 10 games as a freshman and saw extensive action with the first unit during spring drills.

Opposite Bradshaw, is redshirt sophomore Christopher Fredrick. Fredrick came on strong at the end of last season and started the final six games. He had a career day against Florida State, logging six tackles, an interception, and forced two fumbles.

Graduate transfer Devin M. Butler enrolled at Syracuse in January after playing 37 games in three seasons at Notre Dame. He's scheduled to serve as Fredrick's understudy.

At strong safety, sophomore Evan Foster sits atop the depth chart after an impressive spring. He's backed up by veteran Rodney Williams, who was fourth on the team in tackles (60) a year ago.

Junior Daivon Ellison, who had 90 tackles in 2016 in place of Cordy, is a veteran presence. So is redshirt junior cornerback Cordell Hudson (85 career tackles) and Toledo graduate transfer Jordan Martin. Martin broke up 11 passes in 34 games at cornerback for the Rockets.

SPECIAL TEAMS

New special teams coordinator Justin Lustig inherited a veteran group of specialists when he came on board in March. Placekicker Cole Murphy is in his fourth season. Long snapper Matt Keller is in his third, and punter Sterling Hofrichter is in his second.

Murphy ranks fifth among active ACC kickers in scoring with 201 points and lists among the top 10 in SU history in most kicking categories. He also has three career field goals of 50+ yards to his credit.

Keller contributed to an Orange punting operation that was fifth in the ACC in 2016 in net average (38.8) and third in total punting yardage (3,380).

The beneficiary of Keller's pinpoint snaps is Hofrichter, who earned Freshman All-America and All-ACC honors a year ago. Hofrichter tied for second among freshmen nationally in punting average (42.7) and matched Virginia's Nicholas Conte for the conference lead with 23 punts of 50+ yards.

Other specialists on the roster include: kickers Alex Grossman and Emerson Womble, punter/kicker Nolan Cooney and reserve long snapper Nathan Hines.

Sophomore Sean Riley is poised to reprise his role as SU's primary kick returner. Riley led the nation in kickoff return yardage (1,095) and ranked second in the FBS in combined kick return yards (1,125) last season. Riley is also in line to replace ACC all-time leading punt returner Brisly Estime. Riley filled that role in a limited capacity as a freshman, running back two punts for a total of 30 yards.

DINO BABERS

Head Coach • Second Season • Career Record: 41-24 (.631)

A proven winner and respected mentor, Dino Babers was named the 30th head football coach at Syracuse University on Dec. 5, 2015. He owns a 41-24 (.631) career head coaching record and boasts more than 30 years of experience in the profession.

In four of his five seasons as a college head coach, Babers has led his teams to the postseason. As the head coach at Bowling Green, and before that Eastern Illinois, Babers won three conference championships, two division titles and the 2014 Raycom Camellia Bowl. It's a championship pedigree that has served him well in reestablishing the Orange program.

Known for his innovative, ultra-fast offense, Babers planted the seeds of Syracuse's revival in 2016 and the program immediately began reaping the rewards. The Orange knocked off a ranked opponent for the first time in four years, toppling eventual ACC Coastal champion Virginia Tech at the Carrier Dome. He commanded an offense that set or tied more than 40 school records, including new program season records for passing attempts (522), pass completions (332) and passing yards (3,855). In addition, Syracuse racked up 5,290 yards of offense, the second-highest total in school history.

On an individual level, receivers Amba Etta-Tawo, Ervin Philips and quarterback Eric Dungey excelled in the system and exploded onto the national scene. Etta-Tawo and Philips combined for an ACC-record 184 receptions, with Etta-Tawo making 94 catches and Philips 90. Etta-Tawo, in his only year with the Orange, left an indelible stamp on the program. He set 10 SU receiving records, was a Biletnikoff Award semifinalist, a unanimous All-ACC First Team selection and was named to four All-America teams. Etta-Tawo was voted to the Sporting News All-America Second Team and received third-team honors from the Associated Press to become the first Orange player since Dwight Freeney (2001) to earn recognition from any of the five major All-America selectors. Philips ranked eighth in the FBS in receptions per game, set the program record for most catches by a junior and earned All-ACC Honorable Mention plaudits.

Dungey finished the 2016 campaign ranked in the top 15 nationally in completions per game (6th - 25.6), total offense (11th - 330.2 ypg), passing (12th - 297.7 ypg) and completion percentage (13th - 64.8). He recorded six 300-yard passing games in nine outings, one shy of Clemson star Deshaun Watson who tallied an ACC-best seven such performances in six more games played.

Overall, six of Babers' pupils received 2016 All-ACC honors with specialist Brisly Estime, linebackers Zaire Franklin, Parris Bennett and punter Sterling Hofrichter joining Etta-Tawo and Philips in SU's all-conference parade.

MAKING THE FALCONS FAST

Babers took over the Bowling Green program in 2014 and led the Falcons to an 18-9 record in his two years there, including victories over three Big Ten teams (Indiana - 2014; Maryland, Purdue - 2015). The Falcons went 8-6 in Babers' first season and captured the MAC East Division title with a 5-3 league mark. Bowling Green lost the MAC title game to Northern Illinois, but rebounded for a 33-28 win versus South Alabama in the Camellia Bowl, BGSU's first bowl victory since 2004.

In 2015, Bowling Green was 10-3 under Babers and 7-1 against MAC competition to win the MAC East title once again. This time the Falcons got the better of MAC West champion Northern Illinois in the league title game to win BGSU's second conference championship in three seasons. Babers presided over one of the most explosive offenses in the country, as the Falcons ranked in the top 10 nationally in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring (6th - 42.2 ppg).

Babers mentored 17 All-MAC performers at BGSU, including 11 in 2015. Falcons quarterback Matt Johnson was named the 2015 MAC Vern Smith Leadership Award winner, presented to the conference's top football player, and earned MAC Offensive Player of the Year honors. In addition, Johnson finished second nationally in passing yards (4,946), touchdown passes (46) and fifth in passing yards per game (353.3). He set the MAC single-season record for touchdown passes and eclipsed Ben Roethlisberger's conference record for most passing yards in one season.

Another of Babers' charges – Roger Lewis – also had a standout 2015 campaign. Lewis, now an NFL receiver for the New York Giants, finished second in the FBS in receiving yards (1,544), third in touchdown catches (16) and fifth in receiving yards per game (110.3). He became the first Falcon since 1994 to earn All-America honors from the Associated Press (third team) and received second-team honors from the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA).

EXCELLENCE AT EASTERN ILLINOIS

Babers excelled in his first head coaching position, leading Eastern Illinois to a 19-7 record during his two-year stint, including a 14-1 mark against Ohio Valley Conference foes. His 2012 and 2013 Panther teams won the conference championship and earned berths in the FCS playoffs. Babers was named the Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year both seasons.

In 2013, the Panthers finished 12-2, including an 8-0 conference record, and reached the FCS quarterfinals. The Panthers were ranked as high as No. 2 in the polls and led the nation in total yards per game (589.5) and points per game (48.2). EIU averaged 372.4 yards passing per contest and 217.1 yards a game rushing on its way to outscoring its opponents, 636-270. The offense was diverse with four different receivers totaling at least 700 yards and eight touchdowns apiece, and two running backs who combined to rush for 2,539 yards.

Babers also proved to be an effective defensive coach. In 2013, Eastern Illinois ranked in the top 30 nationally in scoring defense, red-zone defense and pass efficiency defense. EIU led the nation in fumbles recovered (23) and was sixth nationally with a +14 turnover margin.

Panthers quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo was named the 2013 Walter Payton Award winner as the top player in the FCS after throwing for 5,050 yards and 53 touchdowns. During his two seasons working with Babers, Garoppolo passed for 8,873 yards and 84 scores to transform himself into a second-round NFL Draft pick of the New England Patriots. In addition, Babers mentored 2012 Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year Erik Lora, who set league single-season records with 136 receptions and 1,664 receiving yards. Lora followed it up with 123 catches for 1,544 yards and a conference-record 19 touchdowns in 2013.

Upon his arrival at EIU in 2012, Babers took a Panthers team that had finished last in the Ohio Valley Conference in 2011 and led them to a first-place finish with a 6-1 league mark. It was just the fourth time in OVC history that a team went from worst to first in the span of a season.

PROFESSIONAL BUILDING BLOCKS

Prior to taking the helm at Eastern Illinois, Babers spent four seasons (2008-11) at Baylor in various capacities. During his time in Waco, Babers worked as the special teams coordinator, recruiting coordinator and outside receivers coach, guiding the careers of NFL stars like Terrance Williams and Josh Gordon. Before that, he spent four years at UCLA as the assistant head coach, running backs coach and wide receivers coach.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Babers also worked as an assistant at Pittsburgh, Texas A&M, Arizona, San Diego State, Purdue, Northern Arizona, UNLV and Eastern Illinois. He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Hawaii in 1984 and spent the next two seasons in a similar position at Arizona State before landing his first full-time job at Eastern Illinois in 1987.

Babers has coached or recruited more than 40 NFL players, including 29 draft picks, three Pro Bowlers (Lance Briggs, Matt Slater, Josh Gordon) and 2000 All-Pro selection Az-Zahir Hakim.

Twelve of his protégés have been picked in the first three rounds of the NFL Draft, including five in the first two rounds. Arizona running back Trung Canidate was the first-round choice of the St. Louis Rams in 2000. Wide receivers Brian Alford (Purdue), Will Blackwell (San Diego State), Dennis Northcutt (Arizona) and Gordon were selected in the second round.

A 1984 graduate of the University of Hawaii with a bachelor's degree in education, Babers started at three different positions for the Warriors during his collegiate career (outside linebacker, strong safety, running back), while earning All-Western Athletic Conference Academic honors. As a senior, he served as Hawaii's special teams captain and was the squad's leading rusher.

After his last college season, Babers tried out for the BC Lions of the Canadian Football League (CFL) before an injury in training camp ended his playing career.

Babers, who received his master's degree in education administration and supervision from Arizona State in 1987, and his wife, Susan, have four daughters – Breeahnah, Tasha, Jazzmin and Paris. Jazzmin Babers was a member of the Texas A&M volleyball team from 2012-16. She was named an AVCA Second Team All-American in 2015.

KIM McCLOUD

Assistant Head Coach/Wide Receivers • Second Season

With extensive experience coaching both sides of the football, Kim McCloud joined Dino Babers' staff as the Orange's assistant head coach and wide receivers coach in January 2016.

McCloud and Babers have a long history, having worked together for eight years. Before joining him at Syracuse, McCloud was Babers' defensive coordinator at Eastern Illinois (2012-13) and Bowling Green (2014). In 2015, McCloud was promoted to assistant head coach for the Falcons and also coached the team's receivers. He and Babers first worked together as assistants at Baylor from 2008-10.

At Syracuse, McCloud made an immediate impact on the Orange receiving corps. In 2016, he mentored the most productive pass-catching duo in ACC single-season history, as Amba Etta-Tawo caught 94 passes for 1,482 yards and Ervin Philips snagged 90 balls for 822 yards. Their 184 combined receptions were the most ever by two ACC teammates. In addition, Steve Ishmael (559 yards) and Brisly Estime (518 yards) topped the 500-yard mark, giving the Orange one of the most productive receiving quartets in the conference.

McCloud's influence helped Etta-Tawo become one of college football's breakout stars. Relatively unknown before arriving at Syracuse, Etta-Tawo set 10 school receiving records in his one year with the Orange. He was a 2016 Biletnikoff Award semifinalist, a unanimous All-ACC First Team selection and was named to four All-America teams.

Philips ranked eighth in the FBS receptions per game (7.5), set the program record for most catches by a junior and earned All-ACC Honorable Mention plaudits.

It wasn't the first time a group of receivers excelled under McCloud's direction. In 2015, his work helped Bowling Green receivers Roger Lewis (first team), Gehrig Dieter (second team) and Ronnie Moore (third team) earn All-MAC honors. Lewis was a nearly unstoppable force. He ranked second in the FBS in receiving yards (1,544), third in touchdown receptions (16) and fifth in receiving yards per game (110.3). In addition, Lewis became the first Falcon since 1994 to earn All-America honors from the Associated Press (third team) and received second-team All-America recognition from the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA).

Before moving to the offensive side of the ball, McCloud built his coaching reputation as the architect of aggressive, hard-hitting defenses. His 2014 Bowling Green unit forced 33 turnovers in 14 games (2.4 avg.) to help the Falcons win the Mid-American Conference East Division title and defeat South Alabama in the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl. Three of McCloud's stalwarts earned All-MAC honors in 2014, including linebacker Gabe Martin who recorded 115 total tackles and led the MAC with 18 tackles for loss. Martin is currently a member of the NFL's Arizona Cardinals after signing with the team in 2015 as an undrafted free agent.

At Eastern Illinois, McCloud was part of Babers' staff that turned around a struggling Panthers program. After successive 2-9 records in the two seasons before the staff's arrival, Eastern Illinois improved to 7-5 in 2012 and went 12-2 in 2013. The Panthers won the Ohio Valley Conference and made the FCS playoffs both years, including finishing with the No. 3 national ranking in 2013. McCloud's schemes resulted in a 2013 Panther defense that led the FCS in fumble recoveries (23), gained 37 turnovers and finished sixth nationally in turnover margin (+14).

Prior to reuniting with Babers at Eastern Illinois, McCloud served as an assistant coach at Akron (2011), Baylor (2008-10), Nevada (2000-07) and Idaho (1998-99). At Baylor, McCloud helped the Bears to the 2010 Texas Bowl and coached two All-Big 12 safeties in Byron Lander and Jordan Lake. He also worked as the defensive recruiting coordinator for the Bears from 2009-10.

Before moving to Waco, McCloud was an assistant at Nevada for eight seasons, including seven years as the Wolf Pack's secondary coach. Nevada made three straight bowl appearances and won the 2006 Western Athletic Conference title in his final three years on the staff. McCloud coached a pair of All-WAC performers at Nevada, including receiver Nichiren Flowers who ranked second in the WAC with 91 receptions in 2004.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., McCloud was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at Hawaii, earning honorable mention All-WAC honors at defensive back. He signed as a free agent with the San Diego Chargers in 1991 and played two seasons (1991-92) in the Canadian Football League for the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Following his playing career, McCloud broke into coaching at Kaiser High School in Honolulu and worked as a graduate assistant at Missouri in 1997, helping the Tigers earn an invitation to the Holiday Bowl.

In 1998, McCloud joined the staff at Idaho as a cornerbacks coach where he helped the Vandals win the Big West Conference and defeat Southern Miss in the Humanitarian Bowl.

A 1991 Hawaii graduate, McCloud and his wife, Renée, are the parents of two children – Kaleb and Rachel.

SEAN LEWIS

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks • Second Season

One of the brightest, young offensive coaches in the country, Sean Lewis is in his second year as Syracuse's co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

In his first season with the Orange, Lewis helped spearhead an offense that set or tied more than 40 school records, including new season marks for most passing attempts (522), completions (332) and yards (3,855). In addition, Syracuse racked up 5,290 yards of offense, the second-highest total in school history. The unit featured a pair of all-conference receivers, including record-setter Amba Etta-Tawo who authored the most productive pass-catching season in team history. Etta-Tawo set 10 program records and was named to four All-America teams, including earning second-team honors from Sporting News and third-team honors from the Associated Press.

Lewis' work with SU's quarterbacks was instrumental to the offense's success. Orange signal callers ranked 11th nationally and second in the ACC in passing (321.3 ypg) in 2016. Starter Eric Dungey shined, setting SU sophomore records for passing yardage (2,679) and yards of total offense (2,972). Dungey tied Ryan Nassib's program record with six 300-yard passing games and finished among the top 15 nationally in completions per game (6th - 25.6), total offense (11th - 330.2 ypg), passing offense (12th - 297.7 ypg) and completion percentage (13th - 64.8).

Backup Zack Mahoney also benefited from working with Lewis. In just his seventh career start, Mahoney led SU to 61 points at Pittsburgh, the highest Orange scoring total in more than a decade. Mahoney accounted for a school-record seven touchdowns against the Panthers and tied the SU single-game standard with five TD passes.

Lewis assumed his post at SU in January 2016 after helping run one of the most explosive offenses in college football under Dino Babers at Bowling Green. As the co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the Falcons in 2015, Lewis helped direct an attack that was top 10 in the FBS in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring (6th - 42.2 ppg).

Under Lewis' guidance, seven Bowling Green players earned 2015 All-MAC honors on offense, including conference player of the year Matt Johnson. Johnson finished second nationally in passing yards (4,946), touchdown passes (46) and fifth in passing yards per game (353.3). He set the MAC single-season record for touchdown passes and eclipsed Ben Roethlisberger's conference record for most passing yards in a season.

Johnson wasn't the only Falcon to excel while working with Lewis. Wide receiver Roger Lewis (no relation) finished second in the FBS in receiving yards (1,544), third in touchdown receptions (16) and fifth in receiving yards per game (110.3) in 2015. Lewis became the first Falcon since 1994 to earn All-America honors from the Associated Press (third team) and received second-team All-America recognition from the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA).

Coaching peers have quickly taken note of Lewis' success. He was a nominee for the 2015 Frank Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach. He was also selected for the first AFCA 30 Under 30 Leadership Institute. As part of the select group of coaches, Lewis participated in a full day of focused, interactive lectures on a variety topics including ethics, leadership, NCAA rules, financial management, hiring and player safety at the 2016 AFCA Convention in San Antonio, Texas.

Record-setting production has been the hallmark of Lewis' units since he entered the coaching ranks. As Bowling Green's wide receivers coach in 2014, Lewis directed a receiving corps that was one of three in the FBS to feature six receivers with at least 20 catches. Four had more than 30 receptions and three players made at least 50 catches. The group accounted for 17 touchdowns, including seven by Roger Lewis, who totaled 73 catches for 1,093 yards to become the first freshman 1,000-yard receiver in BGSU history.

Before following Babers to Bowling Green in 2014, Lewis coached the inside receivers and tight ends for Babers at Eastern Illinois for two years. In 2012, Lewis mentored Erik Lora to one of the best individual seasons in FCS history. Lora was named the Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year and finished fourth in the Walter Payton Award voting after setting the FCS single-season record with 136 receptions for 1,664 yards. As a unit, the 2012 Eastern Illinois wideouts hauled in a school-record 341 passes for 4,019 yards and 34 touchdowns.

The following season, Lora and Adam Drake both totaled more than 1,300 yards receiving and combined for 32 touchdowns. Lora was recognized as the best receiver in FCS football for his efforts.

Prior to his stint at Eastern Illinois, Lewis was a graduate assistant at Akron in 2011 and coached the tight ends at Nebraska-Omaha in 2010. He got his coaching start as the offensive coordinator for Richards High School in Illinois from 2007-09.

A four-year member of the Wisconsin football program, Lewis played quarterback and tight end for the Badgers from 2004-07. He was a two-time Academic All-Big Ten selection and earned his undergraduate degree in agricultural sciences in 2007.

Lewis and his wife, Sarah, have a son, Rory, and a dog, Champ.

MIKE LYNCH

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line • Second Season

A versatile coach who has taught every offensive position group during his career, Mike Lynch is in his second year as Syracuse's co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach.

In his first season with the Orange, Lynch helped spearhead an offense that set or tied more than 40 school records, including new season marks for most passing attempts (522), completions (332) and yards (3,855). In addition, Syracuse racked up 5,290 yards of offense, the second-highest total in school history. The unit featured a pair of all-conference receivers, including record-setter Amba Etta-Tawo who authored the most productive pass-catching season in team history. Etta-Tawo set 10 program records and was named to four All-America teams, including earning second-team honors from Sporting News and third-team honors from the Associated Press.

Lynch coached an offensive line that paved the way for the Orange to surpass 500 yards of offense in five games, including a season-high 668 yards at Pittsburgh. The group also protected a collection of SU quarterbacks who ranked 11th nationally and second in the ACC in passing (321.3 ypg).

Lynch joined the SU staff in January 2016 after helping run one of the most explosive offenses in college football under Dino Babers at Bowling Green. As the co-offensive coordinator, as well as the offensive line and running backs coach for the Falcons in 2015, Lynch helped direct an offense that ranked in the top 10 nationally in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring offense (6th - 42.2 ppg). The unit powered Bowling Green to the Mid-American Conference title and an appearance in the 2015 GoDaddy Bowl.

Lynch's tutelage helped produce seven 2015 All-MAC selections on offense, including linemen Alex Huettel (second team), Jacob Bennett (second team) and running back Travis Greene (first team). Huettel earned All-America honors from Phil Steele and was selected to participate in the 2016 East-West Shrine Game.

Before adding co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach to his duties, Lynch served as Bowling Green's running backs coach in 2014. That season, he mentored the trio of Greene, Fred Coppet and Andre Givens. The threesome combined to produce 2,192 yards and 26 touchdowns on the ground to help the Falcons capture the MAC East Division crown and win the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

Prior to his stint at Bowling Green, Lynch served as an assistant coach from 2005-13 at Eastern Illinois. He spent the final two years of his EIU tenure as the running backs coach under Babers, coaching two 1,000-yard rushers. He mentored All-Ohio Valley Conference honoree Jake Walker in 2012. The following season, Shepard Little was named to the All-OVC First Team after rushing for 1,551 yards and 15 touchdowns. Little ranked seventh nationally in total rushing yards and posted seven 100-yard games. He averaged 7.1 yards per carry and 110.8 yards per contest.

Most of Lynch's first six years at EIU were spent coaching the wide receivers. While in that position, he mentored 2006 All-American Micah Rucker and led several productive units, including a 2011 Panthers receiving corps that accounted for 20 of the team's 34 touchdowns. His 2010 collection of wideouts combined to catch 193 passes for 2,279 yards and 18 scores.

Lynch got his first taste of coaching in 1999 as a restricted earnings coach at Montana. After a year with the Grizzlies, Lynch spent five seasons at Utah State. While with the Aggies, he helped guide the careers of three tight ends who signed with NFL teams. Chris Cooley, a two-time Pro Bowler, was the third-round selection of the Washington Redskins in the 2003 NFL Draft, while J.R. Suguturaga (Miami Dolphins) and Casey Poppinga (Pittsburgh Steelers) both signed free-agent contracts.

A Roseville, Calif. native, Lynch was an offensive lineman for Sierra Junior College in California before finishing his collegiate career at Montana in 1997 and 1998. The Grizzlies combined to win 16 games with Lynch on the roster and reached the Divsion I-AA (now FCS) playoffs both seasons.

Lynch holds a bachelor's degree from Montana and a master's degree in secondary education from Utah State. He married the former Emily Schilling in June 2011. The couple have two children – Madison and Will.

BRIAN WARD

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers • Second Season

An experienced coach who has worked at every level of college football, Brian Ward was named the Orange's defensive coordinator in January 2016. He added linebackers coach to his title in 2017.

Ward's scheme allows for plenty of opportunities to make plays and SU linebackers Zaire Franklin and Parris Bennett took full advantage in 2016. Franklin was named to the All-ACC Third Team by media who cover the conference and received All-ACC Honorable Mention recognition from the league's head coaches. Bennett was an All-ACC Honorable Mention choice by the media. Both players recorded 100-tackle seasons and finished in the top 10 of the ACC in tackles per game.

Before joining the Orange, Ward served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for Bowling Green in 2015. He oversaw a defense that improved in several statistical categories from the previous year and featured two All-MAC selections at linebacker, including first-team honoree Austin Valdez. Ward also served as Bowling Green's head coach for the 2015 GoDaddy Bowl versus Georgia Southern.

The defense's improved performance was a major factor in Bowling Green winning the 2015 Mid-American Conference title. The Falcons surrendered 4.6 fewer points and nearly 76 yards less of total offense per game than they did in 2014. In addition, Bowling Green allowed 39 fewer first downs and moved up the NCAA statistical rankings in passing defense (up 44 spots), rushing defense (up 20 spots), scoring defense (from 106 to 84) and total defense (from 115 to 86). Bowling Green finished 13th nationally in turnovers gained (27) and eighth in interceptions (20). Against MAC teams (including the conference championship game), the Falcons led the league in scoring defense (21.0 ppg), fewest yards per play (4.9), takeaways (22) and turnover margin (+13). Valdez was the leader of the unit, racking up 144 tackles and ranking 10th in the FBS at 10.3 tackles per contest. Trenton Greene, another of Ward's charges, earned All-MAC Second Team plaudits at linebacker after finishing with 115 tackles.

Prior to his stint at Bowling Green, Ward was the defensive coordinator at Western Illinois, molding the Leathernecks into one of the top defenses in FCS football from 2012-14. Ward's 2013 unit ranked seventh in the nation in total defense (305.3 ypg) and third nationally against the pass (149.0 ypg). Western Illinois also made improvements in a host of additional categories, including passing efficiency defense, tackles for loss and sacks.

In 2014, Ward coached two All-Missouri Valley Football Conference performers (Kevin Kintzel, Kris Harley). In addition, the Leathernecks put on one of the most impressive defensive displays of the season against Wisconsin running back Melvin Gordon. Western Illinois held the Heisman Trophy finalist to 38 yards on 17 carries (2.2 avg.).

Before joining Western Illinois, Ward was the defensive coordinator at Drake in 2011 where he helped the Bulldogs to a 9-2 record and the Pioneer Football League championship. The Bulldogs held five of their last eight opponents to 14 points or less and finished the year second nationally in rushing defense (77.2 ypg), fifth in sacks (39), seventh in scoring defense (17.8 ppg) and 10th in total defense (295.4 ypg).

Ward's previous collegiate coaching stops also include: McPherson College (1997, 2007-09), Glendale Community College (1999-2000), Wabash College (2001-04), Missouri Southern State (2005) and North Dakota State (2010). He spent the 2006 season as the defensive coordinator/assistant head coach at Tulsa Union High School in Oklahoma.

A 1997 graduate of NAIA McPherson College, Ward served as the head coach of his alma mater for three seasons from 2007-09, compiling a 17-14 (.548) record. In his final season, he led the Bulldogs to a 9-2 mark, the program's first berth in the NAIA national playoffs, and was named the CollegeFanz.com Sports Network NAIA Coach of the Year. During his head coaching tenure, the Bulldogs boasted seven All-Americans, two Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference (KCAC) Players of the Year, seven NAIA Scholar-Athletes and 39 All-KCAC selections. Ward also worked as the defensive coordinator/special teams coach at McPherson in 1997 after the conclusion of his playing career.

Ward's additional coaching highlights include being named the 2002 AFCA Division III Assistant Coach of the Year while serving as assistant head coach, special teams coordinator and secondary coach for four years at Wabash College. The Little Giants were undefeated during the 2002 regular season. They won North Coast Athletic Conference and reached the Division III quarterfinals, while leading the country in interceptions and takeaways.

In 2003, Wabash ascended to No. 2 in the national polls and its defense ranked among the top 10 nationally in total defense, rushing defense and interceptions.

As the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Glendale Community College in 1999 and 2000, Ward was the architect of a Vaqueros defense that helped the program win back-to-back Arizona Community College Athletic Conference championships and the 2000 NJCAA national title.

Ward holds a bachelor's degree in history from McPherson and a master's degree in organizational management from the University of Phoenix. He is married to the former Amy Brandseth. The couple have three children – Travis, Ellie and Erin.

JUSTIN LUSTIG

Special Teams Coordinator/Running Backs • First Season

Justin Lustig, the 2016 Division II national coach of the year, was appointed the Orange's special teams coordinator and running backs coach by Dino Babers in March 2017. The head coach at Edinboro University (Pa.), Lustig earned D2Football.com Coach of the Year honors last season after inheriting an 0-11 team and leading the Fighting Scots to a 9-2 record in his one season at the helm.

The turnaround was the largest in Division II football history and the nine wins matched the program record. The Fighting Scots scored 40 points or more in a school-record seven games and averaged 41.5 points per contest, good for 12th nationally. Along with his national coach of the year award, Lustig was voted the Don Hansen Football Gazette Super Region One co-Coach of the Year and the Pennsylvania State Athletics Conference (PSAC) West Coach of the Year.

During his career, Lustig has developed 41 all-conference players. He has worked on the staffs of five teams that reached the NCAA playoffs and coached in two bowl games.

Prior to becoming the head coach at Edinboro, Lustig made assistant coaching stops at five schools, including four Division I institutions. His most notable achievements came at Ball State where he was the special teams coordinator and running backs coach from 2011-15. He added the title of assistant head coach for the Cardinals prior to the 2015 campaign.

The Cardinals played in two bowl games during Lustig's time in Muncie. They faced UCF in the Beef O'Brady's Bowl in 2012 and earned a spot in the GoDaddy Bowl against Arkansas State the following season. Ball State went 19-7 those two years with four wins over BCS teams (Indiana - 2, USF, Virginia).

Lustig's special teams and return specialists were among the finest in Division I each year. In 2015, the Cardinals ranked among the top four in the Mid-American Conference (MAC) in every special teams category. His kickoff return unit ranked 12th in the FBS at 25.5 yards per return and his kickoff coverage team was 13th (18.03 ypr). Lustig also mentored running back Darian Green, who led the MAC in all-purpose yardage.

The previous season, Scott Secor was named the MAC Special Teams Player of the Year and a semifinalist for the 2014 Lou Groza Award as the nation's top placekicker. Lustig also coached All-MAC First Team kick returner Eric Patterson and mentored third-team All-MAC running back Jahwan Edwards. Edwards, a three-time all-conference choice, became the third ball carrier in Ball State history with three 1,000-yard seasons. Edwards also finished his career as the program's all-time leader in rushing yards and rushing touchdowns.

Other prominent Lustig pupils include three-time All-MAC kick return specialist Jamill Smith, punter Scott Kovanda and kicker Steve Schott. In 2012, Kovanda was a finalist for the Ray Guy Award, presented to the nation's best punter, and Schott was a Groza Award semifinalist.

After beginning his coaching career as an assistant at Division III Christopher Newport from 2001-02, Lustig moved on to Villanova in 2003 as the Wildcats' cornerbacks coach. Lustig's tutelage produced immediate results, as Villanova finished No. 1 in the Atlantic 10 Conference in pass efficiency defense and total defense.

Lustig returned to Christopher Newport for the 2004 and 2005 seasons, serving as special teams coordinator, recruiting coordinator and defensive backs coach. The special teams units broke numerous school records during those two years. The Captains blocked 11 kicks during that span, including three that were returned for touchdowns. They also returned three kickoffs for scores. Overall, Lustig's four-year tenure with the Captains featured a USA South Atlantic Conference co-championship and three NCAA Division III playoff berths.

In 2006, Lustig took over as the special teams coordinator and running backs coach at Eastern Illinois. He spent three years with the Panthers, helping EIU to two FCS playoff appearances and coaching three different 1,000-yard rushers. In addition, his 2008 special teams units led the Ohio Valley Conference in punt return average, net punting and kickoff return yardage defense.

Following his stint at Eastern Illinois, Lustig spent two seasons at Louisiana-Lafayette as the special teams coordinator and running backs coach. He also oversaw the Ragin' Cajuns' H-backs.

A 1996 graduate of Pennsylvania's Cathedral Prep, Lustig played collegiately at Bucknell. He was a four-year starter at defensive back for the Bison and captained the team as a senior. In 1997, Lustig and his teammates enjoyed the most successful season in school history, finishing with a 10-1 overall record.

Lustig earned his bachelor's degree in English and history from Bucknell in 2000. He also received a master's degree in human resource management from George Washington University in 2005.

Lustig and his wife, Beth Ann, have two sons, Samuel and Henry.

RENO FERRI

Tight Ends • Second Season

A veteran coach with strong recruiting ties to New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia, Reno Ferri is in his second year as the Orange's tight ends coach. He was named to the position by head coach Dino Babers in January 2016.

Ferri came to Syracuse after spending the previous five seasons at Towson where he worked with the Tigers running backs, fullbacks and tight ends. He was also the Tigers recruiting coordinator from 2011-15.

In Ferri's three seasons (2011-13) as running backs coach, the Tigers averaged more than 230 yards rushing per game and posted an overall record of 29-10. Towson rushed for at least 200 yards 24 times in that span, topped the 300-yard mark on eight occasions, and went over 400 yards twice. In 2013, the Tigers ran for more than 240 yards per contest en route to a 13-3 record and an appearance in the 2013 FCS title game.

Under Ferri's guidance, the Tigers ground attack shattered virtually every school record. His 2013 stable of backs rushed for a school-record 3,830 yards and scored 55 touchdowns. In 2011, Ferri's first year leading the unit, the group averaged 229.9 rushing yards per game, a mark that led the Colonial Athletic Association.

Individually, Ferri coached four Towson ball carriers who earned All-CAA honors and three FCS All-Americans. In 2013, current Baltimore Ravens running back Terrance West set the NCAA FCS single-season records for rushing yards (2,509) and rushing touchdowns (41). In Towson's FCS quarterfinal victory against Eastern Illinois, West set an FCS playoff record by rushing for 354 yards. He also scored five touchdowns against the Panthers. West received first-team All-America honors and was named the CAA Player of the Year for his efforts.

As a freshman in 2011, West led the FCS with 29 rushing touchdowns, was tabbed the CAA Offensive Rookie of the Year, and captured the Jerry Rice Award as the top freshman in FCS football. He entered the NFL Draft after his junior year and was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the third round.

Ferri protégés Tyler Wharton and Emmanuel Holder also earned All-America honors during that time. Wharton was a first-team selection in 2011. Holder received freshman All-America accolades in 2012 and was a national second-team honoree the following year. Ferri also tutored Darius Victor, a 2013 freshman All-American and the 2013 CAA Offensive Rookie of the Year.

Prior to his time at Towson, Ferri spent six seasons at Akron. He joined the Zips In 2004 as a graduate assistant coach for offense. The following year, he served as Akron's director of football operations and was part of a Zips staff that guided the team to the 2005 MAC title and a berth in the Motor City Bowl.

In 2006, Ferri was promoted to wide receivers coach and worked with Jabari Arthur, who became an all-league performer, as well as All-MAC standout, and freshman All-American David Harvey. Harvey led the Mid-American Conference and ranked second nationally in kickoff return average (30.0).

In 2007, Ferri was named Akron's running backs coach, a position he held for three years. During that time, he mentored All-MAC selection Bryan Williams, as well as Dennis Kennedy. In 2008, Kennedy turned in a record-setting season. He ran for 1,321 yards, the third-best season rushing total in Akron history at the time, and set the school season records for most rushing touchdowns (17) and most total touchdowns (18).

Ferri was Akron's recruiting coordinator from 2005 to 2009, leading the effort that resulted in Akron landing the top-ranked classes in the MAC three years running from 2005-07. Two players from those classes were freshman All-America selections (Harvey and Almondo Sewell).

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Ferri is a 2000 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy. A three-year letterwinner at running back for the Black Knights, he was a member of the first Army West Point team to compete in Conference USA. As a rookie in 1996, Ferri was part of a nationally-ranked Black Knights squad that was 10-2 and played Auburn in the Independence Bowl. In his senior season, Ferri served as game captain against Air Force.

After earning his bachelor's degree in general management with a minor in systems engineering, Ferri began his coaching career in 2000 as a graduate assistant at West Point.

A first lieutenant in the U.S. Army from May 2000 to March 2002, Ferri served as a fire direction officer and battalion survey officer. He also previously worked as a consultant for British Petroleum. A systems engineer, Ferri and his team designed and implemented a web-based tracking system for BP to monitor the 16,000 vessels responding to the Deep Water Horizon oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico.

Ferri and his wife, Rebekah, have four children – Giana, Zola, Sofie and Reno III.

NICK MONROE

Secondary • Second Season

Nick Monroe, who has won conference championships at each of his previous coaching stops, is in his second year as the Orange's secondary coach after joining the SU staff in January 2016.

During his first season with the Orange, Monroe instilled the program's defensive principles in a young secondary hit hard by injuries. His tutelage paid dividends as six different defensive backs made interceptions. In addition, Monroe's teaching was critical to the development of cornerback Christopher Fredrick. Fredrick emerged as a starter the last half of the season and earned 2016 All-ACC Freshman Second Team honors from Athlon Sports. Fredrick had his best game against Florida State, recording three takeaways, including stripping All-America running back Dalvin Cook twice.

Prior to coming to Syracuse, Monroe worked as the secondary coach at Bowling Green from 2010-15, consistently producing units that ranked among the nation's best. His expertise helped the Falcons capture the 2013 and 2015 Mid-American Conference titles and earn four straight bowl invitations. Monroe's guidance also helped turn Jude Adjei-Barimah into a starter in the National Football League. A defensive back for Bowling Green from 2011-14, Adjei-Barimah signed as a free agent with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and has played in 23 games with eight starts over the past two seasons.

When Monroe arrived at Bowling Green in 2010, he inherited an inexperienced unit that featured four new starters. In two seasons, he molded them into one of the stingiest defensive backfields in the country. Featuring All-MAC performers BooBoo Gates and Cameron Truss, the 2012 Falcons ranked 13th nationally in passing defense (190.1 ypg) to help propel the team to an 8-5 record and an appearance in the Military Bowl.

The following season, the Bowling Green secondary was even better. The Falcons finished sixth in the FBS against the pass (170.9 ypg) and Gates earned All-MAC First Team honors for the second year in a row. As a team, Bowling Green won its first conference championship since 1992 and played Pittsburgh in the 2013 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl.

In 2014, Monroe's first season working for Babers, he successfully oversaw the maturation of safety Brian Sutton and the development of two young cornerbacks. Sutton's production skyrocketed from the previous season. He finished second on the team with 102 tackles after making 43 stops the year before. In addition, the rookie cornerback tandem of Nick Johnson and Clint Stephens combined for nine interceptions. They were the only two freshmen in the country to record at least four picks (Johnson - 5, Stephens - 4). The unit also featured Adjei-Barimah, who recorded 82 tackles.

The quartet was critical to Bowling Green's team success and Monroe added a bowl victory and another championship to his résumé. The Falcons won the 2014 MAC East title and topped South Alabama 33-28 in the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

In 2015, Bowling Green posted a 10-4 record, won the MAC title for the second time in three seasons, and earned a berth in the GoDaddy Bowl. Monroe's defensive backfield once again helped the Falcons soar, finishing eighth in the FBS with 20 interceptions, including a team-high six picks by cornerback Alfonso Mack.

Before his stint at Bowling Green, Monroe coached defense for six years at Colgate University. He began his tenure with the Raiders coaching the defensive ends from 2004-05 before moving to secondary coach in 2006. In 2009, he was promoted to co-defensive coordinator and helped implement a scheme that stymied the opposition. The Raiders led the Patriot League and finished 29th nationally in total defense (308.2 ypg). Colgate was 9-2 and held seven of its opponents to 20 points or less. In addition to his coaching duties, Monroe served as the team's recruiting coordinator for five seasons.

In his last three years as the Colgate secondary coach, Monroe mentored four first-team All-Patriot League selections (Uzi Idah, Wayne Moten, Chris Ekpo, Cody Williams) and one second-team honoree (Moten). In addition, defensive back Demitri Diamond was named the 2009 Patriot League Rookie of the Year.

Colgate won a pair of Patriot League titles (2005, 2008) while Monroe was on the staff and made two Division I-AA (now FCS) playoff appearances.

Prior to his time at Colgate, Monroe was the secondary coach in 2002 and 2003 at Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa. He helped the Gators capture the 2003 North Coast Athletic Conference (NCAC) championship and earn a berth in the NCAA Division III playoffs.

Monroe was a four-year letterwinner at cornerback for St. Cloud State University in Minnesota. He earned his undergraduate degree in marketing from the school in 2001.

Nick and his wife, Nicole, have a son, Wyatt.

The Monroe family (L-R): Nicole, Wyatt and Nick.

VINSON REYNOLDS

Defensive Tackles • Second Season

A highly successful recruiter and teacher, Vinson Reynolds was named the Orange's defensive line coach in January 2016 and began coaching the defensive tackles exclusively in 2017.

Reynolds spent his first season at Syracuse molding a young unit that featured two true freshman starters at defensive end. He also made his mark on the recruiting trail, serving as the primary recruiting coach for Class of 2017 ESPN 300 quarterback Tommy DeVito.

Reynolds joined the Orange after serving as the defensive line coach at Western Michigan from 2013-15 where he helped engineer one of the most impressive turnarounds in FBS history. Reynolds and the WMU staff transformed the Broncos from a 1-11 team in 2012 into a program that earned consecutive bowl berths in 2014 and 2015. The 2015 Broncos were 8-5 and defeated Middle Tennessee 45-31 in the Bahamas Bowl to record the first bowl victory in school history.

In 2014, Reynolds led a Western Michigan defensive line that recorded 17 of the team's 29 sacks. The unit was part of a Broncos defense that finished third in the Mid-American Conference in points allowed per game. Reynolds also was recognized for his recruiting prowess that year. Rivals.com named him to its list of the top 10 recruiters from schools outside the Power Five and American Athletic Conference (formerly known as the Big Six) after he helped solidify, what was at the time, the website's highest-ranked class (No. 58) in the history of the MAC.

Prior to his three-year stint in Kalamazoo, Reynolds mentored the defensive linemen at Central Michigan and helped the Chippewas to a win over Western Kentucky in the 2012 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl. The group included current Steelers defensive end Leterrius Walton, who was selected in the sixth round of the 2015 NFL Draft.

Before making the move to CMU, Reynolds was the defensive line coach at Central Oklahoma in 2010. He also previously worked as a graduate assistant and defensive quality control coach at Oklahoma State (2008-09) for head coach Mike Gundy. Oklahoma State made appearances in the 2008 Holiday Bowl and 2010 Cotton Bowl while Reynolds was on the OSU staff.

Reynolds began his coaching career in 2006 as the defensive line coach at Division III University of Wisconsin-Platteville.

In addition to his collegiate experience, Reynolds has had the unique opportunity to complete two NFL internships. In 2015, he gained critical coaching skills and perspectives with the Baltimore Ravens under John Harbaugh. During the summer of 2016, Reynolds worked with head coach Chuck Pagano and the staff of the Indianapolis Colts.

A Detroit, Mich. native, Reynolds played his college football at Northern Illinois from 2000-03. He was named to the All-MAC First Team at defensive end as a senior after totaling 76 tackles, including 15 for a loss, and six sacks.

Reynolds earned his undergraduate degree from Northern Illinois in 2004. He received a master's degree in adult education from Wisconsin-Platteville in 2007. Reynolds and his wife, Cynthia, have two sons – Eric and

STEVE STANARD

Defensive Ends • First Season

A veteran coach with 30 years of experience coaching defense, including 20 seasons as a coordinator, Steve Stanard was named SU's defensive ends coach in 2017.

Prior to joining the Syracuse staff, Stanard served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Wyoming under head coach Craig Bohl from 2014-16. Stanard also worked for Bohl in 2012 and 2013 as the linebackers coach at North Dakota State. During Stanard's two years with the Bison, NDSU went 29-1 and captured consecutive NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) national titles.

In addition to his successful FCS playoff runs at NDSU, Stanard's postseason experience includes six bowl games and an NAIA national playoff appearance.

Stanard's Wyoming defenses featured three individuals who earned All-Mountain West honors – defensive end Eddie Yarbrough (2014, 2015), safety Andrew Wingard (2015, 2016) and linebacker Lucas Wacha (2016). Wingard was named to the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) Freshman All-America First Team in 2015. The next year, Stanard protégé Logan Wilson led all conference rookies in tackles per game (6.7) and was voted the 2016 Mountain West Freshman of the Year.

In 2016, Stanard's unit helped Wyoming to a berth in the Mountain West title game and to an appearance in the Poinsettia Bowl versus BYU. The Cowboys ranked third nationally with five defensive touchdowns and were 10th in the country in takeaways (27). They topped the Mountain West in fumble recoveries (12) and tied for second in the conference in both interceptions (15) and sacks (30).

At NDSU, Stanard's work with the linebackers contributed to the Bison leading the nation in scoring defense in both 2012 and 2013. NDSU allowed 11.5 points per game in 2012 and only 11.3 points per contest the following year. In 2013, the Bison also ranked third in the FCS in total defense (255.9 ypg), second in passing efficiency defense (97.59 rating), third in rushing defense (91.3 ypg) and eighth in passing defense (164.6 ypg). That season, Stanard mentored Grant Olson, who was named a third-team All-American by the Associated Press.

In 2012, not only did the Bison lead the FCS in scoring defense, but NDSU was No. 1 in total defense (234.5 ypg) and first downs allowed per game (12.7). They ranked second nationally in passing defense (140.6 ypg) and were fourth against the run (93.9 ypg).

Stanard's experience as a defensive coordinator includes running defenses at five schools in addition to Wyoming. He spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Tulane (2009-11), five years as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Colorado State (2003-07), three years as the defensive coordinator at New Mexico State (2000-02), one season as the defensive coordinator at South Dakota (1996) and five years as the defensive coordinator at Nebraska Wesleyan (1991-95).

In addition to his two decades as a coordinator, Stanard served as the defensive line coach at Ohio in 2008 for head coach Frank Solich, and coached the defensive ends and outside linebackers from 1997-99 at New Mexico State before being named the Aggies' defensive coordinator in 2000.

Highlights from Stanard's previous stops include Tulane leading Conference USA in passing defense in two out of his three seasons there. At Colorado State, he helped the Rams to two bowl appearances, coached four defenders to All-Mountain West First or Second Team honors, and another 24 to All-MW Honorable Mention recognition. Stanard's 2006 CSU defense finished in the top four of the Mountain West in six statistical categories and was the only team in the conference with three defenders among the league's top tacklers.

At New Mexico State, Stanard mentored linebackers Dwayne Taylor and Jimmy Cottrell. Taylor was a three-time all-conference selection and concluded his career with 364 tackles, including 40 for a loss. Taylor went on to play in the Canadian Football League for the Saskatchewan Roughriders and Montreal Alouettes. Cottrell set a Western Athletic Conference single-season record in 2005 with 179 stops. He went on to earn honorable mention All-America honors from SI.com and became the first player in New Mexico State history to lead the program in tackles all four seasons.

Stanard began his college coaching career in 1988 as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of Nebraska, under legendary head coach Tom Osborne. A linebacker for the Huskers from 1984-87, Stanard saw Nebraska earn seven bowl invitations during his time in Lincoln as a coach and student-athlete.

After a three-year stint with the Huskers, Stanard received his first full-time job in 1991 coaching at Nebraska Wesleyan. He served as the school's defensive coordinator, and later head coach and assistant athletic director, during his five years there.

Stanard earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1989. He received a master's degree in business administration from the school in 1995.

Stanard and his wife, Jennifer, have two children – Max and Madison. Steve also has a son, Austin, and daughter, Paige.

SEAN EDINGER

Assistant AD/Athletic Performance

Sean Edinger is in his second year as the football program's assistant athletics director for athletic performance. Appointed to the position in January 2016, Edinger is responsible for designing programs to increase the conditioning, speed, strength and agility of Syracuse's football student-athletes.

Prior to joining the Orange, Edinger served as the director of strength and conditioning at Bowling Green for two seasons, overseeing the strength and conditioning programs for BGSU's 18 sports. Edinger previously held a similar position at Eastern Illinois from June 2012 until his departure for Bowling Green.

Before his stint at Eastern Illinois, Edinger was the head strength coach at Central Missouri where he was directly responsible for all aspects of the Mules strength and conditioning program. He also previously worked as the head strength coach for football and volleyball at Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, Kan. from 2008-09.

A graduate assistant at Missouri from 2006-08, Edinger worked with the Tigers volleyball and tennis programs. He also assisted with the football strength and conditioning program, helping players prepare for pro days and professional combines.

Edinger is a 2006 graduate of the University of Kansas and earned his master's degree from Missouri in 2008. He is SCCC certified through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) and holds a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Sports Performance certification. A member of the U.S. National Karate Team for five years, Edinger has nearly 20 years of experience in martial arts.

JOSE RODRIGUEZ

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Jose Rodriguez joined the Orange in February 2016 as an assistant strength and conditioning coach for football.

A native of Perth Amboy, N.J., Rodriguez was a member of Baylor's athletic performance staff in 2014 and 2015 before coming to Syracuse. He worked with Baylor's football, baseball, volleyball, cross country, and equestrian teams. Rodriguez also tutored student-athletes on appropriate training and exercise techniques, as well as educated them on proper dietary requirements and nutrition.

Prior to his stint in Waco, Rodriguez worked as a strength and conditioning intern at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Rodriguez earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science and sports studies from Rutgers in 2013. While completing his undergraduate coursework, Rodriguez was a student athletic trainer for the Scarlet Knights football team. He also previously served as a strength and conditioning intern at Princeton, working primarily with football and baseball.

Rodriguez is an NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS). He holds a master's degree in pedagogy from Baylor in addition to his undergraduate degree.

JEFF SOBOL

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Jeff Sobol accompanied Assistant AD for Athletic Performance Sean Edinger to Syracuse from Bowling Green in January 2016, joining the Orange staff as an assistant strength and conditioning coach for football.

Prior to his arrival at Syracuse, Sobol spent 2015 as Bowling Green's assistant director of strength and conditioning where he was responsible for training BGSU's baseball and softball teams. He also assisted Edinger with the football program.

A graduate of Eastern Illinois, Sobol was a three-year starter on the defensive line for the Panthers from 2006-08. He earned All-Ohio Valley Conference honors twice and spent three seasons in the Indoor Football League after his college career.

Sobol, a native of Pevely, Mo., got his start in strength and conditioning as a graduate assistant for Eastern Illinois and earned a master's degree in sports administration from the school.

Jeff and his wife, Kelsey, have a daughter, Sloan.

WAYNE TUCKSON

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Wayne Tuckson, who has been a member of the Syracuse strength staff since 2014, was elevated to the position of assistant strength and conditioning coach for football in February 2016.

Prior to his current appointment, Tuckson worked with several of the Orange's Olympic sports teams and assisted with football.

Before arriving in Central New York, Tuckson served as an athletic performance graduate assistant at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls. In that role, he aided in creating workout programs for various Falcons athletic teams and helped manage the school's athletic performance center.

A native of Louisville, Ky., Tuckson played linebacker from 2009-12 at Division III Elmhurst College in Illinois. He was a three-year starter for the Bluejays and led the team in tackles twice. Tuckson finished his career with 284 tackles, including 114 as a senior in 2012. He was named to the All-College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) Second Team in 2011 and was an All-CCIW First Team selection in 2012.

In 2013, Tuckson worked as a defensive intern and outside linebackers coach for the Bluejays. He was also a volunteer assistant for the Elmhurst strength and conditioning staff.

Tuckson was a four-time CCIW All-Academic Team selection as a player. He received dual bachelor's degrees in criminal justice and philosophy from Elmhurst in 2013.

DAVE BOLLER

Director of Player Personnel

An experienced talent evaluator, Dave Boller was appointed Syracuse's director of player personnel in March 2017. Boller has nearly 20 years of experience evaluating NFL players and joined the Orange after two seasons at Louisville.

At Syracuse, Boller works closely with Director of Recruiting Operations Asil Mulbah to coordinate the program's efforts to identify and attract top high school student-athletes.

While at Louisville, Boller worked as the Cardinals' NFL liaison and director of on-campus recruiting in 2015. He transitioned to director of high school relations for the Cardinals in 2016.

Prior to his time at Louisville, Boller served as an area scout for the New York Jets from 2012-14. In that role, he was responsible for evaluating offensive and defensive line prospects in the Western half of the country.

From 2007-09, Boller was the assistant pro director for the Detroit Lions. He assisted Detroit's general manager with salary cap matters, performed evaluations for both active players and free agents, and assisted with the weekly advance report for the coaching staff. After his stint with the Lions, Boller worked as a consultant from 2010-12 for various NFC teams, offering his insight on both college and pro prospects.

In addition to his front-office experience, Boller spent 13 seasons in the NFL as a scout for the St. Louis Rams (2004-07), Philadelphia Eagles (1998-2004) and Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1995-98). In 1999, he was a member of the Philadelphia staff that decided to make SU standout Donovan McNabb the No. 2 overall pick in the draft.

Boller began his career in athletics at Arizona State where he served as the director of football operations for the Sun Devils from 1985-95. In that capacity, he was responsible for monitoring the ASU football budget, organizing recruiting functions, setting up travel, housing and meals for the team, and organizing official visits.

Boller attended Arizona State from 1980-84. He holds a degree in business.

J.B. GERALD

Director of High School Relations

J.B. Gerald was named the Orange's director of high school relations in February 2016 and serves as the program's liaison with high school, junior college and prep school coaches.

Gerald is responsible for gathering recommendations from coaches on prospects in Syracuse's primary recruiting areas. He helps maintain the Orange's recruiting database and assists in hosting prospective student-athletes and their families for official and unofficial visits, among other duties.

Prior to joining the Orange, Gerald was the head football coach and assistant basketball coach at Washington Jesuit Academy, a tuition-free middle school for boys in Washington, D.C., from 2010-15.

Gerald got his coaching start as a graduate assistant and quality control coach for Joe Paterno at Penn State from 2004-07. Gerald worked with the wide receivers in his first season and the team's running backs his last three years. During his time in Happy Valley, the Nittany Lions won three bowl games, including a victory over Florida State in the 2006 Orange Bowl.

Gerald spent the 2008 season as an offensive quality control coach at Illinois under head coach Ron Zook. In 2009, he served as the wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at New Mexico.

Before entering the coaching ranks, Gerald was a standout receiver and kick returner at Colgate from 2000-03. In 43 games, he totaled 113 catches for 1,334 yards and nine touchdowns. As a senior in 2003, Gerald had 74 receptions for 832 yards and seven TDs to help lead the Raiders to a 15-1 record and an appearance in the Division I-AA (now FCS) national championship game.

A Rhodes Scholar candidate, Gerald graduated from Colgate in 2004 with a bachelor's degree in educational studies and a minor in sociology. He earned a master's degree in educational leadership and administration from Penn State in 2006. Two years later, Gerald finished his Ph.D. coursework and lacks only the completion of his dissertation to receive his doctorate in educational leadership, also from Penn State.

ASIL MULBAH

Director of Recruiting Operations

Asil Mulbah is in his second season as Syracuse's director of recruiting operations. He was named to the post by head coach Dino Babers in January 2016.

Mulbah oversees the program's efforts to identify and attract top high school student-athletes. He maintains the program's recruit database, develops schedules for official and unofficial visits, assists in creating social media plans to communicate with potential student-athletes, and monitors the academic progress of prospects.

Before joining the Orange, Mulbah was the director of high school relations for head coach Dave Clawson at Wake Forest for two seasons. In addition to working with Clawson at Wake, Mulbah was a member of Clawson's Bowling Green staff for three years. Mulbah was an academic coordinator and offensive quality control coach for the Falcons from 2010-11 and served as the program's assistant director of football operations in 2013.

In between, Mulbah spent the 2012 season as the player personnel scouting assistant for the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars. His duties included assisting in the evaluation of current players and working closely with general manager Gene Smith to evaluate potential free agents.

Mulbah graduated from Fordham University in 2010 with a degree in business administration. He was a starter for the Rams at linebacker from 2006-07 before his playing career was cut short by injury.

SETH REEDY

Recruiting Assistant/Graphic Design

Seth Reedy was appointed Syracuse's recruiting assistant in charge of graphic design in November 2016. Reedy supports the program's recruiting efforts by producing promotional pieces, including mailers, social media graphics and additional content.

Before arriving in Central New York, Reedy served as the director of recruiting communication for Southern Miss. He was responsible for developing all the graphic design content for social media, recruiting and facilities. He created more than 200 personalized recruiting graphics each week for the Golden Eagles and assisted the team's director of player personnel with the coordination of official and unofficial visits.

From 2014-16, Reedy held a similar position at Appalachian State. In addition to his social media and design duties for the Mountaineers, he managed Appalachian State's student volunteer program, supervising a team of 25 members.

Reedy began his professional career as an operations assistant for the Arena Football League's Jacksonville Sharks during the spring of 2014. He graduated from the University of North Florida the same year with a bachelor's degree in sport management.

BRAD WITTKE

Director of Operations

Brad Wittke was named Syracuse's director of football operations in January of 2016 after serving in the same capacity for head coach Dino Babers at Bowling Green in 2015.

Wittke is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Orange program, including budget management, travel, meals and the team calendar. He has a role in most non-coaching decisions and serves as director for the Dino Babers Summer Football Camp Series.

Wittke's stint at Bowling Green marked a return to the college ranks after three seasons in the front office of the Arena Football League's Pittsburgh Power. Before joining the Power, Wittke gained collegiate team operations experience at both Eastern Illinois and Arizona State.

While at Arizona State, Wittke served as an operations assistant with the men's basketball program. His responsibilities included film exchange, high school relations, recruiting travel and other duties as assigned.

At Eastern Illinois, Wittke was a graduate assistant for New Student Programs. Late in his time there, he became a football scouting assistant where he aided in film analysis of future opponents and self-scouting. Wittke also worked as an intern for PlayNextLevel.com while in Charleston.

Wittke began his tenure in the Arena Football League as an operations assistant with the Power shortly after the conclusion of the 2011 season. He assisted on all projects related to football operations, game-day experience and player personnel. He also coordinated travel and player accommodations.

The following year, Wittke was promoted to director of player personnel. He oversaw all decisions related to the recruitment and signing of players from July 2012 through the 2014 season. In that position, Wittke expanded the organization's scouting and recruitment initiatives and retooled a roster that improved by 11 wins from 2013 to 2014.

A 2009 Arizona State graduate with a degree in management, Wittke also holds a master's degree in sport administration from Eastern Illinois.

Wittke's father, Roy, is the Orange football program's director of player development.

ROY WITTKE

Director of Player Development

A fixture in college football for more than three decades, Roy Wittke was named the program's director of player development in January 2016.

Prior to joining the Orange, Wittke served as Bowling Green's recruiting coordinator (2015) and was the team's director of operations (2014) for head coach Dino Babers.

Before making the transition from coach to administrator, Wittke spent 33 years on the sidelines. He coached 19 seasons at Eastern Illinois, 17 of which were spent as the offensive coordinator in two different stints for head coach Bob Spoo.

As the architect of the Panthers offense from 1990-2002, EIU posted 82 wins and made five FCS playoff appearances. Wittke is best known for developing former Dallas Cowboys Pro Bowl quarterback Tony Romo during that period. Under Wittke's direction, Romo was named the Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year each season from 2000-02 and captured the 2002 Walter Payton Award. Wittke was honored as the AFCA Division I-AA Assistant Coach of the Year in Romo's senior season of 2002, as the Panthers ranked fourth in the nation in scoring (35.3 ppg) and fifth in total offense (452.6 ypg).

Wittke coached 14 players who earned offensive All-America honors and numerous all-conference selections in both the Ohio Valley Conference and Gateway Football Conference in his first stint at EIU. In addition, three of his offensive units ranked among the top five in EIU single-season history for both total offense and scoring.

After the 2002 season, Wittke worked as the offensive coordinator at Arkansas from 2003-05 and spent one season each at both Arizona State (2006) and Northern Illinois (2007). In 2003, he helped the Razorbacks to the Independence Bowl and he coached in the 2006 Hawaii Bowl with Arizona State.

Wittke returned to Eastern Illinois as offensive coordinator in 2008. His second go-round with the Panthers included tutoring another NFL quarterback – Jimmy Garoppolo. A second-round pick of the New England Patriots in 2014, Garoppolo earned Ohio Valley Conference Newcomer of the Year honors in 2010 despite only eight starts. He continued his develop under Wittke in 2011 and, like Romo, eventually went on to win the Walter Payton Award as the top FCS player as a senior in 2014.

After the 2011 season, Wittke made the move to administration, serving as EIU's director of operations under Babers from 2012-13.

In addition to his stops at Eastern Illinois, Arkansas and Northern Illinois, Wittke's coaching résumé also includes stints at his alma mater, Wisconsin-Eau Claire (1979-81), as well as Montana State (1982-84) and Central Missouri State (1985-89).

Wittke is a 1982 graduate of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. He and his wife, Patty, have three children – sons Brad and Jeff, and daughter Bekah. Brad Wittke is Syracuse's director of football operations.

KRAMER COOK

Quality Control (Recruiting)

Kramer Cook joined the Orange staff as a recruiting quality control assistant in November 2016. Cook assists Director of Recruiting Operations Asil Mulbah in helping attract the best possible talent to Syracuse University.

Cook previously served as the football recruiting and technology analyst at Coastal Carolina. He was elevated to that position in July 2016 after working as the Chanticleers' senior recruiting and technology intern for a year. In those roles, Cook coordinated the program's on-campus recruiting efforts, managed official visits for prospective student-athletes and gave tours to recruits and their families. Additionally, he implemented a comprehensive training program for incoming freshmen to aid in their development as student-athletes. He also oversaw the social media content for the Chanticleers' Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and Snapchat accounts.

Prior to his time at Coastal Carolina, Cook was a graduate assistant coach at Robert Morris University in Chicago. From 2013-14, he worked with the team's defensive line and kickers. Cook also assisted in the development of rush schemes and game plans for the Eagles, who boasted the top-rated rushing defense in the NAIA in 2014 (75.8 ypg). He organized the scout team offense each week and served as the team's head of recruitment for all junior-college prospects.

Cook graduated from Wisconsin-Eau Claire in 2012 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and minor in coaching. In addition, he holds two graduate degrees from Robert Morris, one in sport administration and the other in business administration.

TRENTON GREENE

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

A team captain and two-time All-MAC selection at linebacker for Bowling Green, Trenton Greene is in his first season as a defensive graduate assistant for the Orange.

Greene played three seasons for the Falcons and totaled 248 career tackles, including 127 in 2015 to help BGSU capture the Mid-American Conference title in its second year under head coach Dino Babers. The following season, Greene paced the Falcons with 111 stops and ranked fourth in the MAC in tackles per game (9.3).

A 2016 nominee for the Burlsworth Trophy, awarded to the best player in college football who began his career as a walk-on, Greene earned his undergraduate degree from BGSU in December 2016. He is pursuing a master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation from Syracuse.

ADAM GRISTICK

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

A starting linebacker and member of two Ohio Valley Conference championship teams for Dino Babers at Eastern Illinois, Adam Gristick is in his second season with the Orange. He joined staff in 2016 as a defensive quality control coach and will serve as a defensive graduate assistant in 2017.

Gristick played four seasons for Eastern Illinois (2011-14) and recorded 191 career tackles, including 20 for a loss, and three interceptions.

A team captain as a senior, Gristick was a three-year starter for the Panthers. As a sophomore in 2012, he made 42 tackles to help the Panthers to the Ohio Valley Conference title and an FCS playoff appearance in their first year under Babers.

The following season, Gristick's production increased. He notched 64 tackles, including 10 in a season-opening win against FBS foe San Diego State. The victory over the Aztecs served as a springboard for the Panthers, who in Babers' second season with the school, went 12-2, captured a second straight OVC championship and reached the FCS quarterfinals.

In 2015, Gristick got his coaching start as a defensive quality control coach at Missouri State. His duties for the Bears included analyzing the passing tendencies of opponents in addition to other film work.

Gristick earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from Eastern Illinois in 2015.

JEFF LePAK

Quality Control (Special Teams)

A star tight end for Orange head coach Dino Babers at Eastern Illinois, Jeff LePak joined the Syracuse staff in February 2016 as the team's operations and recruiting assistant. He transitioned to his current role as SU's special teams quality control coach in November 2016.

As the Orange's operations and recruiting assistant, LePak helped manage team logistics, including assisting in organizing the daily schedules of student-athletes, coaches, and staff. In addition, LePak assisted in the day-to-day operation of the program and performed various administrative duties.

Previously, LePak served as a graduate assistant for Babers in 2015 at Bowling Green. He worked with the team's tight ends and was part of a staff that led the Falcons to the 2015 Mid-American Conference title and a berth in the GoDaddy Bowl.

A Belton, Texas native, LePak was a wide receiver at Baylor from 2010-12 before transferring to play tight end for Babers at Eastern Illinois. LePak caught 81 passes for more than 1,000 yards and nine touchdowns in two seasons with the Panthers, including 51 receptions and eight touchdowns in 2013. A team captain as a senior, LePak was a two-time All-Ohio Valley Conference First Team selection and earned All-America honors in 2013 after helping the Panthers reach the FCS quarterfinals.

LePak graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology from Eastern Illinois in 2014.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS & QUALITY CONTROL

MACKY MacPHERSON

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Four-year Syracuse football letterwinner Macky MacPherson returned to his alma mater in August 2016 and is in his second season as a graduate assistant coach for offense.

A three-year starter at center, MacPherson played for the Orange from 2010-13 and helped SU to three bowl wins in his four seasons. He blocked for a pair of 1,000-yard rushers (Antwon Bailey - 2011, Jerome Smith - 2012) during his career and earned All-ACC Second Team honors as a senior captain in 2013.

MacPherson signed with the Buffalo Bills as a free agent and spent the 2014 preseason with the franchise before being released during the final round of cuts.

After his playing career ended, MacPherson worked as a merchandiser for PepsiCo before landing his first coaching job in 2015 as a graduate assistant at Louisiana Tech.

During MacPherson's one year with the Bulldogs, they went 9-4 and defeated Arkansas State in the New Orleans Bowl. Louisiana Tech averaged 37.5 points per game and running back Kenneth Dixon recorded 26 touchdowns to finish second in NCAA history in career touchdowns scored (87).

MacPherson is the grandson of former Syracuse head coach and 2009 National Football Foundation (NFF) Hall of Fame inductee Dick MacPherson, who coached the Orange from 1981-90. Macky's younger brother, Cameron, also played at Syracuse.

A two-time BIG EAST All-Academic Team selection, MacPherson was inducted into the NFF Hampshire Honor Society in 2014 and graduated in seven semesters from Syracuse with a bachelor's degree in geography. He is currently pursuing a master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation from his alma mater.

LANEAR SAMPSON

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

A four-year starter at wide receiver for Baylor from 2009-12, Lanear Sampson is in his second year as a graduate assistant for the Orange. Sampson works on the offensive side of the ball and played three years for Dino Babers when Babers was Baylor's wide receivers coach.

A member of the senior class that turned around the Baylor program, Sampson helped the Bears reach three consecutive bowl games for the first time in school history. Baylor appeared in the 2010 Texas Bowl and recorded back-to-back wins against Washington in the 2011 Alamo Bowl and UCLA in the 2012 Holiday Bowl with Sampson on the roster.

Sampson finished his career fifth on Baylor's all-time receptions list (165) and 10th in career receiving yardage (1,905). He caught a pass in 43 straight games from 2010-12 and earned All-Big 12 Honorable Mention honors as a senior. Sampson had 52 receptions for 646 yards and six touchdowns in his final campaign to earn a spot in the 2013 Texas vs. The Nation All-Star Game.

Following his college career, Sampson spent time in the NFL with the Indianapolis Colts, Dallas Cowboys and Pittsburgh Steelers. In 2015, he signed with the Ottawa Redblacks of the Canadian Football League.

A two-time Academic All-Big 12 selection, Sampson graduated from Baylor in 2012 with a bachelor's degree in speech communication. He is enrolled in Syracuse's School of Education and is pursuing a master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation.

STEVE SCHRUM

Quality Control (Recruiting)

Steve Schrum joined the Orange staff as a recruiting quality control assistant in October 2016. Schrum assists Director of Recruiting Operations Asil Mulbah in helping attract the best possible talent to Syracuse.

Schrum came to Syracuse from Akron where he served as the Zips assistant recruiting coordinator for the majority of the 2016 football season. Schrum managed Akron's recruiting database, oversaw unofficial visit operations, screened high school prospects and completed expense reports, travel itineraries and compliance forms.

Prior to working at Akron, Schrum was the recruiting assistant at Northwestern from March 2015 to August 2016. His duties included screening prospects from the Northeast, parts of the Midwest, and helping to administer the walk-on program. Before that, Schrum served as the assistant recruiting coordinator at Towson from August 2014 to March 2015.

In 2014, Schrum worked alongside Orange tight ends coach Reno Ferri, who was a Towson assistant coach and the program's recruiting coordinator at the time. Schrum and Ferri were responsible for landing the No. 1 recruiting class in the Colonial Athletic Association that year, according to 247Sports.com. In addition, Schrum facilitated gameday recruiting operations for the Tigers, oversaw student recruiting interns and planned official visits.

Schrum got his start in player personnel and recruiting by working as a personnel intern for the Baltimore Ravens for three summers (2010, 2012, 2014). He created scouting depth charts, managed the NFL roster board for GM Ozzie Newsome and assisted with football analytics.

While attending the University of Florida, Schrum interned for the Gators and was the assistant to wide receivers coach Joker Phillips from 2012-14. Among his responsibilities were managing Phillips' Twitter account and creating scouting reports on the defenses of UF's opponents.

Schrum earned his bachelor's degree in U.S. history and political science from Florida in 2014.

BART TANSKI

Quality Control (Defense)

Bart Tanski is in his third season with the Orange and his first as the team's defensive quality control coach. He spent the previous two years as a graduate assistant.

Prior to joining the Orange, Tanski worked two seasons at Findlay where he coached the team's wide receivers (2014), outside linebackers (2014) and defensive backs (2013). He also served as Findlay's assistant special teams coordinator in 2013.

Named Ohio's Mr. Football in 2007, Tanski was a walk-on at Bowling Green. He played quarterback and wide receiver for the Falcons, eventually earning a scholarship and serving as team co-captain in 2012.

Tanski holds a bachelor's degree in engineering technology from Bowling Green. He also has two master's degrees, one in business administration from Findlay, and the other in instructional design, development and evaluation from Syracuse.

FOOTBALL OFFICE STAFF

KATIE BERARDI

Administrative Assistant for Dino Babers

Katie Berardi became the administrative assistant for head coach Dino Babers in August 2016. She is the primary liaison between Babers and Syracuse University staff, faculty, administration, the business community and the general public.

Prior to her current appointment, Berardi worked as the football program's office coordinator from 2007-16. She managed the daily operations of the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex and provided administrative support to assistant coaches, the director of player development, the assistant athletics director for athletic performance and the director of football operations. Berardi also served as a liaison with NFL scouting departments and the NCAA Eligibility Clearinghouse.

Berardi is a Syracuse University alumna. She received her bachelor's degree from the school in 2006.

Katie and her husband, John, reside in Jamesville with their son, Giovanni.

LAURENE PORILLO

Administrative Specialist for Recruiting

As the administrative specialist for football recruiting, Laurene Porillo supports the coaching staff in its efforts to attract the best possible talent to Syracuse. She helps maintain the recruiting database and assists in the coordination of official and unofficial visits. Porillo also serves as the liaison with incoming student-athletes and their families during the admissions process.

Porillo, who joined the football staff in 2003, received her associate's degree from SUNY Canton. Prior to joining the football office, Porillo held various administrative positions in the legal, business and real estate fields.

She and her husband, Nick, reside in Liverpool. They have two children, Matthew and Meghan.

SARA SCHIAVONE

Office Coordinator

Sara Schiavone joined the football administrative staff in September 2016 as office coordinator. In that role, she manages the daily operations of the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex and provides administrative support to the assistant coaches and director of player development.

Schiavone joined the Syracuse Department of Athletics in 2012. She served as a tutor, instructional assistant and front-desk assistant for Student-Athlete Support Services prior to her current appointment.

Schiavone is a South Carolina alumna. She earned her bachelor's degree in 2010 and her Master of Public Health degree in 2012.

AUSTIN BEEHNER

Director of Video Operations

Austin Beehner returned to the Syracuse football staff as the director of video operations in March 2013. He previously served as a video operations intern for the Orange during the spring of 2012 while completing his undergraduate degree in sport management at SUNY Cortland.

As the director of video operations, Beehner is responsible for managing the internal video network, preparing game and practice film for coaches and student-athletes, supervising interns, and managing a staff of student camera operators.

Prior to returning to Syracuse, Beehner was the football video operations assistant at Ohio State from June 2012 through the the end of the football season. He recorded, imported and edited game and practice film, managed the video department student assistants, and provided technical support for coaches and student-athletes. He also helped produce opponent breakdowns and self-scouting films for the Buckeyes.

In his first stint at Syracuse, Beehner was responsible for gathering and editing game and practice film. He also produced individual highlight films for student-athletes and the 2012 senior banquet video.

BRITNEY CLARKE

Academic Coordinator

Britney Clarke joined Syracuse's Student-Athlete Academic Development staff as an academic coordinator in 2015. She monitors and tracks the initial and continuing eligibility of football student-athletes and also works with the Orange women's tennis team.

Clarke's duties are to assist in all aspects of academic support, including arranging tutors, academic monitoring and reporting, advising and orientations. She is also responsible for keeping coaches informed of student-athletes' academic progress, the APR and eligibility concerns. In addition, Clarke works with other Student-Athlete Academic Development staff members to implement life-skills programming.

Prior to coming to Syracuse, Clarke was an academic counselor at Arizona from 2013-15. While with the Wildcats, she worked with the women's track & field and gymnastics teams, ensuring those 100-125 student-athletes met NCAA eligibility requirements.

Before being promoted to full-time, Clarke completed an internship from May to July 2013 in the Arizona Academic Services Department. In that role, she developed a campus-level transitions course for freshmen student-athletes. The course focused on identifying their transferrable skills and expanding upon their identities as athletes.

Clarke began her academic counseling career as a graduate assistant at Stephen F. Austin from July 2012 to May 2013.

A 2012 graduate of the University of Miami, Clarke was a multi-event athlete for the Hurricanes track & field team for four seasons. She competed in both the pentathlon and heptathlon, finishing eighth in the pentathlon at the ACC Indoor Track & Field Championships as a senior.

Clarke received her bachelor's degree in exercise physiology from Miami. She earned her master's degree in higher education from Arizona in 2015.

SHAWN EMMONS

Assistant Video Coordinator

Shawn Emmons is in his third year as the Orange's assistant video coordinator. He previously served as a video operations intern for the team in 2013 and 2014.

Emmons is responsible for managing the football program's video network. He imports and categorizes self-scouting and opponent scouting footage for the coaching staff. He also supervises a team of interns who film practices and games, and assists in the creation of team recruiting and highlight videos.

Prior to his full-time appointment, Emmons was responsible for providing sideline and end-zone practice and game film. He also cataloged and edited opponent film.

Emmons completed his bachelor's degree in sport management at SUNY Fredonia in 2013. He also holds an associate's degree from Tompkins Cortland Community College.

KYLE FETTERLY

Head Equipment Manager

Kyle Fetterly has been the head equipment manager at Syracuse since 1983. He is responsible for all athletics equipment purchasing and reconditioning, uniform design, maintenance and inventory control.

Fetterly previously worked as the Orange's assistant equipment manager and as a student equipment manager. He is certified by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA) and has been involved with the organization since entering the field. He serves on various boards, including Nike, Schutt, Bike, Brine and Champion in an effort to enhance the protective equipment for all sports. He also is a frequent speaker at national and regional AEMA workshops. Fetterly has staffed 14 bowl games for the football team.

Fetterly, who lives in Liverpool, earned his bachelor's degree in retail management from Syracuse in May 2009.

JOE FIELDS

Director of Academics/Student-Athlete Development

A standout football player and 2008 Syracuse graduate, Joe Fields became a member of the athletics department in January 2010 as an academic graduate assistant. He was promoted to academic coordinator in July 2011 and has since been elevated to director of academics for student-athlete development.

Fields returned to his alma mater after playing professional football with the Carolina Panthers in 2008. He was the only undrafted free agent to remain with the team for the season.

Fields served as the director of the Syracuse Youth Impact Program in July 2011, developing a curriculum for sixth-, seventh- and eighth-grade boys from the Syracuse City School District. The program included classroom work in math, language and writing each morning followed by life-skills sessions, a football chalk talk and a full-contact practice.

A four-year SU football letterwinner, Fields enrolled as an undergraduate at Syracuse in January 2004 and played quarterback and free safety for the Orange. He was selected to play in the 2008 Hula Bowl and received ECAC All-Star and All-BIG EAST Second Team honors as a senior.

Fields earned his bachelor's degree from Syracuse in physical education. He also holds a master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation from SU.

Joe and his wife, Sade, have a son, Joe Jr.

BRANDON HALL

Assistant Athletic Trainer

A graduate assistant athletic trainer for the Orange from 2013-15, Brandon Hall rejoined the Syracuse sports medicine staff in October 2016. He assists with the daily healthcare management of football student-athletes and supervises the football graduate assistant athletic trainers.

During his time as a graduate assistant for the Orange, Hall aided in the daily operations of the training room and care of Syracuse's football, men's lacrosse and field hockey student-athletes.

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire with a bachelor's degree in athletic training, Hall also holds a master's degree in exercise science from Syracuse. His first full-time athletic training position was as an assistant at William & Mary during the 2015-16 academic year, covering baseball, men and women's track & field, and cross country.

Hall has volunteered his services at the Boston Marathon and the Sentara Hospital Half Marathon during his career. He is certified in first aid, CPR, AED, SASTM and is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA).

MIKE MORRISON

Assistant Director/Athletic Communications

Mike Morrison rejoined the Syracuse Athletic Communications staff in August 2005 and became the primary media contact for the Orange football program in 2015.

During his time at Syracuse, Morrison has also worked with the Orange men's lacrosse, men's soccer, women's basketball and softball teams. In 2011, he was part of the media relations staff that was recognized by the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) with "Super 11" status for excellence in sports information.

Prior to his full-time appointment, Morrison worked in the SU office as a student assistant and intern from 2002-04. During the 2004-05 academic year, he was the assistant sports information director at George Washington University.

A graduate of Ithaca College, Morrison received a bachelor's degree in sports information and communication from the school in 2002. He earned his master's degree in public relations from Syracuse University in 2003.

Morrison's publications work has been recognized by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). His 2008 Syracuse men's soccer media guide was voted eighth nationally. In addition, Morrison served on the group's membership services committee for five years.

Morrison has worked several NCAA championship events during his tenure, including the 2002, 2010 and 2015 NCAA Men's Basketball East Regionals held at the Carrier Dome, and the 2008, 2009 and 2013 NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championships. During his years on the lacrosse circuit, Morrison assisted the NCAA in updating and maintaining the men's lacrosse statistics manual.

Morrison resides in Liverpool with his wife, Cheri, and their sons, Kellan and Sean.

TIM PIKE

Head Athletic Trainer for Football

Tim Pike was named head athletic trainer for the Syracuse football program in 2017. He manages all phases of athletic training for the Orange, including treatment of injuries, rehabilitation and game coverage.

Pike has 10 seasons of college football experience and most recently served as the head athletic trainer at Marshall from 2014-2016. At Marshall, Pike oversaw a sports medicine staff of nine full-time employees. His primary sport assignment was football where he coordinated all athletic training aspects for the Thundering Herd.

Prior to his stint at Marshall, Pike spent seven seasons as the head athletic trainer for football at Eastern Kentucky. In addition to working with the Colonels' football team, Pike supervised EKU's athletic training graduate assistants and managed secondary insurance needs for all student-athletes.

Pike got his start in athletic training as a student athletic trainer at Kentucky, covering men's soccer, baseball and assisting with football, from 1998-2001. He also served as a graduate assistant at North Carolina from 2001-03.

Outside of collegiate athletics, Pike's experience includes providing athletic training services and working as a clinical supervisor. He lent his expertise to area high schools, St. Catharine College and the Lexington Horsemen indoor football team in Kentucky.

A noted speaker, Pike has presented on numerous topics at athletic training conventions and symposiums during his career. He also holds several professional certifications and memberships.

Pike earned his undergraduate degree in exercise science from Kentucky in 2001. He received his master's degree in exercise and sport science with an emphasis on athletic training from North Carolina in 2003.

Pike and his wife, Kelli, have two sons – Kaleb and Kamden.

JIM SCHLENSKER

Head Equipment Manager for Football

Jim Schlensker joined the Orange equipment staff in 1994 and was promoted to head equipment manager for football in January 2011.

His primary responsibilities include gameday preparations for all equipment and locker room facilities at both home and away contests, and office duties. In addition, Schlensker is responsible for football equipment purchasing and reconditioning, uniform design, maintenance and inventory control. He also maintains the equipment room computer system. Schlensker has staffed nine bowl games for the Orange.

Schlensker came to Syracuse from Northwestern. The Fort Wayne, Ind., native is a 1990 graduate of St. Joseph's College and is certified by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA).

SALATHA WILLIS

Academic Coordinator

Salatha Willis has more than a decade of experience in higher education and serves as one of the two primary academic coordinators for the Orange football team.

A former student-athlete himself, Willis was a member of the Western Michigan basketball team for three seasons, lettering for the Broncos in 1995 and 1996. He graduated from WMU with a bachelor's degree in computer science in 1999.

The following year, Willis stayed in Kalamazoo to begin his career in higher education. He started out as a residence hall director, then rose up the ranks, ultimately serving as Western Michigan's student orientation coordinator and assistant director of admissions.

In 2007, Willis was hired as the director of first-year programs and university testing at Indiana State, a position he held until being named vice president of enrollment management and student affairs at Martin University (Ind.) in 2011.

Willis transitioned to collegiate athletics in 2012, serving as an academic counselor and compliance assistant at Colgate for a year prior to joining the Orange in 2013.

In addition to his undergraduate degree, Willis holds a master's degree in educational leadership from Western Michigan. He earned his doctorate in educational leadership from Indiana State in 2013.

Willis and his wife, Sheila, live in DeWitt with their two children.

Linebacker Zaire Franklin (left) is one of 10 returning starters for the Orange on defense. His streak of 27 consecutive starts is the longest on the team. Ervin Philips (right) shifted to inside receiver last season and started all 12 games. He set a Syracuse junior record with 90 receptions in 2016 and enters 2017 with 134 career catches, second-most among active ACC players.

GAME SUMMARIES

Game 1 • Syracuse 33, Colgate 7

September 2 • Carrier Dome • Syracuse, N.Y. • Att: 31,336

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – The Orange (1-0) started the Coach Dino Babers era with a bang, racking up 554 yards of offense in a 33-7 dismantling of Colgate (0-1) on Sept. 2 at the Carrier Dome.

Quarterback Eric Dungey threw for a career-high 355 yards to help the Orange post the second-highest team passing total (437 yards) in school history. Dungey completed his first 13 passes and was 34-for-40 throwing the football. His 85 percent completion rate was the best mark ever for an Orange quarterback who attempted at least 21 passes.

Personal-best efforts also came from Dungey's top two receivers. Ervin Philips tied Art Monk's single-game record for receptions, catching 14 passes for 87 yards and a score. Amba Etta-Tawo pulled in 10 passes for 210 yards and a touchdown in his Syracuse debut. It marked the first time in school history two players recorded double-digit receptions in the same game.

The Orange, starting the first offensive series of Babers' tenure on their own 21-yard line, moved 79 yards in six plays while taking just 1:45 off the clock. Dungey connected with Etta-Tawo on a 43-yard bomb, and with Cole Murphy's extra point, the Orange had seven on the board.

The quick strike erased the advantage Colgate had taken after a drive-extending Syracuse penalty on the game's first series. The miscue eventually led to a 19-yard touchdown toss from Raiders quarterback Jake Melville to receiver Owen Rockett.

The frenetic pace wasn't a one-drive wonder. The second time Syracuse got the ball, it churned out 72 yards on 18 plays and capped the drive with a 32-yard field goal from Murphy to take the lead, 10-7.

Series three was the fastest of the fast. In one play lasting 11 seconds, freshman running back Moe Neal covered 49 yards on his first collegiate carry for a touchdown. Murphy's kick upped the advantage to 17-7. Murphy added a 41-yard field goal with 2:47 left in the second quarter and the Orange went into the break ahead, 20-7.

Murphy stayed busy in the third quarter, adding field goals from 32 and 33 yards to push the margin to 26-7. At the same time, the SU defense stepped up and limited Colgate to 12 yards on 10 plays in the quarter. Colgate didn't earn its initial first down of the second half until there was 7:32 left in the contest.

Having already established career-high passing totals by the end of the third stanza, Dungey added to them early in the fourth. He found Philips on a 4-yard scoring toss with 12:26 to play. With the reception, Philips matched Monk's 39-year-old record. Murphy's point after closed the scoring, producing the 33-7 final.

When it was all said and done, Syracuse had outgained Colgate 554-143 and extended its series winning streak against the Raiders to 16 in a row.

Kielan Whitner led the defensive effort with six total tackles. The Orange got two quarterback sacks from Chris Slayton and one from Jonathan Thomas. After Syracuse allowed the game's first touchdown, it held the Raiders to 68 total yards over the final 54 minutes.

Game 2 • Louisville 62, Syracuse 28

September 9 • Carrier Dome • Syracuse, N.Y. • Att: 32,184

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – In a game that featured a combined 174 plays and 1,259 yards of offense, No. 13 Louisville topped Syracuse 62-28 on Sept. 9 at the Carrier Dome in the Atlantic Coast Conference opener for both teams.

The Cardinals (2-0, 1-0 ACC) racked up 845 total yards, including an ACC-record 610 by quarterback Lamar Jackson. Jackson finished the contest with 21 carries for 199 yards and four touchdowns, and 20 completions on 39 pass attempts for 411 yards and a touchdown. He became the second player in FBS history to throw for 400 yards and rush for 150 yards in the same game.

Signal caller Eric Dungey was responsible for all four Orange touchdowns. He was 25-of-51 passing for 255 yards and a career-high three scores. He also ran 16 times for 19 yards and a touchdown.

Jackson was responsible for all five first-half Louisville scores, including three in the game's opening five minutes. He hooked up with James Quick on a 72-yard scoring strike on the first play from scrimmage and tallied rushing touchdowns of 7, 72, 13 and nine yards.

Dungey connected with Brisly Estime on a 15-yard TD in the first quarter, and threw scoring passes of 47 yards and four yards to Amba Etta-Tawo with less than three minutes to go in the second frame, to make the score 35-21 Cardinals at the half.

The two teams traded touchdowns in the third quarter and Louisville's lead remained 14 points, 42-28, heading into the final stanza.

In the fourth quarter, the Cardinals put the game away, scoring 20 points on two Evan O'Hara field goals and touchdown runs of 48 yards by Brandon Radcliff and 30 yards by Jeremy Smith.

Etta-Tawo finished with eight catches for 103 yards and two touchdowns for the Orange. It was his second consecutive 100-yard receiving effort. Ervin Philips added six receptions for 52 yards, while Steve Ishmael registered 65 yards on four catches. Kielan Whitner led the Syracuse defense with eight tackles and a fumble recovery.

In addition to Jackson's work on the ground, Radcliff ran 10 times for 156 yards and a touchdown. Keith Kelsey had nine tackles, including 1.5 for a loss, and a forced fumble for the Cardinals.

The victory was Louisville's third in a row against the Orange (1-1, 0-1 ACC). The Cardinals improved to 9-6 all-time in the series.

GAME SUMMARIES

Game 3 • USF 45, Syracuse 20

September 17 • Carrier Dome • Syracuse, N.Y. • Att: 32,288

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – The Orange (1-2) scored the game's first 17 points, but couldn't hold off USF and its strong rushing attack in a 45-20 loss at the Carrier Dome on Sept. 17.

Two rushing touchdowns each by USF running back Marlon Mack and wide receiver Rodney Adams proved to be the difference in the contest. Overall, USF (3-0) ran for 239 yards on 35 carries (6.7 avg.) and outscored Syracuse 45-3 over the last three quarters.

SU ran a school-record 105 plays from scrimmage (55 rushing, 50 passing) to post its second game with at least 500 yards of total offense under head coach Dino Babers. The play count eclipsed the previous Orange record of 100 snaps set against Virginia Tech in 2002, and tied the ACC record established by Maryland in 1992 versus North Carolina State.

Syracuse scored the first three times it had the ball. After receiving the opening kickoff, the Orange drove 79 yards in 16 plays, a march finished off by Eric Dungey's 24-yard touchdown pass to Ervin Philips.

On SU's next possession, Dungey hooked up with Brisly Estime on a 47-yard touchdown pass. The score was set up by a 30-yard completion to Amba Etta-Tawo on the previous play. Kicker Cole Murphy added a 40-yard field goal with 30 seconds left in the first period to give the Orange a 17-0 advantage at the end of the quarter.

The Bulls responded with two scores in the first six minutes of the second quarter and led 28-17 at the half. Adams did most of the damage, scoring on a 27-yard reception from Quinton Flowers, and adding touchdown runs of nine and 19 yards. Mack recorded USF's other first-half score on a 2-yard touchdown plunge.

In the third quarter, the teams traded scoreless drives until Syracuse broke through. Murphy converted a 49-yard field goal, just one yard shy of his career best, to narrow the deficit to 28-20.

The Bulls answered Murphy's second field goal of the game decisively. Facing a fourth-and-1 from their own 48, the Bulls put the ball in Mack's hands and he ran 52 yards to paydirt with 55 seconds left in the third quarter to push the lead to 35-20.

After Syracuse's next possession stalled, USF used its special teams to put the game away on the first play of the four quarter. Sterling Hofrichter's punt traveled 52 yards, but D'Ernest Johnson ran it back it 83 yards up the middle for a touchdown. The Bulls tacked on a 42-yard field goal by Emilio Nadelman with 8:55 remaining to close the scoring.

Dungey was 32-of-48 passing for 350 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. It was Dungey's second 300-yard passing effort of the season and the eighth time he's thrown at least two touchdowns. Philips had 10 receptions for the second time in three games. He finished with 10 catches for a career-best 95 yards and a touchdown. Etta-Tawo recorded his third straight 100-yard receiving game with eight receptions for 123 yards.

Game 4 • Syracuse 31, Connecticut 24

September 24 • Rentschler Field • East Hartford, Conn. • Att: 31,899

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. – A game that opened with typical Syracuse offensive fireworks was ultimately secured by the Orange defense as SU snapped its eight-game road losing streak with a 31-24 victory against Connecticut Saturday, Sept. 24 at Rentschler Field.

Eric Dungey and Amba Etta-Tawo teamed up on two long touchdown passes in the first 4:12 of the game, and Cordell Hudson returned an interception 22 yards for a score near the end of the third quarter. The Orange (2-2) also got a key defensive stop on fourth-and-goal from the 2-yard line to hold off the Huskies (2-2).

Etta-Tawo finished with a school-record 270 yards receiving on 12 receptions, including touchdown catches of 57 and 30 yards. He broke the previous single-game mark of 249 yards set by Scott Schwedes against Boston College in 1985. In addition, Etta-Tawo joined NC State's Torry Holt (1998) and Florida State's Craphonso Thorpe (2003) as the only receivers in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference with two 200-yard receiving games in the same season.

SU opened the scoring when Dungey connected with Etta-Tawo on a 57-yard touchdown less than a minute into the game. On SU's next possession, the two hooked up again, this time on a 30-yard scoring play. By the end of the second series, Dungey was 5-of-6 for 118 yards – all to Etta-Tawo – and Cole Murphy's two PATs had SU in front, 14-0.

UConn responded with a pair of touchdown runs in the second quarter. Ron Johnson scored first, on a 2-yard plunge, and Arkeel Newsome ran into the end zone from six yards out with 34 seconds left in the half. A 47-yard field goal by Murphy on the final play of the second quarter gave SU a 17-14 advantage at the break.

In the third quarter, UConn's Bobby Puyol tied the score on a 27-yard field goal with 5:11 remaining in the period. Then Hudson made his first interception of the season, snaring a tipped pass and returning it for the score with 49 seconds left in the quarter. Murphy's point after pushed the margin to 24-17.

UConn had an opportunity to tie the game in the fourth quarter after picking up 17 yards on a successful fake field goal on fourth-and-3 from the SU 25. Three straight running plays moved the ball down to the 2-yard line, but on fourth-and-goal Bryant Shirreffs was stuffed by Zaire Franklin and the Huskies turned the ball over on downs.

The defensive stand allowed Dungey and Etta-Tawo to go to work again. In the shadow of their own goal line, the Orange converted a third-and-7 when Dungey connected with Etta-Tawo on a 59-yard pass and catch. Dungey ultimately finished off the series with a 6-yard touchdown run to complete a 99-yard drive that put SU ahead, 31-17.

A 24-yard touchdown pass from Shirreffs to Tyler Davis with 33 seconds left narrowed the gap to 31-24, but the Huskies' ensuing onside kick was recovered by Brisly Estime and Syracuse ran out the clock for its first road win of the series.

Dungey completed 26-of-40 passes for a career-high 407 yards and two touchdowns. It was the sixth 400-yard passing performance in school history and first since 2012.

GAME SUMMARIES

Game 5 • Notre Dame 50, Syracuse 33

October 1 • MetLife Stadium • East Rutherford, N.J. • Att: 62,794

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. – Behind a strong second-half effort, Notre Dame (2-3) handed Syracuse (2-3) a 50-33 defeat on Saturday, Oct. 1 in the 2016 New York's College Classic at MetLife Stadium. Orange quarterback Eric Dungey was responsible for all five SU touchdowns, throwing for two and rushing for a career-high three scores.

SU was within six points of Irish at halftime, but was outscored 17-6 in the final 30 minutes. Notre Dame quarterback DeShone Kizer led the way for Fighting Irish, passing for 471 yards and three touchdowns. He also ran for a score.

Dungey equaled Ryan Nassib's Orange record by throwing for 300 yards for the third consecutive contest. Dungey was 31-for-51 passing for 363 yards. His five total touchdowns against the Irish were one shy of the team single-game record (6) set by Jim Brown against Colgate in 1956.

Redshirt senior Amba Etta-Tawo continued his torrid start to the season, catching seven passes for 134 yards and a touchdown. The Powder Springs, Ga. native became the first player in school history with five consecutive 100-yard receiving games.

The two teams combined for 36 points in the game's first five minutes with Notre Dame opening up a 23-13 advantage. Kizer connected with Equanimeous St. Brown for a pair of long touchdowns, including a 79-yard strike on the game's first play. The Irish also returned a blocked PAT for two points and got a 93-yard kickoff return for a touchdown from C.J. Sanders in the early going.

Not to be outdone, Dungey capped Syracuse's first offensive series with a 3-yard touchdown run and threw a 72-yard TD pass to Etta-Tawo on the Orange's next possession.

In the second quarter, a 1-yard Dungey touchdown plunge and Cole Murphy's point after closed the gap to 23-20 at the 13:22 mark. Notre Dame answered with a 3-yard touchdown run by Kizer and a 31-yard field goal by Justin Yoon to push the lead to 33-20.

The back-and-forth continued as the Orange stole the momentum back late in the half. A 74-yard punt return by Brisly Estime set up a Dungey-to-Ervin Philips 14-yard touchdown with 30 seconds left that trimmed the margin to 33-27.

In the second half, the Orange couldn't muster the same success they had before the break. SU punted on its first four possessions of the third quarter and turned the ball over on downs on its fifth series. The Irish took advantage, scoring 20 straight points, including two more long touchdowns.

Linebacker Parris Bennett led the Orange defense. He notched double-digit tackles for the second game in a row, finishing with a career-best 17 stops. Bennett's tackle total was the most for an SU defender in more than a decade.

Game 6 • Wake Forest 28, Syracuse 9

October 8 • BB&T Field • Winston-Salem, N.C. • Att: 25,162

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. – Wake Forest (5-1, 2-1 ACC) ended Syracuse's four-game series winning streak with a 28-9 victory over the Orange (2-4, 0-2 ACC) at a soggy BB&T Field Saturday, Oct. 8. The remnants of Hurricane Matthew resulted in a steady downpour for most of the game and prevented either team from finding an offensive rhythm.

The Orange were held to a season-low 326 yards of total offense on 66 plays. Quarterback Eric Dungey was 16-of-25 passing for 156 yards and one interception. Steve Ishmael led all Syracuse receivers with five receptions for 56 yards. Dontae Strickland paced the SU ground attack with 74 yards on 13 carries and a touchdown. Strickland scored the lone Orange touchdown in the second quarter on a 1-yard run.

For the third straight game, linebacker Parris Bennett was consistently around the football. The Detroit, Mich. native led the SU defense with 12 tackles, including 1.5 for a loss, to post his third consecutive double-digit tackle game. Syracuse forced two Wake Forest turnovers (1 INT, 1 fumble recovery), but was unable to turn them into points.

The defense got Syracuse on the scoreboard first, recording a safety on Wake's first possession of the game. An errant snap sent the ball over punter Dom Maggio's head and into the end zone. A scramble ensued and the Deacons were able to recover to prevent the touchdown, but SU came away with two early points less than four minutes into the game.

Following the safety, the teams exchanged scoreless drives until Wake quarterback John Wolford capped a nine-play, 79-yard march with a 7-yard touchdown run at the 11:07 mark of the second quarter. Mike Weaver's extra-point gave the hosts a 7-2 advantage.

Later in the stanza, linebacker Zaire Franklin sacked Wolford on third down for a loss of six yards, forcing another Maggio punt. The Orange took over at their own 41-yard line with 8:08 left in the half. Behind a ground attack that churned out 48 of the 59 yards during the series, SU regained the lead when Strickland punched it in from a yard out. Cole Murphy added the PAT to make the score 9-7 Orange with 4:46 remaining before halftime.

On the ensuing Wake Forest possession, Wolford answered Strickland's score with his second touchdown run of the night. A pass interference penalty against Jonathan Thomas moved the ball into Orange territory. Wolford kept it on the next play and ran 37 yards to paydirt. Weaver's extra point extended the Wake Forest lead to 14-9.

Syracuse had an opportunity to take the lead or at the very least cut into the deficit late in the half, but Dungey's pass to Ishmael was intercepted in the end zone by Amari Henderson with one second left and the score remained 14-9 Deacons at the break.

Neither team could get much going after the intermission as the two sides combined for nine punts and one interception on the first 10 possessions of the second half.

It wasn't until late in the fourth quarter that the Deacons tallied a pair of touchdowns to put the game out of reach. Cade Carney scored on a 3-yard run with 3:59 to go in regulation. On the ensuing possession, Syracuse drove to the Wake Forest 27-yard line before Cameron Glenn recovered a fumble by Jordan Fredericks and returned it 83 yards for a score with 1:30 to play.

Wake Forest recorded five sacks in the game and also forced two Orange turnovers. Marquel Lee paced the Deacons with 15 tackles, including 5.5 for a loss, and two sacks.

Game 7 • Syracuse 31, Virginia Tech 17

October 15 • Carrier Dome • Syracuse, N.Y. • Att: 33,838

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – Syracuse (3-4, 1-2 ACC) broke open a 17-17 contest with back-to-back touchdowns in the fourth quarter and finished with a 31-17 victory against No. 17 Virginia Tech (4-2, 2-1 ACC) in the Carrier Dome on Saturday, Oct. 15. The triumph marked the Orange's first win over a ranked team since 2012 and raised SU's record to 8-2 all-time in home games against the Hokies.

Eric Dungey led the charge, completing 28-of-53 passes for 311 yards and a touchdown. He also established career rushing bests with 24 carries for 106 yards and a score. Dungey's 417 yards of total offense were also a personal high, and he became the first player in school history to throw for 300 yards and run for 100 yards in the same game.

The Orange defense held a Hokie offensive unit that came into the game averaging 39.4 points per game to a season-low 17 points, including just three in the first half.

When Virginia Tech tied the game at 17-all, the Orange didn't blink. Dungey engineered a 17-play, 75-yard drive that he capped with a 1-yard touchdown run to give SU a 24-17 advantage with 7:56 left.

On SU's next series, a 16-yard Dontae Strickland touchdown jaunt and Cole Murphy's fourth extra point put the hosts up 31-17 with 5:23 remaining.

Virginia Tech had one last chance to get back in the game, but Chris Slayton stripped quarterback Jerod Evans and De'Jon Wilson recovered at the Hokies' 47-yard line with 4:08 remaining. The Orange picked up three first downs and Dungey took a knee on the final play to seal the victory as Syracuse fans streamed onto the field in celebration.

Heavy underdogs, SU kept the trend of getting off on the right foot by scoring first for the fourth time in five games. Dungey hooked up with Ervin Philips on a 58-yard touchdown pass on the fourth play of the game. After a 36-yard field goal by Virginia Tech's Joey Slye, Strickland took a pitch and lofted an 84-yard touchdown pass to Brisly Estime to put SU in front 14-3 early in the second quarter.

The Orange added to their lead just before halftime, as Cole Murphy hit a career-long, 51-yard field goal with four seconds left in the second quarter.

The Hokies rallied in the second half, taking the opening possession of the third quarter and marching 83 yards to the end zone. Evans capped the drive with a 12-yard TD pass to Isaiah Ford. SU's Kendall Coleman blocked the extra point and the score remained 17-9.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Hokies pulled to within 17-15 on a 10-yard scoring pass from Evans to Bucky Hodges. Virginia Tech went for two with Evans finding Chris Cunningham for the conversion to tie the game, setting the stage for SU's strong finish.

Philips recorded 11 catches for a career-high 139 yards, while Estime had eight receptions for a personal-best 131 yards.

In addition to being SU's first win against a top-25 team in four years, the victory also marked the first time the Orange defeated a Coastal Division opponent since joining the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2013.

Game 8 • Syracuse 28, Boston College 20

October 22 • Alumni Stadium • Chestnut Hill, Mass. • Att: 34,647

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. – Quarterback Eric Dungey threw for three touchdowns and SU overcame two long Boston College scoring plays to emerge with a 28-20 victory Saturday, Oct. 22 at Alumni Stadium. The victory snapped the Orange's eight-game ACC road losing streak and raised their record to 3-1 against the Eagles since joining the conference in 2013.

Dungey finished the afternoon 32-of-38 for a career-high 434 yards, the second-best, single-game passing total in the Syracuse annals. He adeptly spread the ball around as four Orange players had at least 78 yards receiving. Amba Etta-Tawo led the SU receiving corps with 10 catches for 144 yards, including a 68-yard touchdown.

In addition to his monster passing numbers, Dungey also led SU on the ground with 54 yards on 17 carries to finish the game with a personal-best 488 yards of total offense.

SU (4-4, 2-2 ACC) racked up 532 total yards against the nation's sixth-ranked defense, including 434 through the air versus a BC secondary that entered the game fifth in the FBS against the pass. On the flip side, the Orange pass defense was stellar all afternoon, holding BC (3-4, 0-4 ACC) to season lows for completions (7) and passing yards (64).

Despite SU dominating the statistics, it was Boston College that got on the board first. Dungey was intercepted on the first series of the game by William Harris, who returned the pick 62 yards to set up a Mike Knoll 30-yard field goal.

The Orange answered with back-to-back touchdowns by Ervin Philips. He capped a 10-play, 75-yard drive by taking a pitch from Dungey and running into the end zone from the 3-yard line to put the Orange up, 7-3. In the second quarter, Philips helped finish off a nine-play, 80-yard march with a 10-yard touchdown reception from Dungey. Cole Murphy's second extra point gave Syracuse a 14-3 margin.

On the ensuing kickoff, Myles Willis scampered 89 yards into the end zone to close the gap to 14-10. The score remained that way until late in the third quarter when Steve Ishmael made his first touchdown catch of the season with 15 seconds left in the stanza.

After Ishamael's score, BC once again struck quickly. Patrick Towles went 75 yards on a quarterback keeper to trim the SU margin to 21-17 on the last play of the third quarter.

Another Knoll field goal, this one from 39 yards out at the 10:02 mark, drew the Eagles to within one, 21-20.

Less than a minute later, the Orange struck the decisive blow when Dungey lofted a pass up to Etta-Tawo that he pulled in one-handed and took 68 yards to paydirt.

The Eagles threatened once more after a Dungey fumble gave Boston College the ball at the SU 43-yard line with 4:28 to go. The Eagles advanced to the SU 14, but the Orange defense rose up and forced BC to give the ball up on downs with 1:50 left. SU picked up a first down on the ensuing series and Dungey kneeled down twice to end the game.

Ishmael hauled in a personal-best eight passes for 108 yards. He, Etta-Tawo and Philips were all on the receiving end of Dungey touchdown throws. Parris Bennett had a squad-best 11 tackles and intercepted Towles in the third quarter to end a potential BC scoring drive. Zaire Franklin and Corey Winfield made seven tackles each. Winfield also broke up a pass.

GAME SUMMARIES

Game 9 • Clemson 54, Syracuse 0

November 5 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, S.C. • Att: 80,609

CLEMSON, S.C. – No. 3 Clemson (9-0, 6-0 ACC) demonstrated its firepower on both sides of the ball, ending Syracuse's two-game winning streak with a 54-0 shutout of the Orange (4-5, 2-3 ACC) before a crowd of 80,609 at Memorial Stadium on Saturday, Nov. 5. The Tigers rolled up 565 yards of offense and got two touchdown passes from two different quarterbacks to stay unbeaten.

Orange receiver Amba Etta-Tawo continued his spectacular 2016 season against the Tigers, etching his name atop Syracuse's two most notable single-season receiving lists. Etta-Tawo finished the evening with nine catches for 84 yards to raise his season totals to 75 receptions for 1,158 yards, both school records. He eclipsed the two previous marks in the third quarter, passing Pro Football Hall of Famer Marvin Harrison's standard of 1,131 receiving yards on a 17-yard pass from Austin Wilson on SU's first second-half series. He then broke Alec Lemon's record of 72 catches with a 5-yard grab late in the quarter.

Etta-Tawo's performance was one of the bright spots against a Clemson team that scored touchdowns on four consecutive possessions in the first half and entered the intermission with a commanding 30-0 lead. The Tigers produced touchdown drives of 95, 85 and 86 yards in the half, the three longest scoring drives of their season to date.

Clemson got on the scoreboard on its first possession on the game with a 22-yard field goal from Greg Huegel. Star quarterback Deshaun Watson scored on a 1-yard run in the first quarter and threw TD passes of 65 yards to Deon Cain and 14 yards to Mike Williams in the second quarter to extend the lead to 16-0 (Clemson missed the PAT after Cain's touchdown).

After Watson left the game with a shoulder injury in the second quarter, Nick Schuessler replaced him teamed with Artavis Scott for a 5-yard TD to round out the first-half scoring.

In the third quarter, Wayne Gallman capped Clemson's first drive of the second half with a 5-yard touchdown run that extended the margin to 37-0.

SU's best chance to score came later in the third. A 49-yard run by Moe Neal put the ball in Tiger territory, and SU advanced to the Clemson 14-yard line before settling for a Cole Murphy field-goal try. Murphy missed from 30 yards out with 4:31 remaining in the stanza.

On the ensuing possession, the hosts embarked on a 10-play, 80-yard scoring march capped by Cain's second touchdown reception, this time an 18-yarder from Schuessler. Huegel added a 46-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter and Clemson's defense closed out the scoring when safety Tanner Muse picked off a deflected pass and returned it 64 yards for a touchdown with 7:40 to go.

The Orange played most of the game without starting quarterback Eric Dungey, who left the game late in the first quarter with an injury. He was replaced by Wilson, who finished the game 17-of-27 for 116 yards, all career-best totals. He also threw two interceptions.

SU had three defenders post double-digit tackles. Linebackers Parris Bennett (16), Zaire Franklin (14) and safety Daivon Ellison (13) combined for 43 of the Orange's 94 stops.

Game 10 • NC State 35, Syracuse 20

November 12 • Carrier Dome • Syracuse, N.Y. • Att: 34,842

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – NC State running back Matthew Dayes ran for three touchdowns and the Wolfpack (5-5, 2-4 ACC) emerged from the Carrier Dome with a 35-20 triumph against Syracuse (4-6, 2-4 ACC) on Saturday, Nov. 12.

The Wolfpack outgained the Orange 546-218, ran 29 more plays, had a 23-minute advantage in time of possession, and converted 10-of-18 third downs to secure the win.

Backup quarterback Zack Mahoney, who started in place of the injured Eric Dungey, was 14-of-25 passing for a career-high 190 yards with one touchdown and one interception for Syracuse. Amba Etta-Tawo added to his record-breaking receiving totals by making four receptions for 88 yards, including an 81-yard touchdown. Etta-Tawo boosted his season numbers to 79 catches for 1,246 yards in 2016.

On SU's opening possession, Mahoney stepped into the huddle for his first meaningful snaps of the season and led the Orange to paydirt. He hit on 5-of-6 throws in the 12-play, 61-yard drive that was capped by a 10-yard touchdown run by Dontae Strickland.

The Orange still led 10-7 until a 3-yard touchdown run by Jaylen Samuels in the second quarter, and a 68-yard touchdown pass from Ryan Finley to Kelvin Harmon early in the third, vaulted the Wolfpack to a 21-10 advantage.

Facing its largest deficit of the afternoon, Syracuse responded with a big play of its own. Mahoney threw deep and hit Etta-Tawo in stride. Etta-Tawo outraced two Wolfpack defensive backs to the end zone for his longest touchdown reception of the year. Cole Murphy's extra point pulled SU within four, 21-17.

A 39-yard field goal by Murphy on the heels of a blocked NC State punt by Sean Riley closed the gap to 21-20 with 10:29 to go in the third. However, Murphy's field goal proved to be SU's last points of the game as NC State pulled away on a pair of touchdown runs by Dayes. The Wolfpack senior finished off the game's longest drive, a 14-play, 86-yard march, which featured four third-down conversions, with a 20-yard scoring run near the end of the third quarter. Then he added some insurance on a 13-yard TD scamper with 4:50 to play.

A few, poorly-timed penalties hurt the Orange cause. In addition to a pass interference call that kept an NC State scoring drive alive in the first half, Syracuse had a 34-yard, Mahoney-to-Alvin Cornelius touchdown pass called back because of an illegal block in the fourth quarter. Had the score stood, the Orange would have had an opportunity to go for two and tie the game at 28-all.

Four defenders tallied double-digit tackles for the Orange. Linebackers Zaire Franklin (11) and Parris Bennett (11), and defensive backs Rodney Williams (10) and Daivon Ellison (10) led the Syracuse defensive effort. Bennett's 11 stops raised his season tackle total to 100. He's first Orange defender to reach the century mark since Derrell Smith (114) in 2010.

GAME SUMMARIES

Game 11 • Florida State 45, Syracuse 14

November 19 • Carrier Dome • Syracuse, N.Y. • Att: 32,340

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – Florida State's Dalvin Cook rushed for 225 yards and four touchdowns to lead the 17th-ranked Seminoles (8-3, 5-3 ACC) past Syracuse (4-7, 2-5 ACC) on Senior Day at the Carrier Dome, 45-14. In the process, Cook passed Warrick Dunn to become FSU's career leader in rushing yards with 4,166.

The Seminoles scored touchdowns on their first two possessions and never led by fewer than 14 points after the first quarter.

FSU quarterback Deondre Francois finished 18-of-28 passing for 315 yards, two touchdowns and one interception.

Zack Mahoney started the game at quarterback for the Orange in place of the injured Eric Dungey and was 16-of-36 for 196 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions.

Ervin Philips was the Orange's top receiver with seven receptions for 63 yards and a touchdown. Brisly Estime added six catches for 46 yards in his final home game, while Amba Etta-Tawo had two grabs for 58 yards, including a 46-yard touchdown reception.

Francois set the tone for the Seminoles by throwing touchdown passes of 16 and 15 yards, respectively, to put FSU ahead 14-0 with 7:11 left in the first quarter. The Seminoles' lead swelled to 21-0 on a 25-yard touchdown run by Cook with 6:35 to go in the half.

Syracuse eventually got on the board on the last play of the first half. With three seconds to go, Mahoney lofted a 46-yard Hail Mary that Etta-Tawo came down with in the end zone to close the gap to 21-7 at the break.

Cook added touchdown runs of 11 and 17 yards in the third quarter before Syracuse took advantage of Shyheim Cullen's recovery of a muffed punt by FSU's Nyqwan Murray. The Orange took over at the FSU 22-yard line following the turnover, and Mahoney completed a 17-yard touchdown pass to Philips to make the score 35-14 with 4:27 remaining in the third.

Less than three minutes later, Cook scored his fourth touchdown of the game on an 8-yard scamper. Ricky Aguayo kicked a 42-yard field goal for the only points of the fourth quarter to produce the final score.

The Orange defense forced a season-high four turnovers, including three fumble recoveries. Cornerback Christopher Fredrick had a hand in three of the takeaways. Fredrick forced a pair of fumbles (one of which he recovered himself) and made the first interception of his career in the second quarter. He also tallied a career-high six tackles.

FSU sacked Mahoney eight times, including a team-high 2.5 sacks by rookie Brian Burns. Josh Sweat paced the Seminoles with eight tackles, including 2.5 for a loss, and 1.5 sacks.

Game 12 • Pittsburgh 76, Syracuse 61

November 26 • Heinz Field • Pittsburgh, Pa. • Att: 34,049

PITTSBURGH – In the highest-scoring game in FBS history, Pittsburgh held off Syracuse 76-61 in a wild shootout Saturday, Nov. 26 at Heinz Field. The two rivals combined for 137 points, including an FBS-record 20 touchdowns, and more than 1,300 yards of total offense.

SU (4-8, 2-6 ACC) ran an ACC-record 106 plays and gained 668 yards of offense, the second-highest, single-game total in school history and the most yards ever for an ACC team in a losing effort. The Panthers generated 644 yards on 59 plays and scored 11 touchdowns, including 10 on offense. SU tallied nine touchdowns (5 passing, 4 rushing). In addition, the two sides combined for 58 first downs, including 38 by the Orange – another team record.

Orange quarterback Zack Mahoney accounted for a school-record seven scores, including tying Ryan Nassib's SU record with five touchdown passes. Mahoney was 43-for-61 through the air for 440 yards. All three numbers were career highs and ranked second in the Orange's single-game record book. Mahoney added 49 yards rushing on 13 carries to finish with 489 yards offense, the second-best, one-game total in the SU annals.

All five of Mahoney's scoring passes went to redshirt senior Amba Etta-Tawo, who caught 13 passes for 178 yards in his last game in a Syracuse uniform. Etta-Tawo's five TD receptions matched Torry Holt's ACC record and surpassed the previous SU standard of four shared by Tony Gabriel and Tommy Kane.

The Panthers (8-4, 5-3 ACC) gained control of the game in the second quarter, outscoring SU 21-7 to take a 35-21 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Pitt stretched its margin to 28 (49-21) on a 20-yard interception return for a touchdown by Dane Jackson and a 66-yard TD run by Quadree Henderson. The Orange tallied three of the next four touchdowns to close the gap to 56-41 less than four minutes into the fourth quarter, but that's as close as Syracuse would get. The teams traded touchdowns for the rest of the game, with Etta-Tawo scoring three times on passes from Mahoney in the final 7:21.

Henderson (103 yards, 1 TD) and James Conner (115 yards, 2 TDs) led a potent Pitt attack that racked up 393 yards and six touchdowns on the ground.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL 2017

127 YEARS OF SYRACUSE FOOTBALL

Coached by Bobby Winston, the 1890 Syracuse football team was the first Orange outfit to play a full season. The squad posted a 7-4 record.

1889
On Nov. 23, Syracuse traveled to Rochester for its first intercollegiate football game. Wearing pink and blue uniforms, SU lost 36-0 to finish the year 0-1.

1890
Orange was adopted as the school color and Syracuse's athletic teams are henceforth known as "Orange" or "Orangemen." Bobby Winston became the program's first head coach. SU defeated the Syracuse Athletic Association 14-0 in the season opener for its first football victory en route to a 7-4 record.

1891
Stephen Crane, author of the Civil War classic "Red Badge of Courage," was a member of an SU squad that went 4-7.

1892
The only season in SU football history with no wins when at least two games were played. The Orange went 0-8-1 under coach Jordan C. Wells.

1893
Without an official coach, the Orange finished the season with a 4-9-1 record. SU posted triumphs against Syracuse High School, Hamilton, Onondaga Academy and Cazenovia.

1894
In his only season as Syracuse's head coach, George H. Bond led the Orange to a 6-5 record.

1895
The Orange secured their first real home field as SU went from playing in parks throughout the city of Syracuse to playing at The Oval, which was a space located behind the Hall of Languages. The Orange recorded their first victory against rival Colgate, winning by the score of 4-0.

1896
The Orange played their first opponent from outside New York state, losing to Williams College, 24-6.

1897
The Colgate "Hoodoo" was born when a newspaper reporter sympathetic to the Raiders' cause tackled an SU player who was on his way to scoring the winning touchdown. The game ended in a 6-6 tie.

1898
The Orange posted an 8-2-1 record, outscoring their opponents 192-69 under the direction of head coach Frank E. Wade.

1899
SU finished 4-4 in the final season of head coach Frank E. Wade's three-year tenure.

1900
Edwin Sweetland, a Cornell grad, was hired as head football coach and to start the crew program. He guided the Orange to a 7-2-1 record, including six shutouts. Sweetland later coached against SU as the head coach at Colgate.

1901
Success builds for the program as the Orange closed the season with a 7-1 record. The lone loss came against Lafayette, 5-0.

1902
A 23-0 shutout of rival Colgate was an important win for the Orange as they cruised to a 6-2-1 season. Other big victories were against the Onondaga Indians, Amherst and Williams.

1903
The program gained momentum as its budget increased to $5,500. Jason B. Parish and Ancil D. Brown served as co-coaches and led the Orange to a 5-4 record.

1904
In Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' first season as head coach, SU finished 6-3. In a victory against Manhattan, the Orange put 144 points on the board, a team record that still stands.

1905
The Orange recorded six shutouts and finished the season with an overall record of 8-3 in Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' second and final year at the helm.

1906
Head coach Frank J. (Buck) O'Neill was hired. He piloted the Orange to a 6-3 record in the team's final season playing at The Oval. On Nov. 17, the Orange handed Lafayette its only loss of the year, 12-4.

1907
The Orange opened Archbold Stadium, a 20,000-seat venue, with a 28-0 victory against Hobart. The stadium provided the Orange with one of the finest facilities of its time. Once called "the Eighth Wonder of the World," Archbold was just the third concrete stadium built in the United States. A 22-0 win against Hamilton on Oct. 26 was the program's 100th win. Marquis (Bill) Horr became the program's first All-American when he was named to Walter Camp's All-America Second Team.

Howard H. Jones was hired as head coach. The Orange posted a 6-3-1 record and along the way played their first Western Conference (now Big Ten) opponent, beating Michigan 28-4. Bill Horr is the first Syracuse player to be named a first-team All-American when he is recognized by Walter Camp for the second year in a row.

1909
SU went 4-5-1 during the first of two seasons for head coach T.A. Dwight Jones.

1910
In its 22nd season of intercollegiate football, SU finished 5-4-1. T.A. Dwight Jones completed his two-year tenure as head coach with a 9-9-2 overall mark.

1911
First-year head coach C. DeForest Cummings led the Orange to a 5-3-2 season, including a 6-0 shutout of Ohio State and a 12-11 upset of Pop Warner's Carlisle team that featured the legendary Jim Thorpe. End A. Harry Kallett earned Walter Camp Third Team All-America honors.

1912
After opening the season with a 12-0 victory against in-state rival Hobart, SU finished with a 4-5 record in C. DeForest Cummings' last season as head coach. Rudy Probst made Walter Camp's All-America Second Team.

1913
Buck O'Neill, who led the program to a winning season in 1907, returned to coach the Orange. He guided SU to six wins, its best total since 1908.

1914
The Orange opened the year 2-0 and posted a 5-3-2 overall record. Among the victories was an 81-0 rout of Hamilton, the third-largest margin of victory in program history.

1915
SU's first powerhouse team finished 9-1-2, recording seven shutouts and outscoring the opposition, 331-16. SU was invited to the Rose Bowl to play Washington, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the program's travel budget. Guards Christopher Schlacter and Harold White were both named All-Americans.

1916
In his only season, head coach William Hollenback led SU to a 5-4 record. The Orange scored more than 50 points in three of their five victories, including a 73-0 shutout of Ohio University.

1917
All-America tackle Alfred Cobb captained the Orange gridders to an 8-1-1 record. Syracuse closed the year with six consecutive wins.

1918
The Orange were 5-1 with four shutouts in Buck O'Neill's penultimate season as head coach. Joe Alexander earned the first of his three consecutive first-team All-America awards. Louis Usher, Joe Schwarzer and Willard Ackley also received All-America recognition.

1919
All-American Joe Alexander and the Orange finished 8-3 in the last year of Buck O'Neill's tenure as head coach. O'Neill was the sideline leader for a total of eight seasons (1906-07, 1913-15, 1917-19).

1920
Team captain Joe Alexander received All-America honors for the third straight year. He and first-year head coach John Meehan guided the Orange to a 6-2-1 record. Alexander was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954. Tackle Bertrand Gulick also earned All-America recognition.

1921
SU records its ninth straight winning season by going 7-2. Gifford Zimmerman was the first player in team history to wear the fabled No. 44. The number remained in circulation until the 2005 season, when it was retired.

1922
Third-year coach John Meehan led the Orange to a 6-1-2 record. The team's only loss was a 21-14 decision to Pittsburgh. The season saw the beginning of the Penn State series, which started with a scoreless tie in a game played at the Polo Grounds in New York City. Roy Simmons Sr. was the squad's quarterback, marking the start of a relationship between the Simmons family and Syracuse University Athletics that continues today. After his playing career concluded in 1924, Simmons coached the Orange lacrosse and boxing squads, as well as served as an assistant football coach. Roy Simmons Jr. was SU's men's lacrosse coach from 1971 through 1998, taking the reins of the program from his father when he retired in 1970. Roy Simmons III is the men's lacrosse team's current director of operations. Future College Football Hall of Fame coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf earned second-team All-America honors at tackle.

1923
All-America end Evander (Pete) MacRae was part of an Orange defense that allowed only 19 points and posted seven shutouts. Syracuse went 8-1 with its only loss a 16-7 defeat against rival Colgate.

1924
The Orange won eight games (8-2-1 overall) for the second consecutive year and defeated Boston College for the 200th victory in program history on Oct. 18. Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf was named an All-American for the third time.

1925
Clarence Thomas became the first quarterback to wear the storied No. 44. He led the team to an 8-1-1 record in C.W.P. Reynolds' first year as head coach. The defense posted a school-record six consectutive shutouts. Vic Hanson was an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1926
Behind Vic Hanson, the Orange outscored their opponents 225-59 on their way to a 7-2-1 record. Hanson earned All-America honors again and captained the basketball team during the winter months. Hanson is the only athlete enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

1927
In his first year as head coach, Lew Andreas led SU to four straight wins to start the season and a 5-3-2 overall record.

1928
After a 3-0 start, the Orange finished the year with a 4-4-1 record. The team scored a season-high 58 points in a win against Johns Hopkins on Oct. 13.

1929
Lew Andreas, who was SU's basketball coach from 1924 through 1950, completed his three-year stint as the football coach by guiding the Orange to a 6-3 record. SU played the first night game in the East, beating Hobart, 77-0.

1930
Vic Hanson returned to Syracuse to coach the Orange after playing briefly in the New York Yankees farm system, highlighting his multi-faceted athletic ability. The Orange went 5-2-2 in Hanson's first year and end George Ellert was named an All-American.

1931
SU outscored its foes 238-56 en route to a 7-1-1 season that featured seven straight wins to start the year.

1932
A 4-4-1 season included the program's 250th victory, a 27-6 win against Oglethorpe on Nov. 5.

1933
After a 3-0 start that included dominant wins against Clarkson and Ohio Wesleyan, SU closed the year with a 4-4 record under fourth-year head coach Vic Hanson.

1934
All-America tackle James Steen led the Orange to a 6-2 record. Syracuse's six victories included back-to-back shutouts of Penn State and Michigan State.

1935
The Orange won six games for the second year in a row and finished the season 6-1-1. Senior guard Ed Jontos became Syracuse's first pro football draft pick when he was selected 45th overall by the New York Giants in the 1936 draft.

1936
The Orange defeated Clarkson to start the season, but lost their final seven games. Vic Hanson concluded his Syracuse coaching tenure with a seven-year record of 33-21-5.

1937
Ossie Solem succeeded Vic Hanson as head coach and led the team to a 5-2-1 record. After starting 3-0, Syracuse made its first appearance in the Associated Press college football poll, debuting at No. 17 on Oct. 18 after defeating Cornell.

1938
Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, one of the first African-American quarterbacks to play college football, led SU to a stunning 19-17 comeback win against Cornell and a 5-3 overall record. Among Sidat-Singh's teammates were Olympic sprinter and legendary announcer Marty Glickman and the great Michigan State coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty. Sidat-Singh was also a star for the Orange on the hardwood. His basketball jersey was retired in February 2005.

1939
Syracuse went 3-3-2 and won its last two games. The defense set a team record, holding opponents to a 33.3 percent pass completion rate.

1940
The Orange beat NYU 47-13 on Oct. 12. The game was played at Yankee Stadium in the Bronx in front of 8,000 people. The victory was part of a 3-4-1 campaign for fourth-year coach Ossie Solem.

1941
The Orange posted a 5-2-1 record and returned to the the national rankings, checking in at No. 18 in the AP poll after a 27-20 triumph at Wisconsin. The Syracuse special teams unit set the school record for most punt return yards (662).

1942
Winning the first five games of the season, the Orange were ranked as high as 15th in the AP poll and went on to finish with a 6-3 record.

1943
Syracuse University suspended intercollegiate sports due to World War II.

1944
The Orange concluded the year with a 2-4-1 record, including playing a game against Boston College at historic Fenway Park in Boston.

Legendary running back Jim Brown was voted the program's first unanimous All-American as a senior in 1956.

Ossie Solem ended his eight-year SU coaching stint, guiding the Orange to a 1-6 record. He finished with a 30-27-6 overall coaching mark.

1946
Future College Football Hall of Fame coach Clarence L. "Biggie" Munn served as Orange head coach and went 4-5 in his only year at the helm. Munn later coached at Michigan State. The Orange program enjoyed its 300th win, a 28-7 victory against Temple.

1947
Reaves Baysinger became head coach and promptly changed the Orange's uniform from a blue jersey with orange numbers to white to go along with khaki moleskin pants. He led SU to a 3-6 record.

1948
In the second and final year for head coach Reaves Baysinger, the Orange posted a 1-8 record. The team's only win was a 13-9 season-opening victory against Niagara.

1949
Ben Schwartzwalder was hired as head coach following five consecutive losing seasons. Schwartwalder won four games in his first year, including a 35-7 triumph over rival Colgate.

1950
A 5-5 season featured a four-game winning streak in the middle of the year. Avatus Stone set the school record (since tied) by intercepting three passes in a 27-7 win versus Penn State.

1951
Syracuse enjoyed its first winning season since 1942, posting a 5-4 record. The SU defense forced a school-record nine turnovers against Lafayette. Off the field, Howard Jones and Buck O'Neill were the first individuals associated with the program to be inducted into the College Football Hall Fame.

1952
Tackles Robert Fleck and William Skyinskus earned All-America honors, leading Syracuse to a 7-2 record and its first bowl appearance. SU lost to Alabama 61-6 in the Orange Bowl. Future Pro Football Hall of Fame center Jim Ringo concluded his three-year Orange career.

1953
Robert Fleck moved to guard and earned his second consecutive All-America award as the Orange finished 5-3-1 during head coach Ben Schwartzwalder's fifth season at the helm.

1954
A halfback from Long Island, well down the preseason depth chart, was issued jersey No. 44. His name was Jim Brown. SU finished 4-4 and won three of its last four games.

1955
The Syracuse defense shined, allowing 35 completions on 95 pass attempts – still records for the fewest season completions and attempts by opponents in team history. Jim Brown earned All-America honors in his second season and the Orange finished with a 5-3 record. They were ranked as high as No. 18 in the AP poll.

1956
With a bowl bid on the line in the regular-season finale versus Colgate, Jim Brown scored a then NCAA-record 43 points in SU's 61-7 victory. The Orange finished the regular season with a 7-1 record, earning an invitation to the Cotton Bowl, where it lost to TCU 28-27. Brown broke the SU single-season rushing record with 986 yards and became the first unanimous All-American in school history. He went on to a Hall of Fame career with the NFL's Cleveland Browns after he was the sixth overall selection by the Browns in the 1957 NFL Draft. In 1995, Brown was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

1957
All-America end Dick Lasse led Syracuse to a 5-3-1 record. The Orange recorded the 350th win in program history with a 26-9 victory against Nebraska.

1958
Tackle Ronald Luciano, a future Major League Baseball umpire, earned All-America honors, leading the Orange to an 8-2 record. The SU defense recorded four shutouts and allowed just 59 points during the year. SU lost to No. 5 Oklahoma 21-6 in the Orange Bowl.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Undefeated, untied, and national champions, the Orange capped an 11-0 season with their first bowl win, a 23-14 victory against Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse enjoyed its finest year on the gridiron, pulverizing foes both offensively and defensively. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 games (19.3 ypg). On offense, the Orange averaged 451 yards a game. The team featured three All-Americans, including guard Roger Davis, who was the seventh overall selection by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft.

1960

Ernie Davis earned the first of his two first-team All-America citations playing halfback for the 7-2 Orange. SU spent two weeks ranked No. 1 in the UPI poll and won their first five games to extend their school-record winning streak to 16 games before a home loss to Pittsburgh. The Philadelphia Eagles selected fullback Art Baker with the 14th overall pick in the 1961 NFL Draft.

Ben Schwartzwalder (right) retired as head coach after the 1973 season. He guided the program to a 153-91-3 record and the 1959 national championship.

Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, becoming the first African American to receive college football's most prestigious award. Along the way, he broke Jim Brown's SU career rushing record and led the Orange to an 8-3 season and a Liberty Bowl win against Miami (Fla.). Davis, who was later enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame, was the top pick in both the 1962 NFL Draft and 1962 AFL Draft. He died of leukemia less than two years later.

1962

The Orange began the year 1-3, but recovered to finish 5-5. End Walt Sweeney was a first-round selection by the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the 1963 draft.

1963

The Orange won seven of their last eight contests to finish 12th in the UPI poll with an 8-2 record. John Mackey began his NFL career as a tight end for the Baltimore Colts, where he eventually played in two Super Bowls. In 1992, Mackey was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1964

Sophomore halfback Floyd Little, who was recruited to Syracuse by 1961 Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis, earned All-America honors in his first season. Center Patrick Killorin also received All-America accolades. The team went 7-4 and made an appearance in the Sugar Bowl, losing to LSU, 13-10. The program celebrated its 400th win — a 38-6 victory against Kansas on Sept. 26.

1965

All-Americans Floyd Little (halfback), Charles Brown (defensive halfback) and Patrick Killorin (center) led the Orange to a 7-3 record. SU was 19th in the final UPI poll and won five of their last six games.

1966

Halfback Floyd Little and fullback Larry Csonka, the greatest one-two running punch in Orange history, led the team to an 8-3 record and a Gator Bowl berth. Little set an SU bowl-game record with 216 yards rushing and Csonka added 114 in the 18-12 loss to Tennessee. Little, Csonka and tackle Gary Bugenhagen earned All-America honors. Little was selected by the Denver Broncos with the sixth pick in the 1967 NFL/AFL Draft.

1967

Larry Csonka earned All-America honors for the second year in a row after rushing for 1,127 yards and eight touchdowns to power Syracuse to an 8-2 record. The Miami Dolphins selected Csonka, who went on to be enshrined in both the College and Pro Football Halls of Fame, with the eighth pick in the 1968 draft.

1968

The Orange rose to No. 10 in the national polls and finished with a 6-4 record. Defensive halfback Anthony Kyasky and defensive tackle Art Thoms earned All-America honors. Thoms was the 22nd overall selection by the Oakland Raiders in the 1969 NFL/AFL Draft.

1969

The Orange were 5-5 with back-to-back shutouts of Arizona and Navy in November. Against Penn State, Greg Allen set the single-game record for most individual punt return yards with 172.

1970

Facing a boycott by a group of African-American student-athletes, Syracuse was outscored 100-29 in its first three games, but rebounded to win six of the next seven games. The "Syracuse Eight," as the group was named by the media, sat out the season calling for the equal treatment of student-athletes and a diverse coaching staff. On the field, All-America defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann led the Orange to a 6-4 record.

1971

All-America defensive back Tommy Myers intercepted an SU single-season record eight passes during a 5-5-1 campaign in which a 28-24 win against West Virginia gave the program its 450th victory.

1972

The SU streak of 22 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end. The Orange lost at West Virginia in the season finale to finish 5-6. Defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann was the 10th overall pick in the 1973 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Colts.

1973

Ben Schwartzwalder retires after a 2-9 season. Schwartzwalder led the Orange to a 153-91-3 record in 25 years as head coach. He was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1982. Guard Dave Lapham was voted an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1974

SU began Frank Maloney's seven-year coaching tenure with a 23-15 triumph against Oregon State in the season opener, but lost nine of its last 10 to close year 2-9.

1975

All-American Raymond Preston led the Orange to a 6-5 record and was invited to play in the East-West Shrine Game. Preston enjoyed a nine-year (1976-84) NFL career as a linebacker for the San Diego Chargers.

1976

After a 3-8 campaign, Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American Tim Moresco played in the last American Bowl and intercepted a pass for the victorious North squad.

1977
Syracuse posted its second winning season under Frank Maloney, going 6-5, including four consecutive victories to end the year.

1978
Joe Morris set the school freshman rushing record with 1,001 yards. It was a performance that included a then-school season record four consecutive 100-yard games. In the final game in Archbold Stadium, Morris ran for 203 yards to power the Orange to a 20-17 victory against nationally-ranked Navy. SU bid farewell to Archbold having posted a 265-112-20 record at the facility.

1979
With the razing of Archbold Stadium and the construction of the Carrier Dome, SU spent the entire season on the road, playing "home" games in the Meadowlands, Buffalo and Ithaca. Despite the obstacles, the Orange went 7-5 and defeated McNeese State in the Independence Bowl with future NFL players Joe Morris, Art Monk, Bill Hurley, Craig Wolfley, Gary Anderson and Jim Collins leading the way. Monk was the 18th overall selection in the 1980 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.

1980
Sept. 20 marked the beginning of a new era with the opening of the Carrier Dome. Joe Morris scored four touchdowns and racked up 300 all-purpose yards as the Orange christened their new home with a 36-24 win against Miami (Ohio). An all-time Syracuse record crowd of 50,564 witnessed the event. The Orange were 5-6 in Frank Maloney's last year as head coach.

1981
Down-easterner Dick MacPherson arrived on the scene, replacing Frank Maloney as head coach. MacPherson guided the Orange to a 4-6-1 mark in his first year, including consecutive wins against Boston College and West Virginia to end the season. Running back Joe Morris concluded his career as SU's all-time leading rusher. He and kicker Gary Anderson both earned All-America honors.

1982
Ben Schwartzwalder, the winningest coach in Syracuse football history, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. On the field, defensive tackle Michael Charles was named a first-team All-American for the 2-9 Orange.

1983
The Orange posted their first winning season since 1979, going 6-5 in Dick MacPherson's third year as head coach. In addition, SU hit a program milestone by winning its 500th game with a 14-7 triumph against Navy.

The 1990 Orange earned the program's fourth consecutive bowl invitation and defeated Arizona 28-0 in the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii.

1984

1985
SU began a run of seven bowl berths in eight years, earning a spot opposite Maryland in the Cherry Bowl. SU lost to the Terps 35-18 to finish the year with a 7-5 record. Defensive tackle Tim Green was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row. Green, who was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001, was the 17th overall selection in the 1986 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

1986
After an 0-4 start, the Orange won five of their final seven games to set the stage for a remarkable 1987 season.

1987
SU finished the regular season with an undefeated 11-0 record and earned a trip to the Sugar Bowl, its first New Year's Day bowl bid since 1965. Auburn's Win Lyle kicked a last-second field goal to force a 16-16 tie, the first deadlock in Sugar Bowl history. Consensus All-American Don McPherson finished second in the Heisman race, but won several other player of the year awards. Nose guard Ted Gregory was also a consensus All-American. Dick MacPherson was the consensus pick for national coach of the year and the Orange finished No. 4 in both polls.

1988
SU put together consecutive double-figure win seasons for the first time, capping a 10-2 campaign with a decisive 23-10 victory against LSU in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Defensive back Markus Paul was named a first-team All-American by four selectors (AP, FWAA, Sporting News, Football News).

1989
Syracuse football observed its 100th birthday and earned a third straight bowl invitation. This time John Biskup hit a last-minute field goal to edge Georgia 19-18 in the Peach Bowl and cap an 8-4 season. Center John Flannery and wide receiver Rob Moore earned first-team All-America recognition. Moore entered his name in the 1990 NFL Supplemental Draft and was selected first overall by the New York Jets.

1990
The Orange finished the regular season with a 6-4-2 record and garnered an invitation to the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu. SU put the finishing touches on its third straight bowl win by shutting out Arizona 28-0 behind freshman quarterback Marvin Graves. The Wildcats had not been blanked in 20 seasons (214 games), the second-longest streak in NCAA history at the time. Center John Flannery was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row.

1991
Assistant coach Paul Pasqualoni replaced Dick MacPherson as head coach when MacPherson left to coach the NFL's New England Patriots. The Orange also joined the BIG EAST Football Conference after years as an independent. Pasqualoni led the Orange to a 10-2 record, a perfect 5-0 BIG EAST mark, and a 24-17 win against Ohio State in the Hall of Fame Bowl on New Year's Day. Qadry Ismail earned first-team All-America honors as a kick returner and became the school's first two-sport All-American since Jim Brown. Ismail's second honor was for track & field.

1992
Paul Pasqualoni and the Orange again won 10 games and made their second straight New Year's Day bowl appearance, knocking off Colorado 26-22 at the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. It was the fifth straight bowl victory for Syracuse, the second-longest postseason winning streak in the country at the time behind Florida State. Tight end Chris Gedney was a unanimous All-America selection.

1993
Another year, another winning season. The Orange finished with a 6-4-1 overall mark. Breaking records was a regular occurrence during the campaign. Marvin Graves set new standards in almost every passing and total offense category, while Shelby Hill, Pat O'Neill and Kevin Mitchell also etched their names in Syracuse's record books.

1994
In keeping with the tone of the recent past, the Orange recorded an eighth straight winning season, finishing 7-4 overall. The passing combination of Kevin Mason to Marvin Harrison was prominent throughout the year, while the return of linebacker Dan Conley for a sixth season of competition after numerous knee surgeries was a story of perseverance and dedication.

1995
A young Syracuse team posted a 9-3 record and a victory over Clemson in the Gator Bowl. The emergence of Donovan McNabb and his chemistry with receiver Marvin Harrison provided thrills and records, as Harrison established himself as one of the all-time great receivers and return men at Syracuse. Harrison was the 19th overall pick in the 1996 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts. Defensively, cornerback Kevin Abrams earned first-team All-America honors.

1996
Despite an 0-2 start, the Orange won a share of the BIG EAST title once again and were among the nation's elite. An eight-game winning streak in the middle of the season earned the Orange another bowl bid. SU beat Houston in the Liberty Bowl for its seventh consecutive bowl victory, which was the nation's longest active bowl winning streak at the time. Cornerback Kevin Abrams received first-team All-America plaudits for the second year in a row.

1997
Syracuse won its first outright BIG EAST championship, clinching the crown with a 33-18 victory at Miami (Fla.). After starting the year 1-3, a 30-19 victory against Tulane ignited an eight-game winning streak. The Orange played the first overtime game in school history against NC State in the Carrier Dome. A 35-18 loss to Kansas State in the Fiesta Bowl did not detract from the fact the Orange were one of six teams to receive a Bowl Alliance bid. Safety Donovin Darius was a first-team All-America selection.

After a 34-33 loss to eventual national champion Tennessee in the season opener, the Orange defeated the previous year's national title winner, Michigan, the following week. From there, SU went 7-3 to win its second outright BIG EAST title and third conference championship in a row. The Orange earned a Bowl Championship Series berth in the first year of the BCS and lost to Florida in the Orange Bowl in Donovan McNabb's last game. McNabb was selected with the second overall pick by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft, the highest a Syracuse quarterback has ever been selected. Kick returner Kevin Johnson earned first-team All-America honors.

1999
Syracuse earned a bowl invitation for the fifth straight year and the 11th time in 13 seasons. The Orange were 7-5 in the final season of the millennium and closed the century with a 20-13 victory against Kentucky in the Music City Bowl. All-America linebacker Keith Bulluck was selected in the first round (30th overall) by the Tennessee Titans in the 2000 NFL Draft. The University recognized the program's All-Century Team at the final home game versus Temple.

2000
Syracuse ran its streak of consecutive winning seasons to 14 with a 6-5 record. Cornerback Will Allen was taken with the 22nd overall pick in the first round of the 2001 NFL Draft by the New York Giants.

2001
Syracuse continued its streak of winning seasons with its 15th in a row, posting a 10-3 record and topping Kansas State in the Insight.com Bowl for its 12th bowl victory. Unanimous All-American Dwight Freeney was selected in the first round of the 2002 NFL Draft, marking the fifth consecutive year that an SU player heard his name called in the opening round.

2002
The Orange's string of winning seasons came to an end as SU finished 4-8. The team played in two triple-overtime games, including a 50-42 win against No. 8 Virginia Tech. Quarterback Troy Nunes ended his SU career ranked in the top five on 10 different school record lists, while linebacker Clifton Smith and punter Mike Shafer also concluded fine careers. In November, former quarterback Donovan McNabb was named to SU's Board of Trustees.

2003
Running back Walter Reyes established the SU single-season records for rushing touchdowns (21) and total touchdowns (22) to lead the Orange to a 6-6 record. Receiver Johnnie Morant, defensive tackle Christian Ferrara and offensive tackle Kevin Sampson entered the fraternity of SU players selected in the NFL Draft.

2004
Running back Walter Reyes concluded his college career as the program's second all-time leading rusher with 3,424 yards. The Orange earned a bowl berth for the first time since 2001, losing to Georgia Tech in the Champs Sports Bowl 51-14 in Paul Pasqualoni's last game as head coach. Offensive tackle Adam Terry was chosen by the Baltimore Ravens in the second round of the 2005 NFL Draft.

2005
Head coach Greg Robinson, who also served as defensive coordinator, took over the program and the pass defense jumped 69 spots in the NCAA statistical rankings from the previous year (90th to 21st), while the total defense went from 101st in 2004 to 57th in 2005. Free safety Anthony Smith led a group of four seniors who were selected in the 2006 NFL Draft when he was chosen in the third round by the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

2006
Delone Carter emerged as a capable running back in his freshman season. Carter ran for 713 yards, the second-best total for a freshman in school history. Cornerback Tanard Jackson and linebacker Kelvin Smith were selected in the 2007 NFL Draft.

2007
The Orange went 2-10, but defeated nationally-ranked Louisville on the road in a 38-35 shootout. Receiver Mike Williams had a touchdown reception in nine straight games, while the kick return duo of Max Suter and Mike Holmes also had a big year. The pair keyed an Orange unit that led the BIG EAST in average yards per kick return (24.8).

127 YEARS OF SYRACUSE FOOTBALL

2008

The world premiere of "The Express," the life story of Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis, was held in downtown Syracuse prior to SU's game against Penn State. On the field, Syracuse went 3-9 in Greg Robinson's final year as head coach. The team's biggest win was a last-minute, 24-23 victory at Notre Dame. Running back Curtis Brinkley established an SU season record for consecutive 100-yard rushing games (5) and was one of four SU players to sign with an NFL team. Fullback Tony Fiammetta earned Pro Football Weekly All-America honors.

2009

Doug Marrone returned to his alma mater to serve as the program's 28th head coach. Marrone brought in Syracuse native Greg Paulus to quarterback the Orange after a stellar four-year basketball career at Duke. Paulus led the Orange to 4-8 record in his only season. Punter Rob Long and defensive tackle Arthur Jones earned All-BIG EAST First Team honors. Jones was selected in the fifth round of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens after helping the Orange rank sixth nationally in sacks and 13th in rushing defense.

2010

In his second year at the helm, head coach Doug Marrone led Syracuse back to the postseason. The Orange went 8-5 and beat Kansas State in the inaugural New Era Pinstripe Bowl. Behind linebackers Doug Hogue and Derrell Smith, the Orange ranked seventh nationally in total defense. Running back Delone Carter led the Syracuse offense, rushing for 1,233 yards in his final season, including 198 yards against Kansas State to win Pinstripe Bowl MVP honors.

2011

The Orange got off to a 5-2 start, but lost its last five games to finish 5-7. Quarterback Ryan Nassib recorded the best statistical passing season in school history to that point, establishing program records for completions (259), attempts (415), yards (2,685) and matching the record for touchdown passes (22). Defensive end Chandler Jones used a standout season to garner the attention of pro scouts. The younger brother of former SU star Arthur Jones was the first pick of the New England Patriots (21st overall) in the 2012 NFL Draft. Jones, Nick Provo, Andrew Tiller, Antwon Bailey and Justin Pugh earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors.

2012

In its final year in the BIG EAST, Syracuse won a share of the conference championship and finished 8-5 overall. The Orange captured its second Pinstripe Bowl title in three years, beating West Virginia, 38-14. Quarterback Ryan Nassib surpassed his previous team records and established new program standards for season completions (295) and attempts (415). Nassib also set new Syracuse records for passing yards (3,757) and touchdown passes (26). Receiver Alec Lemon, offensive tackle Justin Pugh and safety Shamarko Thomas earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors, while Nassib was a Pro Football Weekly All-America selection. Pugh, Nassib and Thomas were all selected in the 2013 NFL Draft.

2013

Scott Shafer replaced Doug Marrone as head coach after Marrone was hired by the Buffalo Bills. Syracuse went 7-6, including a win against Minnesota in the Texas Bowl. In ACC play, the Orange were 4-4 in their first year as a member of the conference and tied Boston College for third place in the Atlantic Division. Six members of the Orange earned All-ACC honors, including Jay Bromley and Marquis Spruill, who were both selected in the 2014 NFL Draft. Bromley was a third-round pick of the New Giants. Spruill went in the fifth round to the Atlanta Falcons.

2014

Syracuse opened the year with victories against Villanova and Central Michigan, but finished the season 3-9 overall in Scott Shafer's second year as head coach. The Orange were stout all season defensively, finishing 26th nationally in total defense. Linebacker Cameron Lynch (third team), offensive tackle Sean Hickey (third team) and punter Riley Dixon (honorable mention) received All-ACC honors.

2015

The Orange started the year 3-0 for the first time since 1991, but lost their next eight games. A 20-17 victory against Boston College in Scott Shafer's last game as head coach ended the slide and resulted in a 4-8 record. Punter Riley Dixon became the first player in school history to earn All-ACC First Team honors and was drafted in the seventh round by the Denver Broncos.

2016

Syracuse set or tied more than 40 offensive school records in Dino Babers' first season as head coach. After splitting their first eight games, the Orange lost their last four to finish the campaign 4-8. Receiver Amba Etta-Tawo authored the greatest receiving season in team history. He rewrote the SU record book, including establishing new season records for catches (94), yards (1,482), yards per game (123.5) and most 100-yard games (7). Etta-Tawo teamed with Ervin Philips (90 receptions) for 184 combined catches, an ACC record for a pair of teammates. Return man Brisly Estime led the NCAA in punt return average (17.7) and closed his career as the ACC's all-time leader in that category with a four-year average of 18 yards per return. Etta-Tawo, Philips, Estime, linebackers Zaire Franklin and Parris Bennett, and punter Sterling Hofrichter were All-ACC selections. Etta-Tawo earned first-team plaudits from both the media and coaches. Etta-Tawo also received four All-America nods, including second-team honors from Sporting News.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Syracuse is one of the most represented schools in the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame. The Orange have 18 enshrinees, second-most among ACC programs behind Pittsburgh (25). Coaches Frank O'Neill and Howard Jones were members of the first induction class in 1951. Art Monk (2012) is the program's most recent honoree.

All-America receiver Art Monk was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2012, celebrating a standout career that included leading the Orange to a victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl.

Don McPherson enjoyed a return to the Carrier Dome and celebrated his 2008 College Football Hall of Fame induction with friends and former teammates.

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

Syracuse University's All-Century Football Team featured a Heisman Trophy winner and nine College Football Hall of Famers. The team featured players from eight different decades, including several Orange standouts who showcased their talents in the NFL. Donovan McNabb, Marvin Harrison and Daryl Johnston were just a few of many All-Century honorees who went on to professional football stardom.

The team was announced on Oct. 27, 1999 following a selection process that included more than 6,000 fan votes. The criteria for selecting the team included all players who significantly impacted SU football with special consideration for those who were members of the College Football Hall of Fame, All Americans or who played in the NFL. Nominees were selected by three prominent figures associated with the Orange football program: Sports Information Director Emeritus Larry Kimball, former Syracuse Newspapers Sports Editor Arnie Burdick and former player, coach and administrator Joe Szombathy.

"Being selected to this elite team typifies the tremendous success that SU football has achieved throughout the 20th century. Some of these athletes are among the greatest to ever play college football. It was an honor for us to recognize their talents and contributions at our final home game of the century," former SU Director of Athletics Jake Crouthamel said at the time.

Members of the All-Century Team were honored at halftime against Temple on Nov. 6, 1999.

THE LEGEND OF 44

Like tailbacks at USC, quarterbacks at Brigham Young and linebackers at Penn State, the running back position at Syracuse has a rich tradition of greatness. Much of that excellence has revolved around one jersey number — 44.

On Nov. 12, 2005, the number was retired. It is the only retired number in the history of the Syracuse football program. A No. 44 jersey is displayed in the Carrier Dome rafters, honoring the legends who have worn it.

Beginning with Gifford Zimmerman in 1921, 25 players have worn the number. Rob Konrad was the last in 1998. Three of the most famous to don the digits — Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little — rank among the finest running backs to ever play the game.

How much does the No. 44 mean to Syracuse University and the local community? For starters, the University zip code was changed from 13210 to 13244 several years ago. And in 1988, when the University switched phone systems, the exchange was changed from 423 to 443. No. 44 not only has come to represent greatness on the football field, it has become part of the University's and the community's identity.

A committee has been established to oversee the number. Under very special circumstances, the committee can permit a current student-athlete to wear it.

39 • LARRY CSONKA

Fullback • 1965-67 • Retired: 2007

Csonka led the Orange in rushing in 1966 and 1967 and was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year. He ranks fifth on SU's all-time rushing list (2,934 yards). Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated. Csonka was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

88 • JOHN MACKEY

Tight End • 1960-62 • Retired: 2007

Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He led the Orange in receiving yardage in 1961 and 1962. Mackey went on to become an All-Pro for the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler, he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1992. Mackey died in 2011 at the age of 69. Each year since 2000, the John Mackey Award has been presented to the nation's top tight end.

5 • DONOVAN McNABB

Quarterback • 1995-98 • Retired: 2013

McNabb led the Orange to three straight BIG EAST titles from 1996-98. He was fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting as a senior in 1998 and holds the school records for most career touchdown passes (77), most yards of total offense (9,950) and most touchdowns responsible for (96). McNabb was taken second overall by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft. He was a six-time Pro Bowl selection in his 11 years with the franchise.

9 • DON McPHERSON

Quarterback • 1983-87 • Retired: 2013

McPherson authored one of the best seasons in school history in 1987. The Heisman Trophy runner-up, McPherson won the Maxwell (most outstanding player) and Davey O'Brien (most outstanding quarterback) awards after leading the Orange to an 11-0-1 record. His 164.3 passer rating led the NCAA and stands as the SU single-season record. Upon his graduation, McPherson played seven professional seasons in the NFL and CFL. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008.

MARQUIS (BILL) HORR

Tackle • 1908

The first All-American in the history of Syracuse football, Horr anchored a young offensive line on a team that opened newly-built Archbold Stadium with a win against Hobart in 1907. The next year, Horr led the Orange to a 6-3-1 record and the first victory in school history against a team from the Western Conference (now Big Ten) when SU topped Michigan 28-4 in the season finale. At the 1908 Summer Olympics in London, Horr won a silver medal in the Greek-style discus throw and a bronze in the free-style discus throw. Horr served as the head football coach at Northwestern in 1909 and the head coach at Purdue from 1910 to 1912, compiling a career record of 9-14-2.

HAROLD WHITE

Guard • 1915

White and fellow All-American Christopher Schlacter were the guards on a line that helped Syracuse's offense overpower its opponents by the combined score of 331-16 in 1915. The Orange scored more than 30 points on five occasions and topped the 70-point mark in victories against Mount Union (73-0) and Rochester (82-0). The team finished with an impressive 9-1-2 record and was invited to play Washington in the Rose Bowl, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the travel budget. Standing 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighing more than 270 pounds, White was one of the largest players of his era and captained the Orange in 1916.

ALFRED COBB

Tackle • 1917

A 1917 team captain, Cobb was the anchor for an offensive line that led the Orange to an 8-1-1 record, including six straight wins to end the season. Cobb played in the early days of the NFL, when it was still known as the American Professional Football Association (APFA). He suited up for the Akron Pros and the Cleveland Bulldogs. In 1920 with Akron, Cobb was a member of the very first NFL championship team. Over three APFA/NFL seasons, Cobb played in 21 games as a lineman, starting 16 of them.

J.A. (JOE) ALEXANDER

Guard/Center • 1918, 1919

Alexander and Ernie Davis are the only two players in Orange history to earn multiple consensus All-America honors. Alexander starred for Frank O'Neill's SU teams from 1918-20. He also captained the lacrosse team for one season. Alexander graduated from medical school and began practicing in New York City. He specialized in lung treatment and helped found one of the first tuberculosis centers in New York. For seven seasons (1921-27), he played in the National Football League on weekends while practicing medicine. A center in the NFL's early days for the Rochester Jeffersons (1921-22), Milwaukee Badgers (1922) and New York Giants (1925-27), Alexander was a consensus All-American for the Orange in 1918 and 1919. He earned All-America honors again in 1920 and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954.

LOUIS USHER

Tackle • 1918

Usher and fellow offensive lineman Joe Alexander were consensus All-Americans, anchoring the line for the 5-1 Orange in 1918. Usher went on to play professional football for five years for the Rochester Jeffersons, Chicago Stanleys, Chicago Bears, Hammond Pros and Kenosha Maroons. He was tragically killed on Jan. 1, 1927 in an automobile accident near Calumet City, Ill.

EVANDER (PETE) MacRAE

End • 1923

MacRae led the Orange to an 8-1 overall record in 1923, including seven straight shutouts. The three-year football letterwinner was also the starting center for the SU basketball team. After playing professional basketball for the Syracuse All-Stars, he returned to the University as an assistant basketball coach.

VIC HANSON

End • 1926

A three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball, Hanson was a consensus All-American on the gridiron in 1926 after leading the Orange to a 7-2-1 record. That winter Hanson powered the Orange basketball team to a 19-1 mark. Following his college career, Hanson played briefly with the Cleveland Rosenblums in the American Basketball League and then formed the Syracuse All-Americans basketball team. The New York Yankees also signed Hanson upon his graduation from Syracuse in 1927 and he played one year in their farm system. Hanson served as head football coach of the Orange from 1930 to 1936, compiling a record of 33-21-5. He is the only player enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

JIM BROWN

Halfback • 1956 *

Brown set the Orange record for highest average yards per carry (6.2) in 1956 and broke the single-season rushing record with 986 yards. Against Colgate that season, he established school marks for the most rushing touchdowns (6) and most points scored in a game (43). After leaving SU, he played for the NFL's Cleveland Browns from 1957 to 1965 and scored 106 touchdowns. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1971 and College Football Hall of Fame in 1995. In addition to football, Brown excelled at basketball, lacrosse and track. He is a member of the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame and was an All-American midfielder on the Orange's undefeated 1957 team. Brown is considered by many to be the greatest athlete of all-time, and in 2002 was tabbed by Sporting News as the greatest professional football player ever.

ROGER DAVIS

Guard • 1959 *

Nicknamed "Hound Dog" because of his love for training hunting dogs, Davis helped fellow All-American Ernie Davis rush for 883 yards in 1959. He was a member of a Syracuse unit that led the country in total offense (451.5 ypg) on its way to winning the national championship. Davis played pro football for the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants. He was a starter at right guard for the Bears in 1963 when they won the NFL championship.

- Unanimous selection

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICANS

ERNIE DAVIS

Halfback • 1960, 1961 *

Nicknamed the "Elmira Express" by sportswriter Al Mallette, Davis led Syracuse to a 26-5 record from 1959-61. As a sophomore in 1959, Davis scored two touchdowns against Texas in the Cotton Bowl to help the Orange complete a perfect season and capture the program's only national championship. Two years later, Davis became the first African American and the only SU player to win the Heisman Trophy. He was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in the 1962 NFL Draft and traded to Cleveland. Davis was diagnosed with leukemia the following summer and died in 1963 at the age of 23 without ever playing a professional game. The Browns retired his No. 45 jersey shortly after his death, and Davis was posthumously inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1979. In 2008, he was subject of the Universal Pictures film "The Express," starring Dennis Quaid, Rob Brown and Charles S. Dutton. The film was based on the non-fiction book "Ernie Davis: The Elmira Express" by Robert C. Gallagher.

LARRY CSONKA

Fullback • 1967 *

Csonka led the Orange in rushing in 1966 and 1967 and was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year. He teamed with halfback Floyd Little to form the most potent rushing duo in school history. He holds the Orange record for most carries in a game (43 vs. Maryland in 1967). Csonka ranks fifth on SU's career rushing list (2,934 yards) and recorded two 200-yard rushing games, including 204 yards against Cal as a senior in 1967. Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. In 2007, Syracuse retired Csonka's No. 39 jersey.

TIM GREEN

Defensive Tackle • 1985 *

Green was a two-time finalist for the Lombardi Award, which at the time recognized the nation's most outstanding lineman or linebacker. He was named the ECAC Player of the Year in 1985 and ranks first on Syracuse's career sacks list with 45.5. He is the program's top tackler among down linemen with 341 career stops. Green played for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001. After his playing career ended, Green became a commentator for the NFL on FOX. A best-selling author and lawyer, Green won the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, given annually to six former student-athletes for distinguished career accomplishments on the 25th anniversary of their college graduation, in December 2011.

TED GREGORY

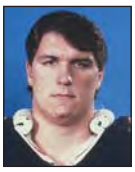
Nose Tackle • 1987

Gregory was a force during Syracuse's 11-0-1 season in 1987. He captained a defense that only allowed more than 21 points once in 12 games. He was a finalist for the Lombardi Award, which at the time recognized the most outstanding lineman or linebacker in FBS football. Gregory completed his four-year career with 242 tackles, third all-time among Orange defensive linemen, and 17 sacks. He went on to play in the NFL for the New Orleans Saints.

DON McPHERSON

Quarterback • 1987 *

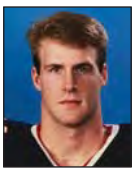
The Heisman Trophy runner-up in 1987, McPherson won the Maxwell (most outstanding player), Davey O'Brien (most outstanding quarterback) and Johnny Unitas Golden Arm (most outstanding senior quarterback) awards. McPherson's 164.3 passer rating that season led the NCAA and stands as an Orange record. He also set the school single-season marks for most yards per pass attempt (10.2), most yards per completion (18.1). Upon graduating from Syracuse, McPherson spent seven seasons in the NFL and CFL. After retiring from football in 1994, he joined the staff of Northeastern University's Center for the Study of Sport in Society, before becoming the first executive director of the Sports Leadership Institute at Adelphi University. McPherson was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008 and Syracuse retired his No. 9 jersey in 2013.



JOHN FLANNERY

Center • 1990

With Flannery as the anchor of the offensive line from 1987-90, Syracuse posted a 3-0-1 record in bowl games. A native of Pottsville, Pa., Flannery started at left guard for Syracuse in 1987 before shifting to center. He was a three-time All-American, earning first-team honors in both 1989 and 1990. He was drafted in the second round by the Houston Oilers and made the NFL All-Rookie Team in 1991. He later made stops with the Dallas Cowboys and St. Louis Rams, winning a Super Bowl title as a member of the Rams in 1999. The same year, Flannery was named to Syracuse's All-Century Team.



CHRIS GEDNEY

Tight End • 1992 *

A native of nearby Liverpool, N.Y., Gedney set the standard for Orange tight ends. He held the school records for most receptions by a tight end in a season (34) and career (91) until 2011. His 34 catches and five touchdowns during the 1992 season helped propel Syracuse to a 10-2 record and a victory over Colorado in the Fiesta Bowl. Gedney played in the NFL for the Chicago Bears and Arizona Cardinals. He returned to his alma mater in 2008 and is currently a senior associate athletics director in the SU Orange Club. A member of Syracuse's All-Century Team, Gedney was named a 2015 ACC Football Legend. He also serves as the color analyst for Syracuse IMG Sports Network football broadcasts.

DWIGHT FREENEY

Defensive End • 2001 *

Freeney terrorized opposing quarterbacks from 1998-2001. He holds the Orange records for most sacks in a game (4.5 vs. Virginia Tech in 2000) and season (17.5 in 2001). He finished his career with 34 quarterback takedowns, second only to Tim Green on the Syracuse all-time list. Freeney was team MVP his junior year. As a senior in 2001, he was an All-BIG EAST First Team selection and shared BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year honors. He was also a finalist for the 2001 Lombardi, Bednarik and Nagurski awards. The Indianapolis Colts made Freeney the 11th overall pick in the 2002 NFL Draft. In 2004, Freeney led the NFL with 16 sacks. He won a world championship with the Colts two years later when Indianapolis defeated the Chicago Bears in Super Bowl XLI. Freeney has also played for the San Diego Chargers, Arizona Cardinals and Atlanta Falcons during his pro career. He ranks in the top 20 in NFL history with 122.5 career sacks.

* - Unanimous selection

Gary Anderson was an All-American in 1981 and went on to have a long career in the NFL. He won the league's Golden Toe Award, presented to the most outstanding kicker, in 1998.

THE HEISMAN TROPHY

ERNIE DAVIS • 1961

In 1961, running back Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, given to the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the United States. Davis edged out Bill Ferguson of Ohio State, in what was at the time the closest vote in Heisman history (824 points to 771), to become the first African American and only Syracuse player to win the coveted award. Davis rushed for 823 yards and 12 touchdowns to lead the Orange to an 8-3 record and the No. 14 ranking in the final Associated Press college football poll. Davis was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in 1962 and traded to the Cleveland Browns. While preparing for the AFCA All-American Game in Buffalo, Davis was diagnosed with leukemia. He died in 1963, never getting the chance to realize his dream of teaming with former SU great Jim Brown in the Cleveland Browns backfield. Davis' Heisman Trophy is kept on display in the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex for all to enjoy.

THE SOLADAY AWARD

It is fitting that the Soladay Award is the most prestigious award given to a student-athlete by the Department of Athletics. After all, Doris R. Soladay epitomized all of the positives in intercollegiate athletics. The Soladay Award is given annually to the top male and female student-athletes who best exemplify the essence of Doris.

From her appointment as the first, and only, Director of Women's Athletics at Syracuse University in 1975 until the day she retired as Associate Director of Athletics on May 31, 1995, Doris dedicated herself to student-athletes wearing the Orange. The SU Department of Athletics and the world of intercollegiate sports lost a dear friend when Doris passed away in May, 2001.

Doris established scholarships for women, while increasing the budgets to run the programs. She worked with the late Chancellor Melvin Eggers and others who supported women's athletics to begin Orange Plus. Throughout her career, Doris made it a point to attend every home athletic contest of every Syracuse team whenever possible. She often cheered on one team in the morning, another in the afternoon and a third in the evening.

Her impact on athletics reaches far beyond "The Hill," however. Prior to the NCAA taking women's athletics into its fold, Doris held offices on numerous committees in the AIAW (Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women) on the state, regional and national levels. After the merger Doris directed her energy into the NCAA Council, serving from 1989 through 1995.

Doris was also influential regionally where she was an integral part of the expansion of The BIG EAST Conference to include women's athletics, as well as chairing various committees in the league. The ECAC also benefitted from her knowledge and savvy, where she was a member of the ECAC Women's Steering Committee from 1983-87. For her many outstanding contributions, the ECAC honored Doris with the 1995 Katherine Ley Award, presented annually to a women's athletics administrator who serves as a role model for her colleagues, as well as a strong proponent of women's issues.

It is no secret that since her retirement her presence in the corridors of Manley Field House has been missed, but it is clear that her legacy will remain a part of the Orange forever.

KEY

 # - BIG EAST Conference (1991-2012), Atlantic Coast Conference (2013-present)
^ - BIG EAST did not award a conference title in 1991 or 1992. Highest-ranked team in USA Today Coaches Poll was considered league champion.
 - Wins vacated by NCAA*
+ - Record includes 11 wins from 2004-06 vacated by NCAA

ALL-TIME RESULTS

Game-by-game results for every Syracuse football season since 1889. Home games were played on campus at The Oval from 1895-1906 and at Archbold Stadium from 1907-1978. Home games in 1979 were played at neutral sites due to the construction of the Carrier Dome, which has served as the team's home venue since 1980.

Syracuse was a member of the BIG EAST Conference from 1991-2012. There were no BIG EAST standings for 1991 and 1992. The highest-ranked team in the USA Today Coaches Poll those seasons was declared conference champion. In 2013, Syracuse joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Rankings at the time the game was played are listed with Syracuse first (Associated Press/Coaches Poll) followed by its opponent (Associated Press/Coaches Poll). The AP poll began in 1936. From 1961-67, the AP ranked only the nation's top 10 teams. The coaches poll was a service of the United Press (UP) and United Press International (UPI) from 1950 to 1990. In 1991, the coaches poll was taken over and released by USA Today.

Available game attendance figures are also listed.

The Associated Press college football poll was introduced in 1936. The poll ranked the top 20 teams in the nation until 1961 when it was revamped to include just the top 10 teams. The top-20 format returned in 1968 and was expanded to include the top 25 in 1989.

The coaches poll was a service of the United Press (UP) and United Press International (UPI) from 1950 to 1990. In 1991, the coaches poll was taken over and released by USA Today.

Bowl Championship Series (BCS) rankings were released from 1998-2013.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

JIM BROWN

Jim Brown is the player all running backs are measured against. He is the only person in the College Football, Pro Football and National Lacrosse Halls of Fame. Brown was a unanimous collegiate All-America selection in both football and lacrosse. The 6-2, 232-pound Brown was the top draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1957. He is considered by many to be the finest runner to ever play the sport. He led the NFL in rushing in eight of his nine campaigns. When Brown retired in July of 1966, he held the NFL records for single-season (1,863 yards in 1963) and career (12,312 yards) rushing yardage, most rushing touchdowns (106), most total touchdowns (126) and career all-purpose yardage (15,549). He was voted to the Pro Bowl every season he played and was named the greatest professional football player of all-time by Sporting News in 2002.

JIM RINGO

One of the greatest linemen in pro football history, Jim Ringo was the center of Vince Lombardi's great Green Bay Packers teams, and also for the Philadelphia Eagles. Ringo was an All-NFL selection six times. He played in 10 Pro Bowls and three NFL championship games. Ringo was a member of Ben Schwartzwalder's 7-2 1952 squad that earned a trip to the Orange Bowl, SU's first-ever bowl appearance.

LARRY CSONKA

Still considered the prototype for NFL fullbacks, Larry Csonka led the Miami Dolphins to an undefeated season and Super Bowl title in 1972. He was the MVP of Super Bowl VIII after carrying 33 times for 145 yards and two touchdowns as Miami defeated Minnesota, 24-7. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Csonka put together three straight 1,000-yard seasons as the Dolphins advanced to the Super Bowl each of those years.

AL DAVIS

A 1950 Syracuse University graduate, Al Davis was the owner of the Oakland Raiders from 1972 to 2011. He served as commissioner of the AFL in 1966 and was the driving force behind the AFL-NFL merger. From 1967-85, Davis' Raiders won an AFL championship, three Super Bowl titles and 13 division championships.

Syracuse's legacy in the Pro Football Hall of Fame ranks among the finest of any college football program. The Orange boast eight inductees, tied for the fourth-most of any school. Jim Brown (1971) was the Orange's first representative enshrined in Canton and Marvin Harrison (2016) is SU's most recent honoree. Three players (Art Monk, Floyd Little and Harrison) earned induction during the nine-year period from 2008 to 2016.

JOHN MACKEY

John Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He played 10 seasons in the NFL from 1963-72, including nine with the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler and three-time All-Pro selection, Mackey caught 331 career passes for 5,236 yards and scored 38 touchdowns. He was a member of the NFL's 1960s All-Decade Team and was named to the NFL 50th Anniversary Team. Mackey served as president of the NFL Players Association toward the end of his career and helped fight to establish free agency.

ART MONK

Considered to be one of football's most reliable receivers, Art Monk played for the Washington Redskins, New York Jets and Philadelphia Eagles during a 16-year NFL career that spanned from 1980 to 1995. Monk was selected by the Redskins in the 1980 NFL Draft and helped the franchise to three Super Bowl titles. He was voted to the Pro Bowl after three straight seasons (1984, 1985, 1986) and became the first receiver in league history to surpass 900 career receptions. Monk made at least one reception in 183 straight games and finished his career with 940 catches.

FLOYD LITTLE

A multi-dimensional player, Floyd Little combined his rushing talents with great hands and also was a return man for the Denver Broncos. A five-time Pro Bowler, Little amassed more than 12,000 all-purpose yards during a career that spanned from 1967 to 1975. He led the AFC in rushing in 1970 and recorded the first 1,000-yard season in Denver history the following year, gaining a league-best 1,133 yards. At the time of his retirement, Little ranked seventh on the NFL's career rushing list (6,323 yards). He was a charter member of the Broncos Ring of Fame in 1984.

MARVIN HARRISON

The all-time receiving yardage leader in Syracuse football history, Marvin Harrison played 13 seasons for the Indianapolis Colts and earned eight Pro Bowl invitations. As Peyton Manning's favorite target, Harrison posted eight 1,000-yard receiving seasons, including 1,366 yards in 2006 to help the Colts win their first Super Bowl in 36 years. Harrison holds the NFL single-season record for most catches (143 in 2002) and ranks fourth in league history with 1,102 career receptions. In addition, Harrison is eighth on the NFL's career receiving yardage list (14,580 yards) and ranks fifth in career receiving touchdowns (128).

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL 2017

KENT SYVERUD

Chancellor & President

Kent Syverud is chancellor and president of Syracuse University. Appointed by the University's Board of Trustees in September 2013, he assumed the post in January 2014, becoming the 12th leader of the University since its founding in 1870. A legal scholar and academician, Syverud earned distinction as a strategic thinker and visionary leader who has put forward a bold strategic plan to position the University for growth and recognition as a thriving global research university.

At Syracuse, Syverud identified four key institutional priorities: providing an outstanding undergraduate experience; empowering research excellence; fostering and supporting change and innovation; and positioning Syracuse as the best university in the world for veterans. He also launched a three-pronged initiative, Fast Forward Syracuse, to achieve these ambitious goals. Part of that initiative is an academic strategic planning process that builds on historic institutional strengths, positions the University to anticipate and quickly respond to emerging challenges and opportunities, and aligns the academic goals with a new framework for the physical transformation of the main campus.

A native of Irondequoit, N.Y., Syverud came to Syracuse from Washington University in St. Louis, where he served as dean and the Ethan A.H. Shepley Distinguished University Professor at the School of Law. Prior to that, he served as dean at Vanderbilt Law School and as associate dean for academic affairs and professor at the University of Michigan Law School. At Syracuse, he continues to teach each semester as a member of the College of Law and School of Education faculties. An elected member of the American Law Institute, Syverud's scholarship has addressed negotiation, civil litigation, dispute resolution, and higher education.

Syverud has a bachelor's degree from the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and a law degree and master's in economics from the University of Michigan. He counts among his closest mentors retired U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, for whom he clerked shortly after she became the first woman named to the Supreme Court bench.

In addition to his higher education leadership, Syverud served as co-chair of the Central New York Regional Economic Development Council, part of a statewide network created by New York Governor Andrew Cuomo to help spur economic growth throughout the state. He previously served as one of two independent trustees of the Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill Trust, a $20 billion fund to pay claims arising from the 2010 BP oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico. In October 2016, Syverud was appointed to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Academic Advisory Council, where he, and other academic leaders, advise DHS on homeland security, career opportunities for graduates, campus resilience and academic research. In January 2017, Syverud began a two-year term as Commissioner for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. In this role, Syverud works with his colleagues to refine and implement accreditation standards and define the strategic direction and processes of the Commission.

Syverud is married to Dr. Ruth Chen, an accomplished environmental toxicologist and professor of practice at Syracuse University's College of Engineering and Computer Science. They are the parents of three grown sons, Steven, Brian, and David; and they have one granddaughter.

"Our department is defined by integrity and a passion for all things Syracuse – the University, the student-athletes, all students, the community and the region. We will be known as a group that collaborates amongst one another in all facets and all branches of the University. We want our program to be a point of pride for the entire University – our students, our alumni, the community and Orange fans worldwide."

— JOHN WILDHACK —
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

John Wildhack with 2017 'Cuse Award winner for Male Athlete of the Year Justyn Knight of the men's cross country and track & field teams.

JOHN WILDHACK

Director of Athletics

A uniquely qualified leader with a vast knowledge of and passion for Syracuse University Athletics, former ESPN executive John Wildhack was named Syracuse's 11th director of athletics in July 2016. Wildhack is responsible for leading the daily operations of a 20-sport athletics department with more than 550 student-athletes in an environment that fosters academic and athletic excellence, which prepares student-athletes to be leaders in our global society.

In Wildhack's first year, 11 Orange teams were represented at national championship events, including 10 NCAA competitions. Three turned in top-10 showings, with Chris Fox's men's cross country team topping the list by placing third at the national meet. In addition, men's crew finished eighth at the 2017 Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) Regatta, and the men's indoor track & field team achieved the top result in program history by finishing 10th at the 2017 NCAA Division I Indoor Track & Field Championships. At the conference level, Fox's harriers won the ACC title for the fourth consecutive season.

Individually, the duo of Justyn Knight (cross country/track & field) and Freddie Crittenden III (track & field) combined to win six ACC championships in 2016-17. Both men also claimed silver medals at the national indoor meet. Knight was the runner-up in the 3,000-meter run and Crittenden III took second in the 60-meter hurdles. At the 2017 NCAA Division I Outdoor Track & Field Championships, Knight recorded another podium finish, placing third in the 5,000-meter run.

Academically, Syracuse student-athletes are achieving at a high rate, as well. Fourteen teams posted perfect scores in the most recent release of the Academic Progress Rate (APR). SU's 990 single-year institutional score and 985 multi-year score are both tied for the highest on record at the University.

During his distinguished career at ESPN, which spanned more than 30 years, Wildhack held a number of critical leadership roles and was responsible for several firsts at the network. Those firsts included producing ESPN's first live regular-season college football game in September 1984 and its first live NFL game in August 1987.

Before joining the Orange, Wildhack most recently served as the network's executive vice president for programming and production. He was responsible for oversight of all ESPN and ABC game, event and studio production work for domestic and international television and radio, as well as programming acquisitions, rights-holder relationship management, and scheduling. He managed all league and conference relationships; negotiated all live sports television rights; renegotiated a nine-year deal with the National Basketball Association (NBA), extending the existing contract through 2023; renegotiated a new 20-year agreement with the Southeastern Conference that extended the existing media rights deal through 2034; helped secure long-term multiplatform agreements with the NBA, Major League Baseball, the College Football Playoff, Atlantic Coast Conference, Big 12, U.S. Open Tennis, the Rose and Sugar Bowls, the Women's National Basketball Association, the American Athletic Conference and the Mountain West Conference; and won more than 30 Emmy Awards. He was responsible for 50,000 hours of on-air content annually.

Wildhack served as ESPN's executive vice president for programming and acquisitions from 2007 until 2012. While directing programming and acquisitions, he oversaw all rights negotiations and managed relationships with rights holders for all ESPN entities. These included ESPN, ESPN2, ESPN Classic, ESPNEWS, ESPN Deportes, ESPNU, ESPN International, ESPN Radio, ESPN.com, ESPN3, ESPN Mobile Properties, print and more. In 2009, he began leading strategic program planning for all ESPN television networks, ESPN on ABC and ESPN's digital platforms.

Wildhack's managerial role at the company began in 1990 when he was named director of event productions. In 1991, he was promoted to vice president for remote production, a position he held through 1993 when he became senior vice president for remote production. In September 1994, he moved to the programming department as senior vice president for programming, and in 2005 he became senior vice president for programming acquisitions & strategy. Wildhack was directly involved in the renewal and expansion of many ESPN and ESPN2 programming agreements for the NFL, MLB, NBA, Bowl Championship Series, NCAA, tennis' four Grand Slam events and a variety of major college conferences. His efforts were integral to the increase of live and original programming on ESPN and ESPN2. Under his direction, the evolution of ESPN2's programming lineup included an extensive commitment to auto racing and college football and basketball, leading to ESPN2 becoming the fastest growing network of the 1990s.

Wildhack first joined ESPN as a production assistant in 1980. He served in a number of production positions prior to his move to the management track, including production assistant, associate producer, senior associate producer, producer, coordinating producer and director of event productions. Among the sports he worked on were college football, NCAA basketball, boxing, golf and auto racing. He served as coordinating producer of ESPN's Sunday Night NFL and NFL Draft telecasts in 1988 and 1989 and produced NFL games for the network – the first NFL games on cable – from 1987-89.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y. and a 1980 alumnus of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications with a degree in telecommunications, Wildhack joined ESPN in its first year of operation immediately following his graduation. An active alumnus of the University, he sits on the Advisory Board for the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics and was an honoree at the "Newhouse at 40" Gala.

He and his wife, Amy, have two sons, Tommy and James. John is also the father of a son, M.J.

HERMAN FRAZIER

Senior Deputy Director of Athletics

Veteran athletics administrator Herman Frazier was promoted to senior deputy director of athletics in May 2016 after joining the Syracuse University staff as deputy athletics director/chief of staff in 2011.

A native of Philadelphia, Frazier boasts nearly 40 years of experience in athletics administration, including eight years as an athletics director. He has overseen the participation of the Syracuse football team in the 2012 New Era Pinstripe Bowl and 2013 Texas Bowl. In 2012, he received the NACDA Pioneer Award for his position as Chef de Mission for the 2004 Olympic Games.

Before coming to Syracuse, Frazier was the senior associate athletics director for sports administration at Temple University. Prior to joining the Owls, Frazier served six years as the director of athletics at Hawaii. He was also the director of athletics at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB).

At Temple, Frazier supervised the football, basketball, baseball, soccer and crew programs, and was the administrative liaison for budget, compliance, financial aid, coaching searches, scheduling, academic support, facility issues, event management, media relations and marketing. He was also responsible for administrative supervision of the equipment operation, facilities, event management, sports medicine and strength and conditioning. Frazier handled the administrative logistics for Temple's appearance in the 2009 Eagle Bank Bowl and the 2010 and 2011 men's basketball NCAA Tournament appearances.

Frazier was the athletics director at Hawaii from 2002 through 2008, where he guided Warrior athletics to unparalleled success. Under Frazier's direction, the football team earned a spot in the 2008 Sugar Bowl following an unbeaten regular season and garnered four consecutive bowl bids, while the volleyball program advanced to back-to-back Final Fours. During his tenure, Frazier created premium seat donations, established a five-year financial plan, negotiated head coaching contracts for football and women's basketball, and was instrumental in bringing an Olympic trials event to Honolulu.

Frazier's first athletics director post was at UAB in 2000. As the second director of athletics in the history of the school, Frazier started a $30 million facility improvement plan and was responsible for instituting new management concepts and a strategic master plan for the program.

Frazier began his career in administration immediately upon graduation from Arizona State, joining the Sun Devils staff as a graduate assistant for the track & field program in 1977. In 1979, he was appointed assistant director of events and facilities. During his 23-year tenure at ASU, Frazier moved up the ranks to the position of senior associate athletics director for business operations. He was the administrator for 10 Olympic sports that won numerous national championships, and the football program, which earned two Rose Bowl berths. He also directed business affairs, operations and stadium management.

An eight-time All-America track performer at ASU, Frazier was the leadoff runner for the 1976 Olympic gold medal-winning 4x400 relay team. From 1980 through 2004, Frazier served on various United States Olympic committees, including two stints as the U.S. Olympic Committee vice president from 1996 through 2004. In 2004, he was chosen Chef de Mission for the U.S. delegation at the Athens Olympics and presided over the most successful U.S. Olympic team in history as the Americans won 103 medals.

In 2016, Frazier was appointed to the NCAA Division I Track & Field Committee as a representative of both Syracuse University and the ACC. It's Frazier's second time on the committee, including a term as chairman from 1994-95 while at Arizona State.

CHRIS FULLER

Deputy AD/External Operations

Chris Fuller joined the Syracuse Athletics senior leadership team as the deputy director of athletics for external operations in December 2016. His responsibilities include oversight of marketing, athletics ticket sales, communications and the Orange Club.

Fuller came to Syracuse from the University of Tennessee where he served in leadership roles for 12 years in sales, marketing and external operations. From 2009 to 2016, Fuller was a senior associate athletics director and was responsible for all external operations of UT Athletics, including the Tennessee Fund Office, sales & marketing, ticket operations and broadcasting/VFL Films. Under Fuller's leadership, the Tennessee Fund launched the $163 million Campaign for Comprehensive Excellence in 2013. The initiative made possible several facility enhancements including Pat Summitt Plaza, the Joan Cronan Volleyball Center, the Ray & Lucy Hand Digital Studio, as well as a number of additional upgrades.

Fuller served as the primary liaison with IMG College/The Vol Network. He negotiated an extension of the University's agreement with IMG through 2022, valued at $132.9 million. Additionally, Fuller was the University's lead negotiator with key corporate clients and served on several coaching search committees including football, men's basketball, baseball, and track & field. Fuller also spearheaded the fundraising for the design and construction of the Ray & Lucy Hand Digital Studio, the Vols' state-of-the-art broadcasting facility.

An active member of the Knoxville community, Fuller served as chair of the United Way Branding and Messaging Committee in 2010. The effort raised more than $12 million for the United Way of Greater Knoxville. He also played an integral role in the development of the OUTLIVE program that benefited the UT Cancer Institute and has been involved with the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society through its annual "Light the Night" walk.

Before his arrival at Tennessee, Fuller served as a consultant for the Mid-American Conference (MAC) and as the vice president of collegiate marketing for the Cleveland Cavaliers. He was responsible for the formation and operation of Gund Sports Marketing (GSM), whose clients included the MAC, Bowling Green State University, Miami University and the Rock 'n Roll Shootout. He also served as the director of business operations and university services for ACC Properties from 1995 to 1999. In that role, he was responsible for the ACC's official corporate partner program, championship events, licensing, event merchandising, publications and the official ACC website.

Fuller began his career in collegiate athletics as the assistant sports marketing director at the University of North Carolina. He graduated from Shepherd College in 1988 with an undergraduate degree in political science. He earned his master's degree in sports management from West Virginia University in 1992. He and his wife, Lori, were married in Knoxville in October 2005. They are the proud parents of two pugs, Rooney and Madigan.

KRISTEN JONES KOLOD

Deputy AD/Chief Financial Officer

Kristen Jones Kolod moved to the Department of Athletics from Syracuse University's Division of Student Affairs in December 2016. She had served as the executive director of budget and administrative operations for student affairs since 2008. Prior to that, Jones Kolod was the director of budget and operations for student affairs.

In her role as executive director, Jones Kolod was responsible for the preparation, planning and management of the division's budget and financial matters, including functional supervision of all department managers. She oversaw technical services and was the divisional contact for facility projects, space planning and human resource processes.

Jones Kolod has extensive experience in financial management and analysis, business process improvements and efficiencies, development and implementation of policies and procedures, and project management. As a member of the senior leadership team in Student Affairs, she contributed to the organizational management, strategic direction and vision of the division.

Prior to joining Syracuse University, Jones Kolod worked as the manager of financial planning and analysis for the Division of Commercial Systems and Services for United Technologies Corporation. In that role, she was responsible for monthly forecasting and annual financial plans. Previous positions she held include the manager of finance and accounting services at Carrier Corporation, North American Operations, and manager of corporate payroll at Penn Traffic Company.

Jones Kolod holds a bachelor's degree in accounting and a master's degree in business administration, both from Le Moyne College, where she also studied abroad in Warsaw, Poland. She resides in Pompey with her husband, Alex, and daughter, Sierra.

KIMBERLY KEENAN-KIRKPATRICK

Deputy AD/Senior Woman Administrator

Kimberly Keenan-Kirkpatrick joined the Syracuse University Department of Athletics as the deputy athletics director/senior woman administrator in August 2015. She came to Syracuse from Seton Hall University, where she worked as a member of the school's athletics administration since 2006.

At Seton Hall, Keenan-Kirkpatrick was an associate director of athletics for five years prior to her promotion to senior associate director of athletics in 2011. She directed Seton Hall's NCAA compliance program, was the school's deputy coordinator for Title IX, served as the sport administrator for multiple programs, chaired the BIG EAST Track & Field and Cross Country Seeding committees, and initiated many Pirate Blue Athletics fundraising activities.

As the associate athletics director for compliance, Keenan-Kirkpatrick was responsible for overseeing rules education and monitoring compliance issues for all 14 of Seton Hall's intercollegiate sports.

Prior to her appointment at Seton Hall, Keenan-Kirkpatrick was the associate athletics director and senior woman administrator at Lafayette College for four years. She served in the same capacities at Kutztown University from 1996-2002. Before joining the Golden Bears, she worked as an attorney and served as Drew University's business manager and head cross country coach.

A track & field standout at Kent State, Keenan-Kirkpatrick earned the Mid-American Conference's (MAC) Bob James Memorial Postgraduate Scholarship and placed second in the 5,000-meter run at the MAC Indoor Championship her senior year.

Keenan-Kirkpatrick's reputation as an elite track & field athlete was proven later in her career when she served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Track & Field team at the 2005 World Championship and 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China. In both instances, and in many others, she worked specifically with America's distance runners.

Keenan-Kirkpatrick transitioned to a management role for USA Track & Field in 2011, serving as the head women's manager for the Pan American Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, and, most recently, as the track & field event manager for the U.S. men and women at the 2015 Pan Am Games in Toronto.

Keenan-Kirkpatrick earned a law degree from Seton Hall in 1993. She also holds an undergraduate degree in psychology from Kent State. She and her husband, Brian, live in Manlius with their two daughters, Libbie and Madison.

BOB ARKEILPANE

Executive Director for Athletics Development

Bob Arkeilpane, a 1981 Syracuse University graduate and four-year football letterwinner, returned to the University in March 2017 as executive director for athletics development. A veteran athletics administrator with vast fundraising experience, Arkeilpane was previously the director of athletics at the University at Buffalo for five years. He also served as the deputy director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati for nine years.

At Syracuse, Arkeilpane is responsible for the creation and implementation of all athletics fundraising efforts for the 20 men's and women's sports programs, including facilities.

Arkeilpane began his three decades in Division I intercollegiate athletics as a student-athlete at Syracuse. He played defensive back for Orange head coach Frank Maloney from 1977 through 1980 and was a member of SU's 1979 Independence Bowl team and the first team to play its home games in the Carrier Dome. Arkeilpane then moved to Ohio University where he earned his master's degree in sport administration and worked as a graduate assistant football coach.

As the director of athletics for the University at Buffalo from 1998 through 2003, Arkeilpane was responsible for all intercollegiate athletic, recreational and intramural programs, including 17 sports teams that competed in the Mid-American Conference. Arkeilpane's accomplishments included successfully guiding UB through the Division I-A reclassification process, positioning the Bulls to comply successfully with all aspects of Title IX, improving attendance at football and basketball games, and achieving a balanced budget for five consecutive years. Prior to his appointment to lead the athletics program, Arkeilpane was UB's associate director of athletics for development and external relations for three years.

At Cincinnati, Arkeilpane served as associate vice president for development/campaign planning for the UC Foundation, the private sector fundraising entity for the school and its campuses, colleges, departments and units, from 2003 through 2005. Arkeilpane previously had worked for the UC Foundation as college director of development and alumni affairs from 1987-91. He transitioned to the role of deputy director of athletics in 2005. As the deputy director of athletics, Arkeilpane was responsible for the day-to-day operations of the athletics department. He also provided sport oversight for the football, men's basketball and baseball programs, as well as the sports medicine department and athletics business office.

Early in his career, Arkeilpane served as an assistant athletics director for development at Cal State-Fullerton and Miami University.

ANTHONY DI FINO

Associate AD/Business Development

Syracuse native Anthony Di Fino joined the Orange staff as associate athletics director for business development in March 2016.

Di Fino is responsible for developing strategic marketing campaigns intended to cultivate community relationships and build support for Syracuse Athletics. He is a member of the external relations team that steers decisions on marketing, fundraising, ticketing, sponsorship and communications initiatives.

During 2016-17, Di Fino and his sales team hit several milestones. They surpassed 4,100 new football season tickets sold, the second-highest total on record at Syracuse, and topped 1,750 in new season tickets sold for men's basketball. In addition, their efforts were the driving force behind the Orange women's basketball team drawing a record-crowd of 11,021 for its game against Notre Dame on Feb. 19, 2017.

Di Fino's previous experience includes positions at IMG Learfield (IMGL) Ticket Solutions and in the athletics departments at Army West Point, Columbia and Fordham.

The 2013 IMGL General Manager of the Year and 2014 IMGL Executive of the Year, Di Fino rose quickly through the company's ranks. He served as the IMGL general manager at Akron from 2011 to 2013, and worked as the general manager at Penn State from May 2013 to August 2014.

In August 2014, Di Fino was promoted to IMGL Northeast Regional Manager. In that capacity, he directed the sales efforts for 13 IMGL properties, instituting pricing strategy, developing sales schedules and campaigns, overall marketing strategies and supervising the general managers at each property.

During his Akron tenure, Di Fino led a sales team that increased new revenues by 72 percent, highlighted by an 860 percent increase in partial plans and a 91-percent growth rate in group sales. At Penn State, he directed a sales force that sold more than 5,000 new seasons tickets in two consecutive years, and oversaw a growth in group sales of more than 200 percent.

Prior to joining IMG Learfield, Di Fino served as the assistant athletics director for ticket sales and client services at the United States Military Academy. He oversaw all ticket sales efforts, as well as tailgating and marketing strategies, for the Black Knights. Di Fino's previous experience also includes working as the ticket manager at Columbia and as a marketing assistant at Fordham.

Di Fino is a 2006 Fordham graduate where he was a member of the football team. He earned a master's degree from Columbia in 2009.

SUE EDSON

Executive Senior Associate AD/ Chief Communications Officer

As the chief communications officer for Syracuse University Athletics, Sue Edson is responsible for all public relations and media relations functions for the department.

Edson serves as a member of the department's senior leadership group and external relations team, which includes communications, marketing, tickets, fundraising, corporate sales, digital media and video production. She also supervises the athletic communications, digital enterprises and multimedia production teams. The communications staff is responsible for the dissemination of information for Syracuse's 20 intercollegiate sports teams to appropriate organizations, management of the department's website (Cuse.com) and social media channels, acting as a liaison between the media and the department, and educating administrators, coaches and student-athletes with regard to public speaking and interviewing skills.

A 28-year veteran of Syracuse Athletics, Edson was promoted to her current role in the spring of 2015. Previously, she served as the associate director of athletics for communications from 2006-14 after working as the assistant director of athletics for communications (2004-06) and director of athletic communications (1997-2004). Edson was inducted into the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Hall of Fame in 2012.

Prior to her appointment as the director of athletic communications in 1997, Edson worked as an assistant director for seven years, including four years as the department's publications coordinator. As publications coordinator, she was responsible for the production of 16 media guides. In addition, she handled the day-to-day public relations duties for women's basketball.

Edson began her career at Syracuse University in 1990 as an assistant sports information director and was responsible for handling the public relations efforts for the Orange's 17 Olympic sports.

In 2006, Edson was honored with the 2006 Eastern College Athletic Conference-Sports Information Directors Association (ECAC-SIDA) Irving T. Marsh Award for excellence in the field of sports information. The following year, she was recognized with the Greater Syracuse '40 Under 40' award for her significant contributions in the workplace and local community.

Edson has been the media coordinator for the NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional in Syracuse five times and served as the media coordinator for the first and second rounds of the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship at the Carrier Dome in 2016. She served on the ECAC-SIDA Board of Directors for eight years and was the organization's president in 2002-03.

Previously an adjunct professor in SU's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Edson taught a class in sports public relations from 1994 through 2013.

Edson graduated from Syracuse in 1990 with a dual degree in broadcast journalism and policy studies.

Edson resides in Jamesville. She has two children. Her son, Thomas, is a freshman at Ithaca College and her daughter, Tracey, attends Jamesville-DeWitt High School. Her late husband, Rob Edson, was an athletics administrator at Syracuse and Onondaga Community College before his passing in 2013.

Edson is co-president of the Jamesville-DeWitt Youth Athletic Association Board of Directors and she is the co-coordinator of the basketball program. In addition, she serves on the Greater Syracuse Sports Hall of Fame Board of Directors.

JEREMIAH MAHER

Associate AD/Ticket Sales & Operations

Jeremiah Maher, who joined the Syracuse staff in 2007, is responsible for supervising all facets of the Orange's ticketing and customer service as it relates to the Carrier Dome Box Office operation.

Before coming to Syracuse, the Rochester, N.Y. native was the director of ticket sales at Seton Hall University. While with the Pirates, Maher established policies and procedures for reseating in the Prudential Center. He coordinated with the athletic development office to implement a priority seating system for men's basketball and generated strategies for the men's and women's basketball ticket sales campaigns. Maher started at Seton Hall as the ticket manager, a post he held for five years before being promoted.

Prior to working at Seton Hall, Maher was the assistant director of sports information and marketing at Siena College.

Maher is a member of the Delta Sigma Pi Professional Business Fraternity and the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA). He earned a bachelor's degree in marketing and management from Siena and holds an MBA, with a concentration in sports management, from Seton Hall.

Maher and his wife, Jackie, have two children, Nicholas and Caroline.

MOREY MOSSOVITZ

Assistant AD/Facilities & Event Operations

Morey Mossovitz was named Syracuse's assistant athletic director for facilities and event operations in August 2011 after serving in the specialized role of facilities coordinator with academic support responsibilities.

Mossovitz oversees the daily operations, facility upkeep and renovation projects for the Lampe Athletics Complex. He is the primary supervisor for Manley Field House, the Carmelo K. Anthony Basketball Center, Iocolano-Petty Football Complex, Ensley Athletic Center, SU Soccer Stadium, J.S. Coyne Stadium, Wohl Field, Hookway Fields, the Skytop Softball Stadium and select Carrier Dome events.

Mossovitz provides administrative support to Vice President and Chief Facilities Officer Pete Sala and serves as the department's liaison with Syracuse University Parking Services, the Department of Public Safety, EMS, Visit Syracuse, the University's Office of Government and Community Relations, and Recreation Services.

As game manager for all Olympic sporting events and tournament manager for select Atlantic Coast Conference and NCAA events, Mossovitz works with nearly every sport program on campus. Most recently, he served as the tournament manager for the 2015 NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional and was appointed the administrator in charge of overseeing Syracuse's camps and clinics in 2016.

Prior to his promotion to his current role, Mossovitz acted as the Orange's academic and facilities coordinator. His primary responsibilities included academic coordination for men's and women's lacrosse, and tennis, while assisting in the daily and gameday operations of the Lampe Athletics Complex and Carrier Dome.

Mossovitz earned his bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in educational studies from Syracuse University in 2008. Two years later, he received a master's degree in student affairs counseling from the University.

Mossovitz is a member of Psi Chi, the International Honor Society in Psychology. He is also a member of the Chi Sigma Iota Counseling Honor Society.

During his undergraduate and postgraduate career, Mossovitz served as team manager, graduate assistant and assistant director of camps for the Orange men's lacrosse program.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Mossovitz is an alumnus of St. Paul's School for Boys. He currently lives in Fayetteville with his wife, Elizabeth, their daughter, Lucy, and their dog, Penny.

JAMIE MULLIN

Senior Associate AD/Administration

Jamie Mullin was promoted to senior associate athletics director for administration in July 2013 after serving in multiple roles since joining the Syracuse staff in 2003.

Mullin was hired as the Orange's director of compliance in July 2003. He was promoted to associate director of athletics for team services in 2006, and served as associate director of athletics for administration prior to his current appointment.

Mullin is the liaison to the University's legal counsel, judicial affairs, admissions, and financial aid departments. In addition, he is responsible for athletics department policy development and strategic planning. Mullin also provides managerial support to the equipment room, sports nutrition staff and video support services. He is the sport administrator the SU's men's lacrosse, women's ice hockey, field hockey and rowing programs.

Before coming to Syracuse, Mullin worked at Fresno State for two years. He was named Fresno State's director of compliance in June 2001 and was promoted to assistant athletic director for compliance a year later. Mullin also previously worked in the compliance office at Central Michigan as an assistant from August 1999 through May 2001.

Mullin received his bachelor's degree in history from Northern Michigan. He also holds a master's degree in sport administration from Central Michigan.

Jamie and his wife, Sara, reside in Jamesville with their sons, Tate and Quinn.

BRAD PIKE

Assistant AD/Sports Medicine

A veteran sports medicine professional, Brad Pike was appointed assistant athletics director for sports medicine in September 2014. He is responsible for overseeing all aspects of Syracuse's sports medicine department.

Since 2000, Pike has worked with the men's basketball program and directed the injury rehabilitation program for all sports. In 2005, Pike was named head athletic trainer and director of sports medicine after serving as an associate athletic trainer for the Orange for five years. Pike previously worked as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Syracuse from 1989-91. Before returning to the University in 2000, Pike spent nine years working in outpatient physical therapy centers.

A 1989 graduate of Marietta College in Ohio, Pike majored in sports medicine as an undergraduate and received a master's degree in physical education from Syracuse University in 1991. He added a bachelor's degree in physical therapy from the SUNY Health Science Center in 1994.

Pike is certified in full-body active release techniques (ART), sound-assisted soft tissue mobilization (SASTM) and is a certified National Academy of Sports Medicine Performance Specialist (PES) and Corrective Exercise Specialist (CES). His special interests include exercise recovery and strength training.

A certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), the College Athletic Trainers Society, the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association, and the New York State Athletic Trainers Association, Pike has presented at numerous symposiums and workshops. He also serves as a lecturer for exercise science courses in SU's School of Education.

Brad and his wife, Lynne, have a son, Ryan, and daughter, Emily. The Pikes reside in Jamesville.

TOMMY POWELL

Assistant Provost/Student-Athlete Academic Development

A proven leader in academic training, Tommy Powell came to Syracuse University as provost for student-athlete academic development in August 2013. Powell has an extensive background in guiding student-athletes to success in the classroom and in the community. He joined the Orange staff from Iowa State University, where he had served as the associate athletics director for academic services since 2008.

While with the Cyclones, Powell implemented a standard comprehensive academic support program for all student-athletes. The program helped student-athletes attain a higher cumulative GPA than the general student population from 2011 to 2013. Iowa State's 79 percent federal graduation rate in 2010 was the highest in the Big 12 and the seventh-best among FBS schools. In 2009, Iowa State's CHAMPS/Life Skills program earned the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association National Program of Excellence Award.

Prior to his time at Iowa State, Powell was the associate director of the Louisiana State University Academic Center for Student-Athletes from 2001 to 2008. In addition to serving as the academic coordinator for several teams, including football and basketball, Powell monitored the progress toward degree and eligibility requirements for at-risk student-athletes.

Powell began his academic support career at LSU where he worked as an academic counselor for the College of Arts and Sciences for two years. He was the director of counseling services at River Parishes Community College from 1998 to 2000 before serving as the director of the TRIO Dissemination Partnership Program at Southeastern Louisiana University in 2000 and 2001. The program trained and supervised college faculty on the implementation of supplemental instruction.

Powell earned his bachelor's degree in psychology in 1992 and his master's degree in counseling in 1995 from Southeastern Louisiana. He and his wife, Deborah, have two sons, Tyler and Ethan.

PETE SALA

University Vice President/Chief Facilities Officer

Pete Sala is the University's vice president and chief facilities officer. In addition to managing the operations of SU's athletic facilities, including the Carrier Dome, Sala is responsible for all University building projects and oversees several other departments on campus, including Campus Planning, Design and Construction, Business and Facilities Maintenance Services, Physical Plant, Housing and Food Services Maintenance, and Energy Systems & Sustainability Management.

A member of Chancellor Kent Syverud's Executive Team, Sala is the construction manager for the West Campus Project, which includes more than $250 million of upgrades for the Carrier Dome and Archbold Gymnasium.

Sala started at the Dome in 1982 as a production assistant and advanced through the ranks to production manager in 1988 and operations manager in 1991. He served as assistant director of facility operations for the building from 1991 through June 2005 when he was promoted to associate director of athletics for facilities. In 2010, Sala assumed the role of managing director of the Carrier Dome. He also previously served as SU's interim director of athletics from mid-March to July 6, 2015.

At the Dome, Sala is responsible for all day-to-day operations of the facility, including coordinating and scheduling events, managing the box office, maintaining the budget and overseeing all necessary building maintenance. He supervises a full-time staff of 35, a part-time staff of more than 400, and the nearly 100 students that assist in Dome operations and facility changeovers.

Along with his Carrier Dome responsibilities, Sala is the construction manager for all athletics facility upgrades and new building projects, including recent additions like the Carmelo K. Anthony Basketball Center and Ensley Athletic Center.

A 1979 graduate of Jamesville-DeWitt High School, Sala attended Morrisville College before transferring to the University of Massachusetts, where he completed the school's turf management program.

Pete and his wife, Laurie, reside in Jamesville with their son, Jake.

BRETT WALLACE

Assistant AD/Marketing & Sales

Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing and Sales Brett Wallace joined the Orange staff in February 2017. Wallace came to Syracuse after working in premium ticket sales for the Cleveland Browns for two years. He boasts an additional year of experience in NFL ticket sales, having worked for the Philadelphia Eagles from 2013 to 2014.

Wallace, who began his ticket sales career with the Lake Erie Monsters of the American Hockey League in 2010, also brings two years of experience in the NBA from his tenure as a business development specialist and premium sales consultant/night sales manager for the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Wallace is responsible for training, developing and supervising an athletics department ticket sales staff that focuses on football, men's and women's basketball, and men's lacrosse. He is involved in coordinating community events and collaborates with marketing, fundraising and the ticket operations teams.

In his role with the Browns, Wallace sold a wide array of premium inventory for suites, contracted club seats and all-inclusive clubs. He renewed Browns members annually and helped train and mentor the inside sales team. During his year-long stint in Philadelphia, Wallace was responsible for selling suite leases, contracted club seats and other premium inventory. With the Cavaliers, Wallace worked with the corporate sales staff on premium sales elements, renewed season tickets and sold suite leases, floor seats, clubs seats and premium group packages. In his role as business development specialist, he was responsible for Cleveland's hospitality and business programs, and sold season-ticket and partial season-ticket plans.

A native of Upstate New York, Wallace earned his bachelor's degree from SUNY Cortland in 2008 and his master's degree from Newcastle University in 2009.

MARK WHEELER

Associate AD/Compliance

Mark Wheeler was named Syracuse's director of compliance in October 2015 after previously serving in the same position at Boise State University for two years. In April 2017, he was promoted to associate director of athletics for compliance.

Wheeler reports directly to the University General Counsel's Office and works closely with Director of Athletics John Wildhack. Wheeler is responsible for managing all aspects of the University's compliance program, including educating coaches, student-athletes, boosters, athletic department staff, and other University officials about NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference, College Hockey America and Intercollegiate Rowing Association rules and regulations. Wheeler is also responsible for overseeing all compliance processes and procedures dealing with the University's monitoring of recruiting, eligibility, financial aid and certification.

While at Boise State, Wheeler led the Broncos' compliance department, creating and delivering a comprehensive education curriculum for coaches, non-coaching staff, student-athletes, boosters and other constituents. In addition, he provided NCAA and Mountain West Conference rules interpretations for coaches, staff and student-athletes.

Before joining the Broncos, Wheeler was the assistant director of compliance at Ohio State for one year, managing all areas of compliance for the men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's cross country, and men's and women's track & field programs.

Wheeler's previous experience includes serving as an athletic compliance coordinator/graduate assistant at Pepperdine from August 2011 to May 2012. While there, Wheeler played an integral role in rebuilding compliance processes and procedures and drafted compliance manuals for coaches and new hire/interns. Wheeler also completed internships at Brigham Young University and Paradigm Sports Management during his career.

In 2012, Wheeler passed the bar exam in California and received his Juris Doctor from Pepperdine the same year. He earned his undergraduate degree in management from BYU in 2009.

Wheeler and his wife, Kaela, have three sons – Bennett, Anders and Theo.

RICK BURTON

Faculty Athletics Representative

Rick Burton is the David B. Falk Endowed Professor of Sport Management in Syracuse University's David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics. He has served as the Orange's faculty athletics representative to the NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference since 2014. In addition to his duties as faculty athletics representative, Burton teaches in Syracuse's Renee Crown Honors Program and has served as a visiting professor at Kufstein Tirol University in Austria, as well as the International Olympic Academy (IOA) in Olympia, Greece. He was selected as the Falk College Faculty Member of the Year for Teaching in 2011 and 2013.

The co-author of the textbook "Global Sport Marketing: Sponsorship, Ambush Marketing and the Olympic Games," Burton recently finished a book on collected opinion columns from Sports Business Journal titled "Sports Business Unplugged: Leadership Challenges for the World of Sports."

Prior to his appointment at Syracuse in August 2009, Burton served as the chief marketing officer for the U.S. Olympic Committee at the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing, directing the USOC's partnerships for International Olympic Committee (IOC) and USOC sponsorship activation.

From 2003-07, Burton was the commissioner of Australia's Sydney-based National Basketball League (NBL) and was responsible for every aspect of the NBL's development and growth, including securing lucrative broadcast rights fees, naming rights sponsorships, player and referee collective bargaining agreements and league profitability.

From 1995-2003, Burton led the University of Oregon's Warsaw Sports Marketing Center to international prominence, serving as both its director and executive director (1998-03). During his tenure, Burton initiated Oregon's engagement with Fudan University in Shanghai, China and worked closely with Nike as they developed their business efforts there. While at Oregon, Burton also created the Burton Marketing Group, working almost exclusively in league management and sponsorship for entities such as IMG, the U.S. Basketball Academy, Philippine Basketball Association (PBA), Japanese Pro Soccer league (J-League), National Football League (NFL), National Hockey League (NHL), Australian NBL, Visa, multiple NFL teams, Professional Bull Riders, FedEx, TSE and Sport Accord.

In the mid-1990s, Burton supervised numerous clients ranging from the NFL, Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Gillette, Sprint and Universal Studios, while serving as a vice president for the sports and entertainment marketing agency Clarion Performance Properties in Greenwich, Conn.

Burton has written for the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Sports Business Journal and SI.com, among others. In addition, he hosted his own sports business television show in Portland, Oregon. Burton has provided national radio network commentary for Sporting News Radio Network and is a frequent commentator on the sports industry. A regular conference host/moderator and inspirational/motivational speaker, Burton's most recent engagements have included Intel, Chip Ganassi Racing (NASCAR and Indy Racing), the Association of Luxury Suite Directors and Real Salt Lake (MLS).

Burton began his career as a sportswriter in Syracuse before moving on to the Miller Brewing Company in Milwaukee. He worked there for 12 years in brand management and sports public relations. He served as national advertising manager for Miller Lite's award-winning "Less Filling – Tastes Great" advertising campaign and also worked as a brand manager for Sharp's and Lowenbrau.

Burton's first novel, a WWII/Cold War historical thriller called "The Darkest Mission," was published in May 2011 by Long Reef Press.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 65th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

The ACC is the only conference to have won two football national championships over the past four years. Florida State captured the final BCS title in 2013, while Clemson claimed the College Football Playoff national championship last year.

With its dramatic 35-31 win over top-ranked Alabama on Jan. 9 in Tampa, Fla., Clemson claimed its second naitonal title in football and first since 1981.

Clemson's championship game victory marked the seventh national title by an ACC school since the league's inception in 1953, and the 14th by a current conference school. Miami leads the way with five national titles, followed by Florida State (3), Clemson (2), Pittsburgh (2), Georgia Tech (1) and Syracuse (1).

A year ago, the ACC posted an impressive 9-3 record in bowl competition, the most postseason wins in league history, and the best record by any conference in 2016. The nine wins also tied the existing NCAA record set in 2005 by the SEC.

ACC teams posted an NCAA-best 51-17 record (.750) against non-conference opponents last season, including a 17-9 mark (.654) against teams from the Power Five conferences. The 51 wins were the most in league history and surpassed the previous high of 46 attained in 2013 and 2014.

Eleven ACC teams finished the 2016 season with winning records, the most in ACC history, and the best mark by any FBS league in 2016. The next highest total by a conference was eight. Last season also marked the first time in league history the ACC had four teams – Clemson (1), Florida State (8), Virginia Tech (16), Miami (20) – ranked in the top 20 of the final AP poll. With No. 21 Louisville, the ACC also had five teams in the final AP poll for only the second time in conference history (2015).

The ACC leads all conferences with seven coaches ranked in the top 25 in career winning percentage among active coaches with a minimum of five FBS seasons. Florida State's Jimbo Fisher is second (.821), followed by Clemson's Dabo Swinney (7th, .761), Louisville's Bobby Petrino (11th, .717), Georgia Tech's Paul Johnson (17th, .670), Virginia's Bronco Mendenhall (19th, .656) and North Carolina's Larry Fedora (24th, .627).

The ACC continues to make its mark in the annual NFL Draft as the league had 43 players selected in this year's draft – the second-highest total by any conference. The ACC has had at least 42 players selected in three of the past four drafts, 2015 (47) and 2014 (42).

In 2017, no ACC team will face fewer than seven opponents that went to bowls in 2016, while eight teams will face eight or more FBS opponents that played in the postseason with Syracuse (11), Duke (10), Clemson (9), Georgia Tech (9), NC State (9) and Virginia (9) leading the way. In all, ACC teams will play 26 games against non-conference opponents that went to bowl games in 2016.

With Louisville quarterback and ACC Player of the Year Lamar Jackson back to lead the Cardinals in 2017, the ACC will have had the reigning Heisman Trophy winner returning to the field for the second time in the last four years. Florida State's Jameis Winston did so in 2014 after winning the Heisman in 2013.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

The conference will conduct championship competition in 27 sports during the 2017-18 academic year – 13 for men and 14 for women. The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954.

The 13 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, fencing, swimming and diving, indoor and outdoor track & field, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet held in tennis at Wake Forest University. Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, field hockey, soccer, basketball, fencing, swimming and diving, indoor and outdoor track & field, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing, with volleyball deciding its champion by regular-season play.

HISTORY

The ACC was founded on May 8, 1953 at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C. with seven charter members – Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest – drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of by-laws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid-South, Mid-Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline. Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978 when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1,1991 with the addition of Florida State.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of Miami (Fla.) and Virginia Tech. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

The ACC added its 13th and 14th members on Sept. 18, 2011, when Pitt and Syracuse accepted invitations to join the conference. The two schools officially joined the ACC on July 1, 2013. Notre Dame also officially joined the ACC that day after announcing on Sept. 12, 2012 its intention to enter the league for competition in all sports but football, bringing the membership of the conference to 15.

On July 1, 2014, Louisville entered the ACC on the same day Maryland withdrew, keeping the conference's membership at 15 institutions.

ACC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Marking its 13th anniversary, the Dr Pepper Atlantic Coast Conference Football Championship Game will once again be played at Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte, N.C. on Saturday, Dec. 2. The game pits the winner of the Coastal Division against the winner of the Atlantic Division to determine the overall conference champion.

The inaugural ACC Football Championship Game was held in 2005 in Jacksonville, Fla., with Florida State defeating Virginia Tech to claim the conference crown. It was the first of three championship games held in Jacksonville. In 2008 and 2009, the game was played at Raymond James Stadium in Tampa, Fla. before moving to its current home in Charlotte for 2010. The conference and the Charlotte Sports Foundation announced a six-year contract extension in 2014 to keep the game in the Queen City through 2019. That agreement has been extended through 2020 after last year's game was moved to Camping World Stadium in Orlando, Fla.

Clemson won its third league championship in six seasons in 2016, beating Coastal Division winner Virginia Tech, 42-35.

In addition to the ACC Football Championship Game, Bank of America Stadium is home to the Belk Bowl, the NFL's Carolina Panthers and various other college football games.
